SENATORS VOTE TO CURB POWERS OF HENDERSON

Wickard Given Veto on Farm Prices.

BY WILLIAM STRAND.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 10.—The senate appropriations committee today approved a fund of 120 million dollars for the Office of Price administration, after imposing new and drastic limitations on the powers of Leon Henderson, OPA administrator.

Secretary Wickard.

Altho higher than the sum allotted by the house, the funds allowed by the senate committee represents a cut of 90 millions from the amount Henderson requested.

For the first time, under the committee action, Secretary of Agriculture Claude Wickard would receive virtual veto power over price ceilings established by Henderson on finished farm products. The secretary heretofore has been limited to calculating the ceilings on raw products—110 per cent of parity—and transmitting his figures to the OPA for announcement.

Discretionary Power Removed.

Henderson has had full power to fix the prices on processed goods, being bound only by a discretionary requirement in the price control law that his prices shall give a return to producers equal to the ceilings on the raw commodities.

Now the appropriations committee has specified that no prices fixed on raw or finished products will be valid until Wickard has determined, after investigation, and proclaimed that they reflect a return to producers in conformity with the price control law.

Adoption of this section was interpreted as a rebuke to Henderson, resulting from the recent crack in the ceilings on canned goods. The OPA chieftain retreated from his previous stand—and decided to allow price increases to be borne by housewives—when farmers threatened to let their fruit rot in the fields rather than pick it at the return they were allowed under Henderson's price ceilings.

Another Slap at Prestige.

Under the new legislation Wickard will gauge the return to producers on all commodities. If necessary, he is empowered to hold public hearings to aid him in determining equitable prices. Any action by Henderson would not be effective until publicly supported by the secretary, according to the measure.

The committee also took a stand against federal subsidies to bolster price ceilings, outlawing the use of any OPA funds in the bill for such purposes. This also was considered a blow aimed at Henderson's prestige. He has warned that subsidies of at least 500 million dollars will be necessary to insure the success of the price control law, and recently offered to resign if that were the price necessary to obtain congressional approval of huge grants of federal money to American industry.

Will Support Present Staff.

The 120 million dollars allotted for OPA operations will permit Henderson to keep all of the 34,500 employés he now has on the pay roll, but will "not give him anything like he asked for," explained Sen. Kenneth McKellar [D., Tenn.], committee chairman. Henderson's original request for 210 millions was predicated on a staff of 90,000 employés, which led to charges in the house that the OPA chief planned an army of snoopers to spy on American industry.

Henderson's activities have aroused grave fears in and out of congress that he is seeking to use his war emergency powers to make himself a political ruler second only to President Roosevelt. These fears presumably were reflected in further action by the committee in writing into the bill a provision that all employés hired for salaries of $4,500 or more must receive senate approval.

The OPA allotment is part of a 1 billion 800 million dollar appropriation bill for numerous war agencies, including 1 billion 100 millions for the War Shipping administration.

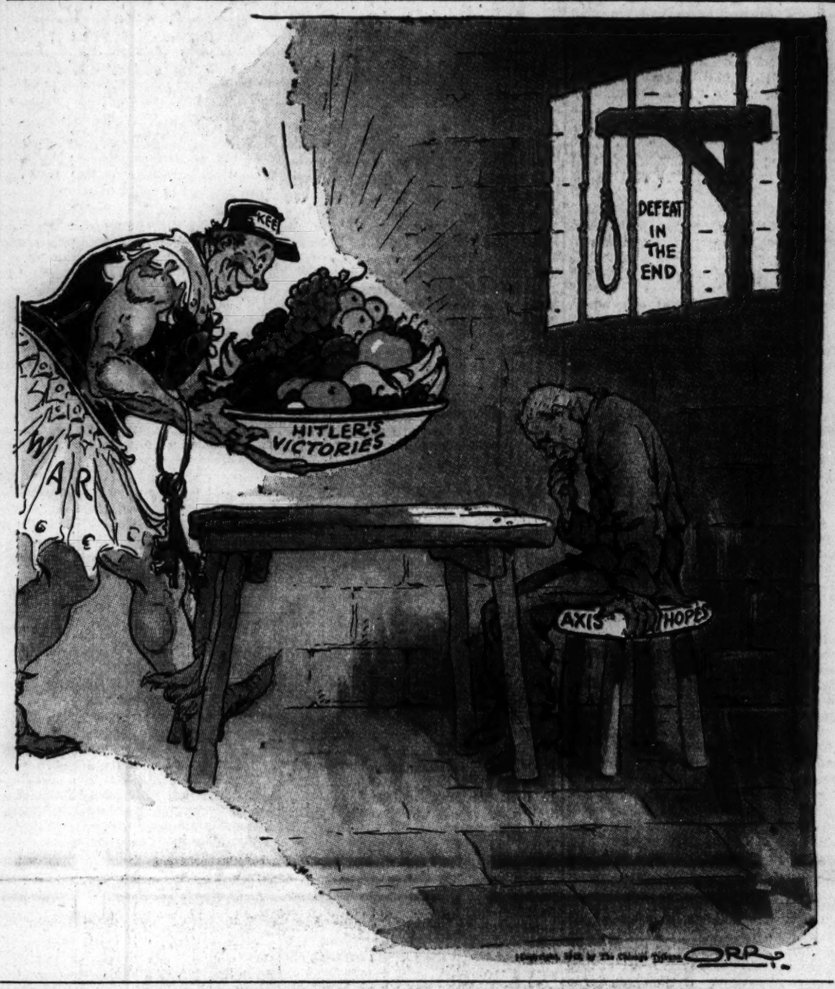
FEAST OF THE CONDEMNED



FLY ATLANTIC 5 TIMES IN 9 DAYS

Americans Ferry Airmen, War Goods on Bomber.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 10.—New records in Atlantic flying have been set by an American crew of the royal air force ferry command who have covered the Montreal-Britain run five times in nine days in a Consolidated B-24 Liberator bomber, the air ministry announced tonight.

[The air line distance from Montreal, Que., to British air fields is from 2,800 to 3,100 miles.]

The crew consists of Capt. Fortune A. Dugan of New Orleans, La., 33 years old, the pilot; Capt. Ralph E. Adams of Emery, Tex., 31, co-pilot; Radio Officer James R. Fraser, Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, and Flight Engineer Arthur F. Ryan, Toronto, Ont., 27.

Carried Full Loads.

Their aircraft completed each journey without incident and with a full load.

Dugan and his crew normally are engaged in delivering American built heavy and medium bombers to Britain. On their record flights they were supplementing the Montreal-Britain return ferry service, which transports government sponsored passengers and urgently needed war material, and also carried bomber ferry crews to Canada.

After 72 hours' rest for routine overhaul of the Liberator, the crew now has taken the aircraft back to Montreal on the sixth crossing in less than two weeks.

On Ferry Nearly 2 Years.

Dugan, Adams, and Fraser have been on the Atlantic ferry service since September, 1940. In more than 500 hours of transoceanic flying in the last 90 days, the crew has flown over both the Atlantic and Pacific and made eight journeys to and from Australia.

Before joining the ferry command Adams was a pilot with Delta Airlines in the United States. Dugan formerly conducted an aircraft sales agency and flying school at Baton Rouge, La., and was a lecturer and instructor in the aeronautics department of Louisiana State university.

Find Japan Holds Biggest U. S. Mid-Pacific Harbor Off Alaska

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 10.—The Japanese invasion of the Aleutian Islands has given the Nipponese troops control of the largest American harbor in the mid-Pacific and a foothold on a position of great importance in American strategy for winning the war. Kiska harbor, far larger than Pearl Harbor, could accommodate most of the United States fleet.

This was disclosed today by an examination of the files of the semi-official United States Naval Institute Proceedings. The publication gives data which has not been mentioned since the Japs pushed on to this American soil.

Admit Seizure of Isles.

The army and navy have exercised most rigid control over news of Jap operations in the area which constitutes the shortest route to Japan and also from Japan to the United States. Official communiques have, however, acknowledged that the Japs have occupied Attu and Kiska Islands.

Attu Island, the most westerly of the Aleutian chain, has 11 harbors or bays. Only one of these, Chichagof harbor, is charted. This bay was charted in 1855. Altho naval men have long recognized the value of the island in war, no effort was made to chart the area until recently, and war came before the charting could be completed. It was estimated that the United States coast and geodetic survey would have completed charting of the Aleutian area by 1946.

Navy men have long believed that Japanese fishing boats which plied the Aleutians were engaged in making Japanese charts for possible use in war. Also, navy men are convinced, the boats were engaged in gathering valuable weather data for the same purpose.

Harbor Easily Mined.

Kiska Island contains America's finest mid-Pacific harbor, from the point of view of size. Furthermore its entrance is only two miles wide so that it could be mined for defense easily. Most of the principal Aleutian harbors have entrances similarly suited to easy defense.

"The mere existence of well-fortified and developed bases in the Aleutians would have a strongly deterring effect upon any tendency to trespass on the Philippines, the East Indies, Singapore, or Australia," said W. L. Goldsborough, writing in the publication in July, 1941.

"We should hasten the completion of the Aleutian survey and select, equip, and fortify fleet, submarine, and air bases in the Aleutian Islands, to and including Attu."

Some improvements were made at the Pearl Harbor base before the war, which were regarded as restricted information. Success of the Jap attack on Pearl Harbor was in part due to the fact that the American ships were herded in a small area.

A report on climate and living conditions in the Aleutian area, published in Naval Institute Proceedings in July, 1937, by Lieut. Comm. W. M. Lockhart would indicate that the climate is not as bad as the American public has been led to believe.

Report Moderate Temperatures.

He reported the climate to be oceanic with moderate and fairly uniform temperatures. Fogs were said to be frequent and humidity high. The mean winter temperature at Dutch Harbor was given at 32.6 degrees and mean mid-summer temperature at 54.8.

Goldsborough said that a comparison of the monthly pilot charts for the North Atlantic and the North Pacific showed icebergs in the Atlantic in five months and none in the Pacific; more days of fog in the Atlantic than in the Pacific in each of the eight months from October to May; a higher percentage of gales in the Atlantic in every month except September and November, and a higher percentage of calms and light airs in the Pacific in every month except February, in which the percentage in the two oceans was the same.

The North Pacific was considered as the area north of Unimak Island in the Aleutians and Avacha bay on the Russian peninsula of Kamchatka. The North Atlantic was considered as the area north of a line from Halifax to Lands End, England.

Convoy Arrives: Japan

TOKIO, July 10 [from Japanese broadcasts] — (AP).—The Japanese announced today that a large convoy escorted by destroyers and cruisers arrived this week in the Aleutian Islands occupied by Japanese forces. "All forces reached their destination safely without encountering enemy attacks," the announcement said.

RUSSIA ADMITS GERMANS DRIVE INTO ROSSOSH

Reds Still Fighting West of Voronezh.

MOSCOW, July 11 [Saturday] (AP).—German troops have driven into Rossosh, 150 miles east of the industrial city of Kharkov, and cut the main railway linking the central and southern Red armies.

A communique early today announced the Russian withdrawal from Rossosh before a German wedge thrust parallel to the steel arm now plucking at Voronezh, 100 miles to the north.

"For two days our men have conducted fierce fighting in the vicinity of Rossosh," the communique said in a brief description of the heavy fighting in that area. "The enemy hurled into battle large numbers of tanks and motorized infantry. Under the pressure of enemy attacks our units retreated to new defense positions."

The Russians said fighting continued in the neighborhood of Kantemirovka just south of Rossosh.

City 20 Miles from Don.

Rossosh itself is 20 miles west of the Don river which already had been crossed by the Germans striking at Voronezh. It is only 235 miles from the industrial city of Stalingrad, a key to the Caucasus. It also is a vital point on the Moscow-Rostov railway.

The Russians still were fighting "west of Voronezh," the communique said, but by evacuating Rossosh the Red army acknowledged that the Nazis in their second year of war stood halfway across European Russia to the Ural mountains from the old Polish demarcation line.

Moreover, the Nazis were some 70 miles east of a line drawn directly south of Moscow, and had virtually cleared the last Russian armed forces from the fertile farm lands of southern Russia.

New Action near Rostov.

The Russians also disclosed increased enemy action nearer Rostov, southern gateway to the Caucasus. The communique said the Germans had gone on the offensive in the locality of Lisichansk, on the Donetz river about 140 miles northwest of Rostov.

The German strategy was clearly aimed at wrapping the Red army west of the sluggish Don in a great sack, and to drive on to the Volga, thus isolating the entire Caucasus.

Marshal Semeon Timoshenko, realizing the peril, was counterattacking vigorously on the German flanks. He was pictured as determined to sell the rich earth and its industrial establishments only at the most exacting price in German lives and materiel.

The situation admittedly was serious. Red Star, the official army newspaper, called for a stand to the death and said the conditions along the upper Don near Voronezh were growing "more complicated."

Call Nazi Losses Tremendous.

The upper Don crossing was forced by the Germans at two main bridgeheads at tremendous costs, the Russians said, but the main force of 250,000 men, 1,000 tanks, and an equal

U-Boats Sink 5 More Ships in West Atlantic

Report Canadian Raid

OTTAWA, Ont., July 10 (AP).—A report that three ships were sunk by submarines in the St. Lawrence river Sunday night was mentioned in the house of commons today, but the government gave no confirmation.

J. S. Roy, independent M. P., said the attack had been reported to him by a Quebec constituent. Roy said he had heard the ships were part of a 14 vessel convoy attacked off Cap Chat, about 270 miles northeast of Quebec. He asked the government for a statement or a secret session.

"Any statement will have to be made by the [navy] minister," Prime Minister Mackenzie King said. He criticized Roy for raising the question before consulting Angus MacDonald the navy minister.

The submarine sinking of five more vessels in the American area was announced yesterday. One, an American freighter, was sunk off South America; two, both of British registry, were lost in the South Atlantic; the fourth, a Honduran vessel, was sunk off the northern coast of Cuba, and the fifth, a Belgian ship, was sent down in the Caribbean.

354

The attacks brought to 354 the number of vessels sunk in American and adjacent waters since Pearl Harbor, according to an unofficial tabulation by the Associated Press. Since then 304 have been sunk near the shores of the United States, bringing the toll to 1,889 known dead, 1,812 missing, and 9,916 rescued.

Today's report brought to 16 the total of united nations ships reported destroyed this week by enemy submarines in the western Atlantic. Since Dec. 7, there have been 24 sinkings in waters off South America.

Details of the sinkings follow:

SEAMAN BELIEVED HOSTAGE

A Gulf Coast Port, July 10.—Survivors of a British ship which was sunk by two submarines off South America said today an unidentified man who stood apart on the deck of a U-boat might have been a friendly naval officer held hostage on the submarine. They said the unidentified man was dressed in a grayish-blue uniform which none of them recognized.

The ship, a medium size tanker, was torpedoed and shelled, with a loss of one life. Eighty-six men survived.

The seamen said one of the attacking submarines was approximately 350 feet long. It signaled to another U-boat as it departed after the attack.

BLASTED WITH BIG GUN

An East Coast Port, July 10 (AP).—A huge German submarine, described as being large enough to carry a plane, sank a British freighter with 2 torpedoes and 12 shells from a big deck gun in the South Atlantic July 1.

Three men on duty in the freighter's engine room were killed when the torpedoes were fired less than a minute apart, B. G. Cook of London, the quartermaster, said.

The 78 survivors clambered into three lifeboats and were pulling away when the U-boat came to the surface and opened fire on the ship with its large gun. It took 12 shots to send her to the bottom."

Cook said the submarine was the largest he had ever seen. "They could easily carry a plane on that boat," he said.

11 KILLED IN SINKING

A Gulf Port, July 10 (AP).—A large submarine torpedoed and sank a United States cargo ship May 4 off the coast of South America with the loss of 11 members of the 29 man crew, the navy announced today.

The 18 survivors rowed to the southeast coast of British Guiana in a lifeboat.

William Burke of Seattle, Wash., one of 10 survivors brought to a gulf port, said one torpedo struck the ship below the water line, exploding the boiler and enveloping the vessel in steam.

The attack occurred while the second mate was on the bridge and three seamen were on watch looking for submarines.

SUNK BY SHELLFIRE

HAVANA, Cuba, July 10 (AP).—The Cuban navy today announced that a small Honduran merchant ship has been shelled and sunk by an enemy submarine off the north coast of Cuba. The report said all of the vessel's crew were rescued and have been landed at a Cuban port.

BRITISH, AXIS ARMIES CLASH ON SEACOAST

Allied Planes Smash 400 Vehicles.

CAIRO, Egypt, July 10 (AP).—Fierce fighting broke out today between British and axis desert forces on the Mediterranean rim west of El Alamein. It was a renewal of the battle for Egypt which had been bogged down in an uneasy lull for more than a week.

The new fighting erupted after RAF and American planes were reported to have destroyed or disabled 400 to 500 axis vehicles out of a concentration of 2,000 shuttling forward to replenish Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's thrust toward Alexandria, 70 miles from the front. Besides these vehicles caught in one camp, the RAF was said to have destroyed 55 other trucks.

The fighting ended a deadlock of several days, during which both exhausted armies dug in under severe sandstorms and awaited supplies and reënforcements.

No Gains for Axis.

Front dispatches gave no hint of the trend of the great struggle, but did say that the axis apparently had not made any additional gains eastward.

Rommel's German-Italian legions already had been compelled to withdraw part of his curved back right wing northward toward the sea before the fighting was resumed.

The German marshal's realignment was a tactical corrective move to eliminate a sharp angle in his line and to forestall a British flanking movement on the south, above the Qattara depression. It was a further safeguard against threatened envelopment.

U. S. Bombers Attack.

United States heavy bombers struck at the axis supply line in the Mediterranean and of these attacks the British communique said:

"United States army heavy bombers operating over the Mediterranean shot down two enemy fighters which attempted to intercept them."

It was learned that the United States air force was intercepted no fewer than three times by German fighters and that the two shot down into the sea were Messerschmitt 109s.

The admiralty announced in a separate communique that a British submarine stalking an axis convoy in the Mediterranean had destroyed two enemy ships en route to Libya. First it sank a medium-sized merchant ship out of the convoy, described as strongly protected, and later it sent down a naval auxiliary vessel of medium size.

Claim Ship Sunk.

ROME, July 10 [from Italian broadcast]—(AP).—The Italian high command communique today said that "in the eastern Mediterranean a 5,000 ton merchant ship sailing in a convoy transporting armored cars and other vehicles was attacked and sunk by an Italian torpedo plane." Axis fighter planes were said to have shot down two British aircraft over North Africa and six over Malta.

Malta Bags 24 Planes.

VALETTA, Malta, July 10 (AP). — Malta's defenses accounted for 17 axis aircraft in the last 24 hours, a British communique said tonight. Four were downed during the morning and the others were destroyed yesterday. Seven planes were shot down in the previous 24 hours.

10 P. M. CURFEW FIXED FOR SOLDIERS, SAILORS ON BOSTON COMMONS

Boston, Mass., July 10 (AP).—Historic Boston common has been declared out of bounds after 10 p. m. to men in uniform and teen age girls in a move to eliminate conditions which John J. Walsh, Boston civilian defense director, described as deplorable.

Police, civil and military, and navy shore patrols last night ordered approximately 500 sailors, soldiers, and marines—many accompanied by young women—to leave the greensward.

Nine girls under 17 years old were taken into custody and their parents were notified to call for them.

WOUNDED PILOT WINS PLAUDITS FOR DESERT FEAT

Lands Plane Safely, Then Loses Consciousness.

BY SAM BREWER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

AN ADVANCED AIRFIELD IN THE EGYPTIAN DESERT, July 10.—A South African air force major, his right hand smashed by an explosive shell, dumped his bombs at sea and landed his crew safely behind the British lines in a feat of self-control that has won the admiration of those who told me about it.

The major, with the appropriate name of Pharoah, was leading a big force of American made Boston [Douglas] bombers when a German Messerschmitt fighter plane attacked after eluding the escorting aircraft. The enemy got in only one short burst before he was driven off but the major was hit in the right hand.

While the other planes kept on with their job he flew out of his formation and headed for the sea. He was afraid that if he dropped his bombs on land he might imperil the British troops.

Unconscious in Cockpit.

Weak from loss of blood and in pain, he had to hurry. He pushed the plane out over the beach, released the bombs and turned for home. He could not make his own field but when he was well behind the British lines he picked out a suitable spot and landed the plane safely with the crew unhurt. Unconscious when taken from the cockpit, he was given first aid and flown to a Cairo hospital.

He is one of the pilots who have been doing an epic job with American built aircraft here. They are not only getting full use from the Bostons, but I was told today that they did not think any other aircraft they ever saw would stand the pace they have been setting with their "shuttle service" in pounding enemy supply lines and troops the last couple of weeks.

Other squadrons have Martin Baltimores and are equally enthusiastic about them. Kittyhawk fighters, or "Kittybombers" as they are also known, are fitted for dive bombing as are the Bostons and the Baltimores. They have been doing the bulk of the work. The big Liberator bombers have been coöperating with British Wellingtons on night raids.

Down Italian Plane.

A gunnery specialist, Flight Lieut. "Blackie" Duncan, who had just come back from a raid with the Bostons—his 100th operation against the enemy—told me with gusto how he and the sergeant gunner in another Boston knocked down a Machi 202, one of the newest Italian fighters, yesterday.

Four Machis attacked and as the fighters drove off three of them the fourth came up behind Duncan's formation of planes. He and the gunner of the other plane abreast of him fired at the same time.

"You could see two lines of tracer bullets meeting right in his cockpit," Duncan said. "I think we got the pilot. He zoomed up and turned over on his back and then dove with smoke trailing until he hit the ground with a great crash."

Has Two Nazi Planes to Credit.

"Blackie" already had two Messerschmitt 109s credited to him in the present campaign and a couple of Italian planes earlier in the African campaign, but said the latter did not count as "it was like shooting sitting birds."

Enemy fighter pilots on the contrary, have found that the Bostons are dangerous foes. Recently few have dared to attack them.

The flyers returning from today's raids were well pleased with the results. Official reports have not yet been compiled but the pilots said that many fires were started among hundreds of enemy trucks despite the wide dispersion tactics now used by the Germans. All German columns, they said, now are spread over many square miles because recent bombings of compact groups have been devastating.

HINTS GESTAPO FAKED PHOTO OF HEYDRICH KILLER

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune.]

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, July 10.—Were the pictures of the alleged killers of Reinhard Heydrich, the late deputy reich protector of Bohemia-Moravia, as published in the Prague newspaper Der Neue Tag on June 25, mere fakes?

The Goeteborg Handelstidningen puts this question in connection with the picture stated to represent one Joseph Valjik, 28 years old, of Smolin, supposed to have been one of the two men shot by the Gestapo [German secret police] June 18 in a Prague church while resisting arrest. The same picture, the Goeteborg newspaper says, appeared in the Berlin Lokal Anzeiger May 31 above the text: "Who knows this man? His body has been found and any one able to identify him is asked to communicate with the criminal police department of Berlin."

The newspaper says that if this man was already dead in Berlin on May 31 he could not very well have been alive 18 days later to be shot by the Gestapo.

TELLS HOW YANK BOMBERS RIPPED ITALIAN ARMADA

Briton Says It Was Like 'a Fantastic Circus.'

BY LARRY ALLEN.

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, June 29 [Delayed]—(AP).—United States bombers struck so savagely at the Italian battle fleet two weeks ago that Mussolini's armada became "a fantastic circus of wildly careening ships" trying to escape, a British submarine commander who witnessed the attack said today.

Lieut. Stephen L. Maydon told the story upon bringing his undersea raider to its base after sinking a heavy cruiser and torpedoing a battleship of the 35,000 ton Littorio class, seriously damaging it.

The cautious Italian fleet—or what the British have left of it—made one of its rare excursions against a convoy bound for Malta on June 15.

Unable to Fire Torpedoes.

Maydon said he sighted the Italians at dawn and was closing in when the huge four motored American bombers and the royal air force loosed their first explosives.

"One of the greatest scenes of confusion followed the first bombing attack," the 28 year old skipper said. "My submarine was in the center of a fantastic circus of wildly careening capital ships, cruisers, and destroyers, none of which kept on course long enough to allow us to fire torpedoes. The urge to surface and use our guns was terrific.

"Bomb flashes seemed to punctuate the movements of the fleet. Red and yellow tracers and black bursts of heavier anti-aircraft fire from the Italian battle fleet streaked and blotched the sky in all directions.

"At one period there was not a quadrant of the compass that was not occupied by ships weaving continually to and fro.

"I gaped thru the periscope in utter amazement at the fleet dashing around in mad circles."

4 Italian Craft Sunk.

The American planes were credited with scoring 35 bomb hits on two Italian battleships. The British announced after the battle that an Italian cruiser, two destroyers, and a submarine were sunk. The British lost the light cruiser Hermione and five destroyers, one of them Polish, in two convoy actions—one to supply Malta and the other attempting unsuccessfully to reënforce Tobruk.

Maydon said the bombers set fire to an Italian cruiser and that the two battleships disappeared behind a haze of smoke. Later he brought his craft into attacking position.

How Battleship was Blasted.

"We fired a salvo of torpedoes and got a hit on a Littoria class battleship," he said. "While our torpedoes were going off, the situation was confused further by another bombing attack.

"I don't think the Italians knew what hit them. We heard a series of explosions as the torpedo tore into the battleship. We had fired all our torpedo tubes when we spotted a burning cruiser escorted by another cruiser and destroyer. We reloaded swiftly and came to within 5,500 yards. We noticed then that the cruiser was of the Trento class and had stopped. Smoke and flames were pouring from the foremost funnel and two destroyers were circling the ship, throwing out a smoke screen.

"We closed in slowly to avoid causing unnecessary noise. Then we fired and hit the cruiser with two torpedoes. I didn't see her sink but we saw the destroyer picking up survivors. We heard that the cruiser sank within three minutes.

"She left a hell of a cloud of smoke."

Coming Home

Picture of herself Maxine Young sent recently from Egypt to her parents.

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, July 10 (AP).—The last American cabaret bowed out from this corner of the world today when four American showgirls packed 22 pieces of luggage and started home. They had been away from the United States for nine years, and for the last three years had braved bombs to entertain the allied forces.

With the axis hammering at the approach to Alexandria, those who finally decided to heed the repeated advice of the United States consulate were the sisters, Theodora and Sylvia Deperhach of Hollywood and Oakland, Cal., Zelma Wright of Los Angeles, and Maxine Young of 4606 North Kedvale avenue, Chicago.

Two song and dance brothers, Al and Val Heno of Hartford, Conn., who helped stage revues for British service men, also headed for home.

Alexandria Resumes Horse Racing, Altho Axis Is Near

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, July 10 (AP).—Horse racing will be resumed here this week end after a temporary interruption caused by the axis thrust to within 65 miles of Alexandria. Racing is a year around sport here. Steady movement of tanks, armored cars, guns, and troops toward the El Alemein front bolstered a feeling among residents of Alexandria—a British naval base—that the allies will hold the initiative.

AXIS BLOWN OUT OF COSTA RICA BY AXIS TORPEDOES!

Sub Attack Sets Off Alien Roundup, Store Raids.

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, July 10 [Wide World].—Axis aliens, including a pretty blonde spy suspect who is believed to have tipped off allied ship movements to Caribbean raiders, have paid a prompt penalty for the recent axis submarine attack on a banana boat in Puerto Limon harbor.

The attack, in which the sub fired three torpedoes which killed 23 Costa Ricans, wiped out the last traces of disunity in this tiny republic, which flanks the Panama canal, and raised feeling against the axis to fever pitch.

Within a few days after the attack, enraged Costa Ricans had smashed 83 German, Italian, and Spanish nationalist establishments before police could restore order.

Since then scores of axis nationals have been placed under surveillance [many already have been deported to United States internment camps], including the so-called "tropical Mata Hari," whose information may have led the U-boat into Puerto Limon, 220 miles northwest of the Panama canal.

U. S. Helps Train Growing Army.

Costa Rica was the first Latin American nation to declare war on Japan after the attack on Pearl Harbor—evidence of the burning anti-axis sentiment in President Rafael Calderon Guardia's strategically placed country.

An army which numbered only 542 men a year ago is being expanded and trained extensively by a United States military mission which the president invited here. American military units also are stationed here. The president has placed bases at the disposal of the United States.

Col. Robert Edward Jones of Chestertown, Md., heads the United States mission. He has had 33 years of active army service, much of it in the Philippines, Nicaragua, and France.

"The Costa Rican troops are cooperative and enthusiastic," Col. Jones says. "We are preparing them to take the field, ready to go any place to repel any invaders."

Order American Equipment.

Working with Col. Jones is Maj. Russell Blair of Philadelphia, who has had 14 years' regular service since his graduation from West Point. Maj. John A. H. Miller of Coffeyville, Kas., is commanding officer of United States troops here.

When the United States mission arrived here last February, it found a varied but effective assortment of equipment on hand—German and Italian machine guns, German and Swiss rifles, medium artillery and anti-aircraft guns mounted on wheels.

United States equipment now is on order for the army, which is being taught patrolling, camouflage, artillery work and assorted subjects, including how to repel parachutists.

Costa Rica feels the war's economic impact heavily. Shipping losses have meant a reduction in coffee and banana exports and flour and clothing imports. There also is the consequent loss of customs duties which ordinarily provide two-thirds of the total national revenue.

Materials to Go to U. S.

The government recently contracted with Washington, D. C., to export all its strategic war materials to the United States. Increased production of rubber and hemp is being planned.

Here in San Jose, the capital, the people are friendly toward the United States troops. There is applause every time President Roosevelt's picture is thrown on newsreel screens. Costa Rica celebrated Roosevelt's birthday with a three day holiday.

President Calderon Guardia gives further emphasis to this demonstrated friendship. He has reviewed United States troops and chatted informally with them.

On one recent inspection he stopped before Corp. Gene Giganti of Oakmont, Pa., to ask him how he liked Costa Rica. His face lighted with pleasure at the corporal's immediate and enthusiastic outburst:

"Swell!"

Deat to Throw Support of His Party Behind Laval

VICHY, France, July 10 (AP).—Marcel Deat announced in Paris today that he had decided to transform his National Popular Assembly organization into a political party to support Pierre Laval as chief of government. A meeting of the executive committee has been called for Saturday and Sunday, when a program declaring support of Laval on the ground that he is "France's last hope" will be announced.

NORWAY LOSES THIRD OF SHIPS BY WAR ACTION

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 10.—Nearly one-third of the Norwegian merchant ships—300 out of 1,000—have been lost as a result of war action, Dr. Johan Nygaardsvold, prime minister of the Norwegian government-in-exile, said today. He has just returned from a two and one-half months' tour of the United States and Canada during which he saw President Roosevelt and Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King, and discussed replacement of the lost Norwegian tonnage.

He said he hoped to reach an agreement with the United States government similar to that existing with the British government for a share of the new ships being constructed.

"It is not only a question of building ships, but also of manning them," he said. "It so happens that we have a greater proportion of sailors available than anybody else."

ARMY TO ASSIGN NEGRO AIR UNIT TO EACH STATION

Washington, D. C., July 10 (AP).—Rep. Milton H. West [D., Tex.] said today the war department was contemplating assignment of at least one Negro aviation squadron to every army air force station in the country.

He received this information, he said, when transmitting to the war department complaints of Eagle Pass, Tex., citizens against reported plans to assign a Negro unit to the new air station there.

In reply, war department officials advised him, he said, that to absorb Negroes taken into the air forces it would be necessary to assign them to each air force station.

Lowly Milkweed to Get a Break as Lifesaver

Columbus, O., July 10 (AP). — The milkweed—once just another farm annoyance—may now save the lives of aviators forced down at sea, E. L. Little of Columbus, director of the National Farm Chemergic council, asserted tonight.

Little told the Society of American Florists that four pounds of milkweed fiber in an aviator's coat would keep a 200 pound flyer afloat for 48 hours.

BRITISH ORDER QUIZ INTO EGYPT STORIES; RECALL 3 WRITERS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 10.—British censorship officials today suddenly canceled new regulations to curb "excessive optimism" in dispatches from Egypt as three correspondents in "serious difficulties" because of their stories were ordered to Cairo to attend an inquiry.

Official circles, however, were unable to say what objections had caused the recall of Ralph Walling of Reuters News agency, Clifford Webb of the Daily Herald, and Aubrey Hammond of the Daily Sketch.

Prime Minister Churchill emphasized the freedom given British correspondents reporting front line news during the recent debate in commons, but American writers here protested what they said were "aspersions" cast on their reporting of the news from London by the premier.

U. OF MINNESOTA BAR STADIUM TO ARMY WAR SHOW

Minneapolis, Minn., July 10 (AP).—The board of regents of the University of Minnesota, in a resolution adopted unanimously today, said the university stadium was "not the appropriate place" to stage the army war show, scheduled for Minneapolis, Aug. 15-18.

Civic leaders had asked permission to use Memorial stadium for the show, which is on a tour of 20 American cities to give the nation a glimpse of the army in action.

The board declared:

The stadium is located in the center of a campus crowded with institutional buildings in which highly important war research, involving use of delicate scientific instruments is being conducted at the request of the government. "The board is concerned with the effect of the proposed war spectacle upon this highly important work."

It also pointed out that interruption would occur in use of the stadium for physical education for students and enlisted men undergoing university training and, lastly, possible damage to buildings and grounds.

U. S. AND GREECE SIGN COMPACT ON LEND-LEASE

Pledge Joint Co-operation After End of War.

Washington, D. C., July 10 (AP).—Secretary of State Hull and Prime Minister Emanuel J. Tsouderos of the Greek government in exile today signed a master lend-lease pact after an agreement on war objectives was reached yesterday by King George II. of Greece.

Six other united nations—Great Britain, China, Russia, Belgium, Poland, and the Netherlands—already have concluded similar agreements with the United States pledging mutual aid toward victory and post-war collaboration in economic relations.

Others of the 21 remaining united nations are expected to accept invitations to join in the pacts.

King Visits Roosevelt.

Advance notice of Greece's intentions was given in a joint statement last night by President Roosevelt and the Greek king, who called at the White House with Prime Minister Tsouderos to say farewell preparatory to returning to London. They have been in this country several weeks.

"We are in complete agreement," the joint statement said, "on the simple objective of prosecuting the war to a successful conclusion, at the earliest possible moment, with all the resources at the command of the two nations.

Victory in Peace One Aim.

"We are firm in our determination to win the peace no less than the war, and we reassert our conviction that a just and lasting peace, based on an honest application of the declaration of the united nations of Jan. 1, 1942, is the basis on which the peace shall be won."

The pact of last January pledges signers to use all their resources to fight the war and not to make a separate peace with the axis. There were 26 original signers. Mexico and the Philippines signed later.

41 SAVED FROM U. S. FREIGHTER SUNK OFF MADAGASCAR BY SUB

LISBON, Portugal, July 10 (AP).—Forty one survivors of an American freighter torpedoed and sunk in the Mozambique channel, off Madagascar, have arrived at Inhambane, in lower Portuguese East Africa, it was announced today.

The dispatch from Lourenco Marques, the connecting point for the exchange of Japanese and American nationals who are expected there shortly, also said axis submarine attacks on allied shipping in the channel were continuing.

Forty survivors of a Greek freighter arrived at Memba, and 40 others from an unidentified steamer arrived at Ponta Caldeira. All these ports are hundreds of miles apart.

ARMY TO SCHOOL RADIO EXPERTS IN 2 SEIZED HOTELS

Drop Plan to House Air Cadets Here.

The Stevens and Congress hotels, acquired by the United States army air force in a surprise condemnation proceeding Thursday, will be used to house and train thousands of technicians in the largest radio training school in the world.

Announcement of the establishment of the radio school was made late yesterday in Washington by the air force and the army procurement division. It was disclosed at the same time that the army had dropped its original plan to turn the hotels into a replacement center for ground and preflight training.

No figures were given on the total number of men to be trained monthly or what the maximum enrollment will be. It was understood, however, that the Stevens, the world's largest hotel, with 3,000 rooms, and the Congress with 1,000 rooms, could accommodate at least 15,000 men.

Not Enough Technicians.

Radio training is part of the program to expand the army air force into 2,000,000 men, and is one of the most important needs of the army today. Planes are now coming off the assembly lines faster than they can be flown and manned by pilots and technicians and more rapidly than ground crews can be trained to maintain them.

The young men who will be trained to operate and maintain the air force radios on the ground and in flight will get the standard courses now offered at the Army Force Technical Training Command school at Scott field, Belleville, St. Clair county. The courses vary in length, but last several months.

Col. Walter T. Meyer, executive officer of Scott field, is head of an air force board now at the Stevens hotel, and charged with arranging all of the details of converting the two hotels to military purposes.

Hotels Appeal for Stay.

At the time the announcement was made in Washington about the army's plans for use of the hotels, executives of the Stevens had appealed to President Roosevelt in an effort to secure a stay of seizure.

In Chicago, Jay A. Jones, general manager, told 500 employés:

"The Stevens is not going down without a determination of the facts on their merits. That cannot be looked upon as unpatriotic as we know that every report of the army engineers has been unfavorable to taking over the hotel."

Upon returning from an out of town trip, John J. Mack, president of the group operating the Congress, said that the Congress would not attempt to oppose the government's order.

Expect Early Occupancy.

Altho the condemnation order, which was signed by Federal Judge William H. Holly in 30 seconds Thursday, stated that the government would take occupancy on Aug. 1, it was reported in Washington that the advance force would begin moving in within a few days.

For the next six weeks the hotels will undergo transformation as class room and sleeping quarters are prepared for the army of radio technicians. By Sept. 1 it is expected that the school will begin operating on a full time schedule.

Ballrooms, such as the Stevens', which seats 3,000 persons and is considered the world's largest, will be converted into classrooms, as will most of the private dining rooms. The larger dining rooms will become mess halls.

The government, under the order, is to rent the hotels. The amount of rental is to be determined, possibly within two weeks, thru court adjudication. Hotel owners, when the plans were first discussed some months ago, indicated they would prefer out and out sale to rental, because the hotels will be subjected to more than ordinary wear and tear by thousands of soldiers who will pass thru the school.

Hotels Long Profitless.

After many lean years both hotels, long running in the red, have been showing profit. Since acquiring the Congress hotel on lease from the Reconstruction Finance corporation, which came into possession of the building thru default of a large loan, the present operators say they have spent more than $1,000,000 in rehabilitation. Tonight the Congress will open a new dining place, the Horizon room.

At the time the RFC got out of the operating end of the hotel business, its investment in the Congress amounted to $2,075,000. This has now risen to $2,350,000, thru improvements, Frank M. Murchison, manager of the Chicago loan agency of the RFC, said.

Other Hotels Gain.

The Palmer House reported hundreds of inquiries from the soon to be evacuated Michigan avenue hotel dwellers, but said that no reservations had been made pending developments in the loop hotel housing market. Other loop hotel operators said they expected to become hosts to many of them.

Louis B. Ermling, secretary-treasurer of the Chicago Hotel association, said the departing Michigan avenue hotel guests should find no difficulty in getting rooms downtown, where loop hotels have been running at only 60 per cent occupancy.

Ermling said that almost every large hotel had been surveyed by one or more groups from the army, but that nothing was known of any plan to take over any other hotels. Only a few days ago the army air force returned to the old Auditorium to inspect it again.

The Blackstone has also been surveyed twice by the army, John Burke, manager, declared, but after the last one on July 2 said he was told that the hotel did not meet the army's needs. But on the basis of the speed in which the government acted against the Stevens and Congress, Burke remarked that "anything can happen."

WAR REVERSES BLAMED ON LACK OF PREPARATION

Spreading of Forces Cited in House.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 10.—Addressing himself to the architects of the smear campaign against certain members of congress, Rep. Clare E. Hoffman [R., Mich.] declared today that the early setbacks suffered by United States forces have demonstrated the soundness of the views of those who were trying before Pearl Harbor to keep the nation out of war.

Rep. Clare Hoffman.

He quoted Gen. B. H. Somervell, chief of the army services of supply, as saying recently that American forces "have taken a terrific shellacking all around the globe" from the enemy.

Hoffman charged that the "shellacking" was the result of inadequate preparation for war and the spreading of our military resources over too much of the globe at one time.

Need of Preparation Cited.

"Even America, great and strong as she is, has learned that you cannot fight a war for which you are unprepared on 31 fronts," Hoffman said. "The shellacking which we have taken only demonstrates the soundness of the position of those who, as I, believed that we should go slow and be fully prepared before we entered this war."

Hoffman is one of the 26 house members who has been marked for the "purge" from congress in a campaign initiated last May by the left wing magazine New Republic because of his opposition to the administration's foreign policy before the war.

He asserted the attempts to liquidate him are being fostered by communistic publications whose ill will he has incurred thru his opposition to "tyranny, dictatorship, and the arbitrary rulings of burocrats."

Explains "No" Votes.

"The 'no' votes which I cast prior to Pearl Harbor and which had to do with our foreign policy were votes to keep us out of the war until we were prepared, until we could support our fighting men," he said.

"Do those who oppose certain members of congress, including myself, believe that we should have gone into this war earlier, more unprepared? Do they believe we would have been more ready to meet effectively the submarine attack on the Atlantic seaboard if we had sent more of our destroyers, our scouting ships, submarine chasers, bombers, and fighters across the sea?

"Prior to Pearl Harbor I advocated staying out of this war. I still think that we might have avoided it.

Frontier Placed on Seaboard.

"In any event, we should have made every effort to prepare for defense, and every one knows that instead of preparing to defend ourselves, as I insisted, we stripped ourselves of our means of defense, and the result has been that under the guidance of Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Churchill today our frontier is not on the Rhine but is on our own Atlantic seaboard.

"I intend to back the army, the navy, the air force, the fighting men of our nation. Those who would at this time raid the public treasury, who want needless, extravagant spending, those who want a rubber stamp, a surrender of our Declaration of Independence, and the hauling down of the Stars and Stripes should not support me."

CONQUERED MUST FLY JAP FLAGS, BOW TO SOLDIERS

New Guinea Learns About 'New Order.'

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune.]

MELBOURNE, Australia, July 10.—"All and every one shall bow their heads whenever they see Japanese soldiers," says a proclamation the Japanese have issued to residents in occupied New Guinea. The natives are also required to learn the Japanese language, and are forbidden to write letters, hold meetings or listen to a radio. All property has been frozen.

Two proclamations embodying these orders have reached Australia. One of them was issued by the military commandant at Kavieng, New Ireland, in reasonably good English.

Must Fly Jap Flags.

The other, covering all Japanese occupied territory in New Guinea, was issued by the naval commander in chief, in poor English. Very few Europeans remained when the territory the Japanese now occupy was evacuated.

The Kavieng proclamation, dated Feb. 12, which forbids buying and selling of commodities except by written permit, requires citizens of Kavieng to engage in such labors as the military commandant may order for appropriate reward. It forbids land or sea traffic and imposes a black-out between 6 p. m. and 5 a. m. Every house is ordered to hoist a Japanese flag.

Ban Missionary Activity.

The naval proclamation, dated Jan. 23, also forbids missionary activity "for some time" and appeals to all refugees to "come back safely." It says that those who loyally are serving the emperor are protected by the Japanese navy.

The proclamation fixed the exchange rate at 10 yen to the pound and directs that retail prices be fixed accordingly. It forbids the hoarding of food or the raising of prices.

It also directs residents to form neighborhood units which shall meet daily to receive the navy's instructions. The proclamation provides that each unit shall have joint responsibility for all of its members and will be punishable for any violation of orders.

KILLED BY RAILROAD TRAIN.

Nicholas Stracci, 64 years old, 1323 Wentworth avenue, Chicago Heights, was killed yesterday when a train on the Chicago Heights Terminal railroad backed into him as he was standing on the tracks. The accident occurred 1,000 feet north of the Lincoln highway.

CHICAGO NAVAL CADET DIES IN CRASH DURING DIVE BOMBING DRILL

George Metz.

George Metz, 22 years old, 8139 Euclid avenue, a naval flight cadet who was to receive his wings and be married this month, crashed to his death yesterday in a lagoon near Pensacola, Fla., when his plane failed to come out of a dive. William F. Montgomery of Springfield, S. D., also was killed in the crash.

Reports from the Pensacola naval air station said the cadets were practicing dive bombing. Both bodies were recovered.

The Chicago cadet, son of George R. Metz, was engaged to Miss Jane Ellerd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey G. Ellerd, 9325 Damen avenue. They were to have been married after Metz received his wings, "some time between July 22 and 26," members of the family said last night. Metz was graduated from Bowen High school in 1937 and Lake Forest college in 1940. He became a naval aviation cadet last September.

BARKLEY URGES THORO PROBE OF CHANDLER POOL

Washington, D. C., July 10 (AP).—Senate Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley [D., Ky.] urged the Truman committee today to be "prompt and thoro" in investigating and reporting on the construction of a swimming pool given recently to Sen. Albert B. Chandler [D., Ky.] by a Louisville contractor, Ben Collings.

The investigation began this week upon requests by Chandler and by his opponent for the Democratic senatorial nomination, John Y. Brown of Lexington, Ky.

Barkley, in a letter to Chairman Harry S. Truman [D., Mo.] of the committee assigned by the senate to investigate the war program, commented:

"It is only about three weeks until the date of the primary and if the construction of the swimming pool has any validity as a campaign issue, that validity depends upon the facts as they exist."

A SICK WOMAN'S HUSBAND SEEKS POLICEMAN'S AID

Inquires About Taxicab for Expectant Mother.

The farewell party drew to an end early yesterday morning. Edward Loome, 25 years old, a shipping clerk, said good-by to his three young fellow workers who, later in the day, were inducted into the service.

Then, with his wife Margaret, 22, and another couple, he left for his home, 4351 Carroll avenue. At Belmont and Central avenues they boarded a surface lines bus. After a few blocks Mrs. Loome—who soon is to become a mother—became ill.

The party left the bus to continue the journey in a taxicab. They found themselves in a residential district, however, and no cabs were in sight. Leaving Mrs. Loome in the care of the other young woman, Loome and his friend went in different directions to hunt transportation.

Expects Policeman to Be Helpful.

Two blocks away Loome encountered Policeman George Zimmer of the Jefferson Park police, walking his beat, and asked where he might find a cab.

"Quit your kiddin' and get out of here or I'll lock you up," said the policeman.

"What are you here for?" retorted Loome—he was a little out of breath. "I'm in trouble. I need some assistance."

"I'll get you some assistance," said Zimmer. "I'll call the wagon for you." And he did.

And when the wagon came he put Loome into it but not his sick wife and the other couple. Loome tried to explain that his wife was ill. The doors were slammed, however, and he was driven off. The other three followed after they succeeded in finding a cruising cab.

Insists on Prosecuting.

At the Jefferson Park station the other police were kind to Mrs. Loome, gave her a place to sit, and pointed out to Zimmer that neither Loome nor his friend was intoxicated and that the women had had nothing to drink. Zimmer said he was not interested in the others, but that he was going to book Loome for disorderly conduct. And he did.

Therefore, it was necessary that $25 cash bond be forthcoming. Neither of the young men had it. Loome's father, Charles, a foreman at a large manufacturing company, lives in a distant part of the city and it now was 3 a. m. So the other police began trying to raise the money and eventually they did. Loome was to appear in Shakespeare avenue court at 9 a. m.

Loses Half Day's Pay.

It was after 4 when he finally got away from the police station. He therefore was forced to lose half a day's work—and pay—to appear in court. There was a sizable bill on the meter of the cab which had been kept waiting because of his wife's condition.

And when Loome told his story later in the day to Municipal Judge E. P. Luczak, he was discharged. Mrs. Loome was confined to her bed.

"Bunk! Don't bother me," Policeman Zimmer said when a reporter asked him last night about the Loome case. "Ask the captain." The captain is Patrick O'Connell.

Twenty-five hundred students of the Washburne Trade school gathered in Lincoln park for their annual picnic yesterday. The day was spent in games and contests. Later in the evening the beauty queen of the school, Miss Betty Hoover, and her court of honor were presented.

SEIZED OFFERING TO 'HELP' FAMILY OF CITIZEN LANTZ

William F. Jones.

William Franklin Jones, 37 years old, who has served three terms in the Leavenworth [Kas.] federal penitentiary for impersonating a government official, was arrested again by the Sheffield avenue police last night on an alleged similar violation.

Detectives Harold Brown and Al Casey seized him in the home of Mrs. Carl V. Lantz, 2506 North Clark street while he was trying to obtain money to get government jobs for her four daughters. He said that he was a national defense official and had influence in Washington. Mrs. Lantz said that he obtained $1 Wednesday to send a telegram. Mrs. May Ring of 451 Wrightwood avenue, one of the daughters, said that he offered her a position as journalist at $300 a month.

Mrs. Lantz's husband died under tragic circumstances last June 30 after he had been accused falsely of annoying a 3 year old girl. He was held for several days by the police and died of pneumonia a week later.

INGERSOLL DRAFT CASE REFERRED TO APPEAL BODY

New York, July 10 [Special].—On instructions from Washington, the draft status case of Ralph Ingersoll, editor of the publication PM, has been referred to an appeals board, Col. Arthur V. McDermott, city selective service director, announced today.

Ingersoll was retained in Class 1-A after a rehearing last week on an appeal by Marshall Field, owner of PM, seeking to prevent the editor's induction into the armed forces. Yesterday, Col. McDermott said that Ingersoll is the only newspaperman he knew for whom a deferment has been asked on occupational grounds.

ALLIED BOMBERS AGAIN RIP JAPS' NANCHANG BASE

Sink River Boat, Destroy 10 Grounded Planes.

CHUNGKING, China, July 11 [Saturday] (AP).—Allied bombers have delivered a second smashing blow to Nanchang, capital of Kiangsi province, sinking one transport in the river and destroying 10 Japanese planes on the ground, Chinese dispatches reported today.

Allied planes heavily bombed this Japanese base last week. During that raid two, or possibly three, Japanese hangars were struck. All the allied planes returned safely from the second attack on Nanchang, the dispatches said. The term "allied planes" generally is taken to mean United States machines belonging to the regular air force in China.

Chinese Retake 2 Cities.

The high command yesterday announced the recapture of Changshu, 45 miles southwest of Nanchang, in a new repulse of the Japanese and a sharp setback of the invaders' latest push along the Kiangsi rail line to Hunan province. Also recaptured, the Chinese said, was Tsungjen, 70 miles south of the Japanese base at Nanchang.

The high command confirmed Chinese dispatches which reported Thursday that a Japanese force of 30,000 had been ambushed and beaten back in heavy fighting in Kiangsi province.

The first fruits of that repulse were the recapture of Nancheng, Ihwang, and Poyang, into which Japanese columns had stabbed from Nanchang and the Chekiang border to the east.

Japs Seek Rail Route.

The Chinese gains took on an even larger significance with the recapture of Tsungjen, where the Japanese had driven south toward Kwantung province, and Changshu, where the invaders had reached the Kiangsi-Hunan railway.

The Japanese had taken Changshu early this week in the start of a new phase of their apparent campaign to establish a rail route from Shanghai to Singapore. Their conquest thru Chekiang province and into Kiangsi gave them lines from Shanghai to Nanchang.

The high command said fighting also had flared anew in Chekiang province, where the Japanese, with more than 10,000 reënforcements, struck south four days ago from Lishui, 125 miles south of Hangchow.

[The Japanese yesterday reported their Lishui column had seized Tsingtien, 50 miles southeast of Lishui, and was approaching the important seaport of Wenchow.]

Japs Raid Possible Air Base.

Apparently attempting to knock out a potential base for the bombing of Formosa, Japanese planes raided Kienow, highway and river town in northern Fukien province, on Wednesday.

Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's American army air force headquarters said yesterday that a two engine Japanese observation plane was shot down Thursday at Hengyang.

CANADA CANCELS CHARGE AGAINST WAR NOTE CRITIC

OTTAWA, Ont., July 10 [Special].—The government today withdrew a charge of violating defense regulations against Col. George Drew, Ontario Conservative leader, Justice Minister Louis St. Laurent announced in the house of commons. The charge was that Drew's criticism of the royal commission's report on arrangements concerning the sending of Canadian troops to Hongkong in the unsuccessful defense of that colony, was "likely to prejudice recruiting."

Drew, who acted as counsel during the commission's inquiry, asserted that material evidence was suppressed, and proper conclusions were not drawn. Chief Justice Sir Lyman Duff drew up the report.

St. Laurent told commons that Crown Counsel D. L. McCarthy, who withdrew the charge against Drew in a Toronto court, had explained that the forthcoming parliamentary debate on the commission's report could not fairly be carried on while proceedings against Drew were in progress. Drew said the government was attempting to evade the issue, and that he was prepared to support his criticism in court.

ARTIST-OFFICER PAINTS STORY OF CORAL SEA FIGHT

Portland, Me., July 10 (AP).—A naval ensign who sketched hastily from the quivering deck of a warship as the great Coral sea battle ended wielded his brush today in this quiet seaport to finish a pictorial account of the epic fight.

Ensign Robert B. Nix of Jamestown, La., is making five paintings based on the death blows to the United States aircraft carrier Lexington.

The sketches were begun after the bitter engagement had been broken off but while Japanese planes were still in sight—on the day the mortally wounded Lexington was sent to the bottom by American torpedoes so she would not fall into Japanese hands.

His ship was the target of many enemy missiles, Nix related, and as the vessel twisted and turned he was obliged to change from one side of the ship to the other to keep his subject in view.

"I had the opportunity and I wanted to get onto canvas the dramatic story of what was happening before my eyes," he related.

99,240 British Jobless; Lowest Count in Years

LONDON, July 10.—With the war industries taking men and women workers, Britain's unemployment figure for mid-June was 99,240, a new low, and the first time in many years it has been below 100,000. In June, 1939, it was 1,330,928, and in May, 1942, it was 108,983.

NIMITZ INJURED IN PLANE CRASH; CO-PILOT KILLED

Admiral's Ship Cracks Up in West.

Washington, D. C., July 10 (AP).—The navy reported today that Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, commander in chief of the Pacific fleet, was injured slightly recently in an airplane crash on the west coast which cost the life of the co-pilot of the plane.

Adm. C. W. Nimitz.

Nimitz, normally in the Hawaiian area, was in the United States for a meeting with Adm. Ernest J. King, commander in chief of the United States fleet, and to receive from King the distinguished service medal for his conduct of naval operations against the Japanese, particularly in the Coral sea and Midway actions.

Plane Crashes on West Coast.

The navy said the plane crash occurred at an airfield at a west coast port of the United States but did not make public details of the accident or its cause. It said several other passengers also were injured slightly but that Adm. Nimitz was able to continue on his journey.

The co-pilot killed was Lieut. Thomas Morton Roscoe, 29 years old, of Oakland, Cal. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Ruth B. Roscoe.

Adm. Nimitz, who is 57 years old, has been commander in chief of the Pacific fleet since Adm. Husband E. Kimmel was removed from that post Dec. 17.

Pacific Battles Cited.

Nimitz received this citation from Adm. King:

"For exceptionally meritorious service as commander in chief, United States Pacific fleet. In that position of great responsibility he exercised sound judgment and decision in his employment and disposition of units of the Pacific fleet during the period immediately following our entry into war with Japan. His conduct of the operations of the Pacific fleet, resulting in successful actions against the enemy in the Coral sea in May, 1942, and off Midway Island in June, 1942, was characterized by unfailing judgment and sound decision, coupled with skill and vigor. His exercise of command on all occasions left nothing to be desired."

Nimitz Back in Hawaii.

HONOLULU, July 10 (AP).—Adm. Chester W. Nimitz said today he was none the worse as the result of a recent plane crash at a west coast port. The officer, now back at his post in Honolulu, was accompanied on his flight to the Pacific coast by two members of his staff who received minor cuts and bruises but are now back on duty. They are Capt. Lynd McCormick, Annapolis, Md., and Lieut. Comm. Preston V. Mercer, Mercer, Pa.

TELL HOW FIFTH COLUMN HELPED TAKE PHILIPPINES

Fort George Wright, Wash., July 10 (AP).—Hundreds of fifth columnists aided the Japanese in their conquest of the Philippines, two flyers of the army 2d air force related today. The two—Capt. R. J. Barnick of Max, N. D., and Lieut. William E. Strathern of Gilbero, Minn., remained on Bataan until April 9, when they flew to Mindanao and thence to Australia and back to the United States.

"They [the fifth columnists] were devastating. An American flying at night would see flares light up ahead of him, revealing his course to the enemy. There is no doubt the Philippines had hundreds of fifth columnists," Barnick said.

But, both asserted, the lack of food was the worst, with practically every man ill by the time of the withdrawal to Corregidor. Efficiency of the American forces eventually was reduced to 10 per cent because of this, they said.

DROWNS NEAR DANVILLE.

Danville, Ill., July 10 (AP).—Russell Webster, 20 year old WPA worker of Westville, Ill., drowned today while attempting to learn to swim in one of the pollywogs seven miles northwest of here.

BRITISH FLYERS BOMB JAPANESE RIVER CRAFT IN BURMA'S INTERIOR

NEW DELHI, India, July 10 (AP).—Announcing widespread air attacks on barges and other river craft far in the interior of Burma, the RAF today disclosed that the Japanese were moving up reënforcements for what was believed to be an offensive against India.

Altho the communique did not mention a possible attack on India, its references to attacks on barges in the upper reaches of the Chindwin river suggested the Japanese were moving troops and materials toward the Indian frontier.

Bombing and machinegun attacks were made on river craft in three different areas, the lower Chindwin between Mingen and Kani, the upper Chindwin at Masein and Mawlik, and the upper Irrawaddy at Myitkyiof. At the latter point the communique said barges were attacked from low level and "many casualties were reported among the enemy's forces."

2 CHICAGO BOYS SERVING IN AIR FORCES MISSING

Lieut. Wesley F. Osmus, 23 years old, who when last heard from was a flying officer on an aircraft carrier, is missing in action in the Pacific, the navy yesterday notified his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Osmus, 10330 Ewing avenue.

Robert Herbeck.

Wesley F. Osmus.

Osmus played football at the University of Illinois and with south side professional teams. He was graduated from Bowen High school. A brother, Lieut. William H. Osmus, is with the navy signal corps in Baltimore.

Robert Herbeck, 25, a member of an army air force ground crew on Bataan, was reported missing in action yesterday in a notice to his father, James Herbeck of 6442 South Washtenaw avenue. He enlisted at Chanute field in Oct. 1940 and was transferred to California a year ago. Shortly before the Japs struck he was sent to the Philippines. He attended Lindblom High school.

CHINA REALIZES NEED OF WINNING WAR SOON: CHIANG

Washington, D. C., July 9 (AP).—Chiang Kai-shek, Chinese generalissimo, told President Roosevelt in a message today that his people realized "the prime necessity of annihilating the forces of evil in the Pacific so as to hasten the day of victory in this global war against aggression."

The message was a response to the President's note of encouragement to Chungking on the fifth anniversary of Japan's attack against China.

No Christmas Wrapping Paper Shortage, Says WPB

Washington, D. C., July 10 (AP).—Manufacturers can go ahead with plans to wrap cigarets, cigars, and other tobacco products in Christmas packages. The War Production board said today there was no shortage of paper for Christmas wrappers, despite a mistaken impression that such wrappings were forbidden.

3 CHICAGO AIRMEN GET MEDALS FOR MIDWAY BATTLE

DSC Given Posthumously to Dixon Flyer.

BY JAN JABULKA.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HONOLULU, Hawaii, July 10.—Three Chicagoans were among 28 army flyers awarded distinguished service crosses today for "pressing home the first torpedo bomber attack in the history of the United States army" in smashing the Japanese invasion armada off Midway Island on June 4. The DSC also was awarded posthumously to an Illinoisan who lost his life in the same attack.

Lieut. Colin Villines.

Lieut. R. H. Johnsen.

Chicagoans winning the award were Second Lieut. Russell H. Johnsen of 1805 North Nordica avenue, Second Lieut. Colin Villines of 3758 Fremont street, and Sergt. Jack D. Dunn. They were cited for the following exploits:

Displays Great Heroism.

JOHNSEN: As bombardier and gunner of a medium bombardment plane, he displayed great heroism during an extremely hazardous and difficult torpedo bombing mission against the Japanese navy. His skill and courageousness in operating his gun in the face of superior enemy fighter opposition and intense anti-aircraft were instrumental in the success of the first torpedo attack carried out by the army air corps.

[A graduate of Wright Junior college and of Illinois Wesleyan university, Lieut. Johnsen was employed by a Chicago electrical appliance company before entering the army more than two years ago. He is 27 years old and unmarried.]

VILLINES: As co-pilot of a medium bombardment plane, he participated in an extremely hazardous and difficult torpedo bombing mission against the Japanese navy and displayed extraordinary heroism thruout the attack, with skilled airmanship and great courage while subjected to intense enemy anti-aircraft fire.

Fought Off Enemies.

DUNN: As aerial engineer and gunner of a medium bombardment plane, he displayed great courage in fighting off enemy fighters during and after the attack, his skilled airmanship and courage materially aiding the success of the first army air corps torpedo attack.

The posthumous award went to Second Lieut. William S. Watson of Dixon, Ill., who lost his life when he unhesitatingly entered the area of attack off Midway in the face of concentrated enemy gunfire.

DOWN 2 JAPANESE PLANES AS 29 RAID NEW GUINEA BASE

Gen. MacArthur's headquarters, Australia, July 11 [Saturday] (AP).—Allied forces shot down two Japanese bombers this morning when 21 enemy bombers and eight fighters attacked Port Moresby, New Guinea, an allied communique said today. There was no damage or casualties.

Lieut. Gen. George H. Brett, commander of allied air forces in the southwest Pacific, today awarded five United States air corps officers silver stars for gallantry in action.

They were Capt. Guilford R. Montgomery of Fort Collins, Colo.; First Lieut. Donald J. Green, Oakland, Cal.; First Lieut. Frank E. Adkins, address unknown; First Lieut. Eugene A. Wahl, address unknown, and Second Lieut. Thomas J. Lynch, address unknown.

RUBBER DRIVE ENDS; CHICAGO DONATION HUGE

Estimate Area Donated 20,000 Tons.

Enough scrap rubber for 50,000 medium bombers was collected in the Chicago metropolitan area during the 26 day nation-wide drive which ended at midnight last night. William L. McFetridge, area salvage director for the Office of Civilian Defense, reported yesterday to Mayor Kelly, OCD area coördinator.

McFetridge said that final results of the rubber collection drive would not be available until the gasoline companies have completed their canvasses of filling station collection depots and the cumulative figures are tallied by the petroleum industries war council in Washington, D. C.

Chicago Area Gives Heavily.

Unofficial estimates made during the last hours of the drive indicated that the metropolitan area, including Cook and parts of Du Page and Lake counties, had turned in almost 20,000 tons of scrap rubber.

The collection campaign originally was planned to close at midnight June 30 but was extended by President Roosevelt because of the feeble response in some areas. The midwest has led all other sections in the drive.

McFetridge said that more than 40 per cent of the Chicago area collection was contributed by industrial plants, commercial establishments and office buildings. He credited housewives and children with doing most of the work on the civilian front.

Looking toward permanent rubber scrap collections, Charles S. Rosenthal, president of the Illinois Petroleum Marketing association, suggested to the WPB salvage division that gasoline stations continue to act as collection depots.

Says Illinois Will Lead.

Robert Tieken, chairman of the salvage committee of the Illinois State Council of Defense, reported to Gov. Green that the state will be at the top or near the top in the rubber drive.

"Even before the drive ended thousands of tons brought to gas stations had raised Illinois to third place in the roll of states," Tieken said.

Cook county automobile dealers have turned in more than 91 tons of scrap rubber, Ben T. Wright, president of the Chicago Automobile Trade association, said. He said this was reported by 176 of about 600 dealers. When the remainder report, the total may reach 200 tons, he asserted.

SEIZED ON LINER, FAKE 'REFUGEE' JAILED AS SPY

Newark, N. J., July 10 (AP).—A German born spy suspect, accused of trying to slip into the United States as a Jewish refugee aboard the diplomatic exchange ship Drottningholm, was held without bail today as federal authorities prepared for quick grand jury action.

Nattily clad and smiling pleasantly, Herbert Karl Friedrich Bahr, 29 years old, was brought from New York under heavy guard and taken to the Jersey City jail.

His appearance before the bar was unprecedented, for even then he remained handcuffed to a federal agent.

Bahr was charged with conspiracy to violate the espionage law and using a mutilated passport. He is an American citizen thru his father's naturalization.

"Bahr admits having been enlisted by the German espionage service for the purpose of returning to the United States and securing information pertaining to the war effort," Assistant FBI Director P. E. Foxworth said.

SUSPECT SEIZED WITH BLUEPRINT OF PLANE BASE

Miami, Fla., July 10 (AP).—R. G. Danner, special agent in charge of the Federal Bureau of Investigation office here, today announced the arrest of a man listed as Walter D. Gustafson, 24 years old, of Minneapolis, Minn., on a charge of attempting to bring into the United States a confidential blueprint of a Caribbean army air base.

W. D. Gustafson.

Danner said a blueprint was found concealed on Gustafson's person by customs agents at the Pan-American airport here July 7. He said Gustafson had been employed by the construction company which was building the base. He was on his way home at the time of the arrest.

RUSSIANS, DUTCH SIGN DIPLOMAT EXCHANGE PACT

LONDON, July 10 (AP).—An agreement establishing diplomatic relations between Russia and the Netherlands was signed at the soviet embassy today by Russian Ambassador Ivan M. Maisky and Baron Michiels van Verduynyen, acting foreign minister of the Netherlands government here.

The agreement, in effect immediately and not requiring ratification, provided for an exchange of ministers.

The Netherlands had not reëstablished diplomatic relations with Russia after the soviet revolution.

French Anti-Communist Tribunal Sentences 34

VICHY, France, July 10 (AP).—The anti-Communist court at Besancon sentenced 34 more persons today to terms ranging from one year in prison to hard labor for life.

Janitor Gets Bike

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Virgil Sandidge, flat janitor, with first bicycle issued to a Chicagoan under rationing plan.

JANITOR FOR FIVE BUILDINGS GIVEN NO. 1 BIKE PERMIT

Informs Board He Can Save 3 Hours Daily.

A janitor who services five apartment buildings each day and needs a bicycle to make his rounds yesterday was the first Chicagoan to receive a bicycle rationing certificate. He is Virgil L. Sandidge, 31 years old, 4663 West End avenue.

New adult bicycles, the supply of which was frozen by federal order April 2, were released for sale to eligible persons Thursday. The July quota allotted for the Chicago metropolitan area is 1,172 bicycles, and for the entire state, 1,491.

Needs One 7 Days a Week.

Sandidge submitted his application to the war price and rationing board at 1111 West Jackson boulevard. He said he requires a bicycle seven days a week and that he could save three hours a day by using one. He added that he is an assistant fire watcher in the civilian defense organization.

A woman was the first applicant at the rationing office but she became impatient over the delay in clearing her application and left.

Form Must Be Filled Out.

Applications for bicycle rationing certificates may be obtained at the Jackson boulevard board and at four others located at 6555 Cottage Grove avenue, 3144 South Ashland avenue, 2118 North Damen avenue, and 3807 Lawrence avenue. Michael F. Mulcahy, OPA administrator for the Chicago metropolitan area, said certificates for 11 bicycles were issued yesterday.

Those desiring to buy a new adult bicycle are required to fill in a four page form demonstrating that they are engaged in a gainful occupation, or in voluntary work which contributes to the war effort or the public welfare; that they need a bicycle at least three days a week to travel to and from work, and that they did not sell a bicycle after April 2 this year.

JUGO-SLAV HIGH COMMAND IS SET UP IN HOMELAND

LONDON, July 10 (AP).—The Jugo-Slav military cabinet today announced its high command had been transferred back from Cairo to Jugo-Slavia and that the field commander of the 200,000 to 300,000 fighting patriots, Gen. Draja Mihailovitch, had been named chief of staff. He already is minister of war.

"It is a sign that the zero hour is approaching and that the high command is preparing the people of Jugo-Slavia to rise against the common enemy," the cabinet announcement said. The shift was ordered by King Peter, who is in Canada on a tour.

Despite material shortages the Jugo-Slav army has been increasing its raids against Italian, German, and Balkan occupying forces. The dual position of Gen. Mihailovitch gives him full military and administrative power, as well as command of the entire Jugo-Slav territory. The government said the appointment was unique because it probably is the first time in history that a war minister and high command were authorized to organize a campaign in occupied territory.

U. S. WOMAN GETS JOB OF WAITING ON DUTCH QUEEN

Lee, Mass., July 10 [Special].—Baroness van Boetzelaer, the former Ethel Carver Litchfield of Pittsburgh, Pa., whose forebear came to America on the Mayflower, has been appointed lady-in-waiting to Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands, the queen's secretary, George Vantets, announced today.

The baroness, an American who now lives in Washington, D. C., is the first citizen of this country to get such a job. Her husband, Baron W. van Boetzelaer, a member of the old Dutch nobility, is now an assistant to the Netherlands ambassador, Alexander Louden, after having held diplomatic posts in Rumania and Berlin.

The baroness is the daughter of the late Dr. Lawrence Litchfield, physician and civic leader of Pittsburgh. She was graduated from Vassar, went to Paris to study singing and there met and married the baron. They have been married about 20 years and have three children.

GETS 3 YEARS ON SEX CHARGE.

Judge Francis Borrelli in Domestic Relations court yesterday sentenced Walter Foster, 67 years old, 10310 Ogleaby avenue, to three years in the Bridewell on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of minors.

MORE WAR NEWS, GOOD OR BAD, IS GOAL OF DAVIS

OWI Chief Seeks to End Secrecy, Confusion.

BY HAL FOUST.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 10.—Elmer Davis this afternoon outlined his hopes, as director of the new Office of War Information, to give the public more war news, good or bad.

As a former newspaper reporter and radio commentator, holding his first press conference since his appointment by President Roosevelt on July 13, he indicated his aims to cut thru veils of secrecy and conflicting statements that are befuddling the public's conception of the state of the nation.

His interview, however, brought out barriers that face him. As an example, he cited the secrecy surrounding the current military trial of eight German saboteurs. Davis and Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson went to President Roosevelt on this issue yesterday, but today the trial was still continuing under the closest secrecy.

He Isn't Satisfied.

"The arrangement doesn't satisfy me," he said, "but it is the best that could be worked out. I most certainly favor publicity for the trial unless it might aid the enemy. The public would feel better if it were reported by an outside agency rather than by the presiding officer.

"I don't know enough about the evidence to have an independent opinion on whether publication would impair national safety. I believe the public will accept the judgment of the prosecutors on this point.

"I have proposed one man from each of three press associations, reporters accredited by the army and navy after investigations by the FBI. I also favored two photographers, one movie and the other still."

Communiques Excepted.

In his coördination of all war news from all governmental agencies, Davis said that exceptions will be the communiques from the navy and war departments. These services will continue to bulletin military operations. OWI will issue other army and navy news.

"The armed services will remain the judges of whether information would aid the enemy," Davis said. "However, they will consult with me regarding policy.

"I have not found any mood in the services to hold back bad news, just because it was bad. This office will never stand for that. The American people are entitled to full knowledge of what is going on, good or bad, as long as we are not aiding the enemy by giving out the information."

More News Promised.

"Do you think the people are entitled to some information about the Japanese occupation of the Aleutian Islands?" a reported asked.

"I've talked with the services about that," Davis replied, "and you're now getting more information and you'll continue to get more information about this operation."

"How about the battle between the army and navy for the credit in defeating the Japanese off Midway?" asked another correspondent.

"If such a situation arises again," Davies replied, "OWI would offer its services as a mediator and hope to harmonize them, perhaps."

Sub News Adequate.

"Do you think the navy is telling enough about submarine sinkings off the Atlantic coast?"

"In the few days I have followed them the navy announcements have been adequate, in my judgment. We don't want to advise the enemy to replace its sunk submarines."

In an open letter addressed to all federal departments and agencies, Davis wrote that it was his hope "to put an end to conflicting statements which confuse the public mind." Robert Horton, his chief of domestic news, cited as an example a statement from congressional sources that there are 10 million tons of rubber scrap in America. Horton said newspapers could have checked this statement against War Production board figures that total rubber imports for the last century were only 11 million tons.

'Harmonizing' on Rubber.

"Could the OWI harmonize the confusion on rubber that followed?" A reporter asked. "What would OWI have done when four federal officials issue a joint statement that the rubber situation is most critical and then the White House tells a press conference that there's hope for tires for ordinary automobiles?"

"We'll handle such a problem when it arises," Davis replied and, during general laughter, he ignored a further question of whether he hoped to harmonize White House utterances.

"Will you make available to American newspapers programs that our government is short-waving to foreign countries?" a reporter inquired.

"I don't know why we shouldn't," Davis replied. "Certainly there's nothing phony in the news we're broadcasting. The overseas story should be the same as the domestic story, Dr. Goebbels' theories nothwithstanding. There's nothing secret about our short wave broadcasts."

"They've been secret," his questioner insisted.

"I'm going to look into that."

In his coördination, Davis added one new face to the administration family of publicity men. He is Gardner Cowles Jr. of Iowa who was appointed assistant director in charge of all domestic operations of the OWI. He is president of the Des Moines Register and Tribune, president of Look magazine, vice president of the Minneapolis Journal, and president of the Iowa Broadcasting company.

TRIAL OF 8 NAZI SPIES ENDS 3D DAY OF SECRECY

'Volume of Evidence' May Prolong It.

Washington, D. C., July 10 (AP).—The military commission trying eight Nazis accused of coming here by submarine to sabotage war plants announced late today it had spent most of the day hearing the testimony of an FBI agent and reading documents.

The commission added that counsel for both sides had informed it that "the great volume of evidence to be introduced was expected to prolong the trial."

Proceedings will be resumed tomorrow, the statement by Maj. Gen. Frank R. McCoy, president of the commission, added.

Movies Taken by Army.

The statement follows:

"The commission opened the third day's proceedings at 10:27 a. m.

"Before the proceedings opened, the commission permitted the United States army signal corps to make photographs and silent motion pictures of the trial scene.

"Most of the day was taken up by the testimony of an FBI agent and by the reading of documents.

"Counsel for both sides stated to the commission that the great volume of evidence to be introduced was expected to prolong the trial.

"The commission will sit on Saturday."

Arrival Kept Secret.

Few of those connected with the trial were seen to enter the walled off area on the fifth floor of the justice department building, where the commission is sitting. Apparently the officials came thru a maze of inner offices or by private elevators.

War information officials continued their efforts to expand the information available to the public.

The first break in the barrier against publicity which was raised in the interest of national security came late yesterday with the issuance of two brief statements by Gen. McCoy.

The information was limited to a disclosure that the proceeding began with disposal of some "preliminary procedural motions," that seven witnesses testified during the first two days, and that all participants were sworn to secrecy.

Struggle to Get That Much.

It took a determined effort by Elmer Davis, OWI director, and a conference among President Roosevelt, Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson, and Davis to wrench that much loose.

An official who may have been familiar with prosecution plans prior to the trial, but who declined to permit use of his name, intimated that no more than a score of witnesses would be called.

Meanwhile, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover gave a strong implication that the persons who aided the men after they arrived in this country might be tried on treason charges. Some already have been arrested, but no official statement has been made.

NAZIS TAKE OVER FRENCH COPPER MINES IN SERBIA

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune.]

BERNE, Switzerland, July 10.—"Finis" was written this week to the history of the copper mines of Bor in Jugo-Slavia, so far as the French company operating them is concerned.

The Strasbourger Nachrichten has published a resolution of the board of directors transferring the headquarters of the company from Paris to Strasbourg and changing its name from "Compagnie Francaise des Mines de Bor" to "Bor Kupferbergwerke und Huetten Aktiengesellschaft."

The Bor mines rank among the most productive in Europe. The operating company was financed chiefly by French capital. When Pierre Laval in 1940 began "collaboration" with Germany, one sign was the transfer of the Bor mines from French to German interests. The Vichy government then advised French shareholders to sell their holdings. Rumors that Laval was personally interested in the deal never have been substantiated.

SEEK NAME OF MAN FOUND DEAD.

Police sought the identity of a man about 55 years old who was found dead of a heart ailment yesterday at Kenton avenue and Congress street.

WOMAN ARRIVES HOME FROM NAZI OCCUPIED LAND

Lucky, She Says of Trip from Lithuania.

"I was very lucky."

This is the only explanation Mrs. Aldona Bulota gave yesterday for the story of how she was able to return with her two small children from Nazi-occupied Lithuania. Mrs. Bulota said she and her children traveled across Europe swiftly and almost conveniently, once they had obtained passage on the liner Drottningholm.

She was greeted with a tearful "welcome home" yesterday by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rugis, 2025 Walton street, who had not heard from her in more than a year.

In Lithuania Since 1935.

Mrs. Bulota, an American citizen, had been living in Kaunas, Lithuania, since 1935, when she went there from the United States to marry Keistutis Bulota, an engineer. They had two children, Giedre, now 5, and Diana, now 3. In June, 1941, the Russians seized her husband and exiled him to Siberia. A few weeks later the Nazi tanks rolled into the town and she never heard from her husband again.

Smilingly, Mrs. Bulota declined to reveal how she obtained passage on the Drottningholm, after trying to get out of Lithuania since the German invasion.

"As soon as the Swiss government announced that I and my children were on the passenger list, arrangements were made for us to leave the country," she said. "We went by bus to Eydkan, a frontier town, then by train to Berlin. After a few days stopover, we were put on another train and went to the Spanish border. There the German police got on another train with us and accompanied us across Spain to Lisbon, where we embarked. On that last leg of the journey, the children were given berths.

All Europe Blacked Out.

"Between Lithuania and Spain we never saw even a pin point of light after sundown. The black-outs were perfect."

From talking to other refugees on the Drottninghoim Mrs. Bulota has concluded that the people of Denmark are better off than those of the other occupied countries. She also discovered that the residents of occupied France are better off than those in unoccupied France.

"It is hard to exaggerate conditions in Lithuania," she said. "The youths are shipped to Germany for forced labor, food and clothing are rationed, private enterprise is dead, personal liberties are nonexistent, and almost all the nation's raw materials have been siphoned by the Germans."

Mrs. Bulota explained the healthy appearance of her daughters by the fact that she had money and friends thru whom she was able to obtain enough food. She added, however, she was unable to buy a pair of shoes for Giedre during the last six months.

PREDICTS DEATH SENTENCES FOR 8 IN SPY TRIAL

Pekin, Ill., July 10 (AP).—Sen. Scott W. Lucas predicted tonight that the eight accused German saboteurs being tried by a military commission will be sentenced to death.

Speaking at a testimonial dinner honoring Robert Grant, who was appointed United States marshal for southern Illinois last December, Lucas said the nation must be on guard against subversive influences.

"One need only to look at the picture in Washington, where eight Nazi saboteurs are on trial for their lives before a military commission, to realize the danger that exists from within," Lucas said.

"From the evidence reported I am convinced that the gallows or firing squad await these spies."

FORMER PLANE WORKER TO FACE SABOTAGE COUNT

Baltimore, Md., July 10 (AP).—United States Commissioner James K. Cullen said today he had signed an order directing the removal of a man who gave his name as Leo Nicholas Geller to San Diego, Cal., to face a charge of sabotage.

Cullen said Geller, who is accused of wilfully making defective war materials at the Consolidated Aircraft plant in San Diego, waived removal.

FBI agents said Geller made defective rivets while employed at the California plant last year.

7 OCEAN NAVY BILL IS SIGNED BY PRESIDENT

Washington, D. C., July 10 (AP).—President Roosevelt signed legislation today authorizing the construction of 1,900,000 tons of additional combat ships and 1,200,000 tons of auxiliary vessels for the navy.

The new combat ship tonnage, raising to 5,649,480 the authorized strength of the navy, is expected to be in service by the end of 1946.

"It will give us the largest navy in the world," commented Chairman Carl Vinson [D., Ga.], of the house naval affairs committee. "It provides not only for a two ocean navy, but for a seven ocean navy, one that will win the war and keep it won."

Included in the new fighting ship tonnage, for which congress has appropriated $8,550,000,000, are 500,000 tons of aircraft carriers, 500,000 tons of cruisers, and 900,000 tons of destroyers and destroyer escort ships. Vinson said right of way would be given to construction of the aircraft carriers.

U. S. IMMIGRATION OFFICIALS TO QUIZ FORMER BUND AID

Hans Oehler, 42 years old, former secretary of the Chicago chapter of the German-American bund, was turned over to immigration authorities for investigation yesterday, a few minutes after a charge of failure to fill out his draft occupational questionnaire had been dismissed by United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker. The draft charge was dismissed after John M. Kiely, assistant United States attorney, told the court Oehler had complied with selective service rules. Oehler, who lives at 2668 Burling street, said he was born in Czecho-Slovakia and came to the United States in 1923. He filed a declaration of intention to become an American citizen in 1928, but failed to take further steps for citizenship.

GERMANS SEVER SOVIET RAILWAY NEAR DON RIVER

Russia Admits Enemy Takes Town of Rossosh.

number of planes was stalled on the west bank.

The German command used five infantry, four tank, and two motorized divisions to start the offensive from Kursk, 130 miles west of Voronezh, on June 28. Since then at least one more German infantry division, the first Hungarian infantry corps, several Hungarian cavalry squadrons and smaller numbers of Rumanian and Slovak troops have been poured into the battle to replace the appalling casualties, front line dispatches said.

Red Star told of hard hitting Russian counterattacks that "may have a serious influence over the position near Voronezh." The locale was not specified, but could be in the Orel sector, 165 miles to the northwest, where German accounts have spoken for days of a Russian offensive.

Tank Army Ready to Spring.

Marshal Ewald von Kleist, German commander before Voronezh, was pictured as poised with his fourth tank army on the west bank of the upper Don waiting to spring across if and when the eastern footholds were widened and secured.

The original crossings of the 500-700 foot wide Don were covered by heavy artillery fire and mass air raids. German planes bombed both the front lines and cities in the rear with formations of 20 to 25 craft. The Red air force stayed in the fight, downing 10 German planes in a day of duels over the Don. The Russians also bombed enemy pontoon bridges and barges and hammered at motor and mechanized columns.

Several German units which crossed the Don west of Voronezh penetrated the Russian line and were engaged in combat. The Red army's anti-tank artillery sprang into action, taking a heavy toll. Dispatches said the Germans drove wedges in several sectors but that efforts to broaden the field of operations were repulsed.

Edge Closer to Voronezh.

The battle, however, moved perilously close to Voronezh, which lies 10 miles east of the Don on the west bank of the Voronezh river, a tributary.

Russian tanks in one counterattack on the upper Don were reported to have rolled back the Nazis and seized several points. The Russian retreats appeared to have been in good order.

The German casualties were so severe that the Russians said Adolf Hitler was forced to "withdraw considerable forces from France and dispatch them to the east."

Take Offensive Near Lisitsi.

On the northwestern front, the Russians reported that the Germans had taken the offensive in the area of Lisitsi, which is near Kalinin, about 100 miles northwest of Moscow. It was the first mention of this locality in the Russian communiques, but previous Russian reports have told of increasing German activity on the northwestern front.

Most assaults around Kalinin were repulsed, but dispatches said the Germans employed tanks, planes, infantry, and cavalry to advance at some places. A column of 80 tanks progressed several miles along a road until counterattacks isolated the machines from supporting infantry and threw them on the defensive.

Whether the Germans were trying to make a major break thru there or merely straightening their lines was not clear. The Red army artillery was reported to be blasting broad gaps in enemy concentrations.

Pursuing Reds—Berlin.

BERLIN, July 10 [from German broadcasts]—(AP).—Russian forces in retreat are being pursued on a broad front in the south by German and German allied troops, the high command reported today.

"Local resistance was broken," a communique said. "Enemy attacks, supported by tanks, to relieve pressure northwest of Voronezh, broke down with heavy casualties.

"Strong formations of bombers and light bombers assisted in repelling the enemy's diversionary attacks and successfully attacked retreating soviet columns massed in large concentrations at some wrecked bridges."

Reds Repeat Attacks.

The Russians repeated their attacks north and northwest of Orel with strong infantry and tank forces, but were repulsed in a hard battle, followed by a German counterattack that "sealed off" local breaches the Russians had made, the high command said.

It listed the number of Russian tanks destroyed in the southern front fighting at 390.

On the central front, soviet forces encircled southwest of Rzhev in a rear area, tried and failed to break free, the German account said.

The DNB news agency reported that Russian forces had attempted to land from boats on the Kerch peninsula, at the eastern extremity of the Crimea, but the "attempt was recognized in time and frustrated by our coastal defense."

SOVIET BOMBERS STRIKE AT HITLER ARCTIC AIR FLEET

Russians Attack Bases in Norway and Finland.

MOSCOW, July 10 (AP).—Soviet bombing squadrons entered the battle of the Arctic sea lanes today. They struck in force at Nazi airdromes in Norway and Finland from which swarms of German planes have been raiding American-British convoys bound for Russia.

The counter action was in the Barents sea area, where a soviet submarine commander this week reported he had damaged the German superbattleship Tirpitz and forced it out of action against a big allied convoy.

Destroy 30 Planes.

Soviet dispatches said one Red air unit alone had destroyed 30 German planes on the ground at several Nazi airports and had damaged 27 others, in addition to burning a hangar and bombing a warehouse. The unit reported no losses of its own.

Russian sources expressed confidence that severe damage had been inflicted on the strong German air fleet which has been bombing ships at sea and attacking Murmansk and other Kola peninsula areas thru which arms and ammunition are flowing from the United States and Britain.

In another northern sea area—the southern stretch of the Baltic off the coast of Germany—the Red Baltic fleet and its air arm, operating far from base, carried out extensive raids.

Sink Three Transports.

Baltic warships were said to have sunk two transports and a tanker. Red Baltic planes also destroyed a German patrol boat and fired several other vessels. An enemy sea base also was raided, with a transport reported set afire and another broken in half.

Declaring the Russian submarine fleet to be a formidable force, the Communist party newspaper Pravda said that it had sunk more than 100 German transports in Barents, Baltic, and Black seas.

There was no more word here of the Tirpitz, last reported returning to a west coast Norwegian base with two torpedo wounds, accompanied by her escort of three cruisers and eight destroyers.

SANK 35 SHIPS: NAZIS.

German official sources, resuming their story of the latest convoy attack yesterday, said submarines and planes had sunk three more out of a fleet of 38 heavily protected British and American merchant ships, for a total of 35.

The Nazi high command said: "Of the convoy, which still consisted of three steamers with three destroyers and two escorts, all three steamers were sunk, two of them by submarines." Thus it sought to show that only three merchant ships escaped by running from the convoy.

The Germans also claim to have sunk a United States heavy cruiser in earlier attacks on the same convoy, all purportedly by aerial or submarine action. There has been no German claim to action by their surface warships, and the high command has denied that the Tirpitz was even attacked.

Germany's claim that 35 allied ships were sunk was termed "grossly exaggerated" by London sources. At the same time they admitted the Russian convoy problem would have to be reexamined by the united nations because of such attacks.

Friend of the Yanks

[The Friend of the Yanks department will answer questions about the draft and military service, both in the daily columns and by mail, if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are sent with the queries.]

M. G. S. asks: "Will the dependents of a man in service have to prove their dependency before receiving the allotments? How can the fact of dependency be proved?"

ANSWER: The allotment-allowance act established two classes of dependents: class A and class B. Class A includes wife, child, adopted or stepchild, illegitimate child, and a divorced wife who has not remarried and to whom allmony has been decreed by a court and is still payable. Class B dependents include one or both parents, grandparents, stepfather and/or stepmother, father and/or mother thru adoption, brother, sister, and, with certain restrictions, grandchild, stepbrothers, stepsisters, and brothers and sisters thru adoption.

Class A dependents do not have to prove dependency. They must prove relationship by means of marriage records, divorce decree, adoption papers, etc. Class B dependents must prove they are dependent upon a soldier for a substantial portion of their support, as well as their relationship to the man in service, by submitting, when required, affidavits from at least two reputable, disinterested persons attesting to the relationship and the degree of dependency. None of these steps can be taken, however, until the proper forms are made available Aug. 1 or later.

H. K. writes: "When my son was home on a furlough last March, just before going overseas, he told me that he had made me beneficiary of his insurance. Up to date I have received neither the insurance policy nor any notice of it. Can you tell me if I should write to my senator?"

ANSWER: It must be borne in mind that there is an enormous amount of clerical work involved in everything pertaining to the armed forces, including the issuance of insurance policies. Even tho a period of three months or more may elapse before any notice is received by the beneficiary, there is no need for concern. If, however, you wish to inquire about the policy write to the Director of Insurance, Veterans' Administration, Washington, D. C., giving the name of the insured, serial number, rank, organization, last known military address, and, if possible, the approximate date of applying for the insurance.

Mrs. L. E. writes: "I know I am not the only mother in the United States who has a boy in service, but I have not heard from my boy for over three months and I'm driven nearly crazy with worry. Can't you tell me how I can find my son?"

ANSWER: You have every reason to be anxious to hear from your son. Write to the adjutant general's office, Washington, D. C., giving your son's name in full, his serial number, rank, organization, and his last known military address. I am sure that the adjutant general's office will make every effort to aid you in locating your son, even tho you may not hear from the office for a week or so because of thousands of similar inquiries. Bear in mind that no news is good news—and even tho you haven't heard from him probably nothing has happened to him.

FINNS AND NAZIS BLOCK RUSSIAN INVASION OF ISLE

HELSINGFORS, Finland, July 10 (AP). — The Finnish high command today said that a Russian attempt to conquer Somerinsaart Island, about midway between Leningrad and Helsingfors in the Gulf of Finland, had been repulsed and that 16 swift soviet patrol and motor torpedo boats and a gunboat were sunk.

"Units of the German naval force had a predominant share in the struggles," which lasted two days, the communique said.

The Russians were reported repulsed by combined naval, air, and coastal defenses. The communique said 128 Russians were killed, 1,143 captured, and several hundred drowned.

An enemy submarine and another vessel were damaged. The Finns said they suffered no naval losses.

BRITAIN ALLOWS EXTRA SUGAR TO MAKERS OF JAM

LONDON, July 10.—Plans to control the price of this year's bumper crop of plums and an allowance of an extra pound of sugar with each ration book to encourage the people of Britain to make their own jam were announced by the ministry of food today. The ministry of agriculture announced also that only 25 per cent of the prewar acreage under flowers will be allowed after November and that consent of county agricultural committees will be necessary before fruit trees and soft fruits, with the exception of strawberries, asparagus, and flower seeds, can be planted.

MEN THAT 'KEEP 'EM FLYING' WORK HARD AT CHANUTE

Mechanics' School Busy Around the Clock.

BY JOHN THOMPSON.
(Pictures on page 6.)
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Chanute Field, Ill., July 10.—They came swinging down the concrete streets, arms moving in unison—thousands of young soldiers marching to the cadenced bark of squadron leaders. From the background came the martial strains of the Chanute band.

No rifles, no gun belts, no heavy packs, not even the accustomed olive drab of the army uniform. Instead these men marched with tan cardboard portfolios under their arms. They wore the olive green shapeless coverall of the aviation mechanics.

It was 2 p. m. of a hot day, and classes were changing at this training school of the Army Air Forces Technical Training command. The long ranks of soldier students took on deep meaning on this Chanute assembly line where the men who will keep the airplanes and pilots of the air force flying get instruction in their vital jobs.

Its Turnover Rapid.

Chanute Field is a link in a chain of schools of the technical training command and probably is the largest. Its enrollment is numbered in the tens of thousands. Its turnover is rapid and continuous, the different courses lasting from 5 weeks to 22 weeks.

Almost every hour around the clock its myriad facilities are in use, altho the individual men receive instruction only on a daily eight hour basis.

The young men are the highest type. They rank well up in army classification tests, and their school stands equally high, often being called the air force's "M. I. T." [Massachusetts Institute of Technology].

When You Say That, Smile!

If you were to address one of these intent young student mechanics as a "grease monkey" you might get a punch in the nose, provided no one was looking. The soldiers may use the term—but not the outsider. Theirs is a serious business.

This intense earnestness about work is evident everywhere, but no more so than in the countless classrooms where the coveralled soldiers closely follow instructors' explanations. Or in the row upon row of machine shops, or in the hangars.

In many ways the big field operates like a technical university, with the emphasis on classroom instruction—and safety.

Aim at Perfection.

Constant is the effort to produce perfection. Every man knows that upon him ultimately depend the lives of the men in the air. Hence the pride each takes in the motto of the command:

"Sustineo Alas," or, in a free translation, "I sustain the wings."

You discover that the greater part of the instruction is devoted to producing mechanics, machinists, welders, blacksmiths, and maintenance men.

But there are other sections. In the parachute rigging division hundreds are being instructed in the intricate and important art of packing parachutes properly. From time to time the men test these chutes by dropping them with dummies attached from planes.

Learn Weather Technique.

In the school's "weather bureau" others are learning to take proper weather observations with the theodolite, which looks like a surveyor's tripod and which watches the progress of trial balloons in air currents. Or it may be they learn to read an anemometer, the recorder of wind speeds, or in the instrument shelter they may be taking temperature readings and gathering other data.

Men with proper intellectual backgrounds take more advanced courses and qualify as weather forecasters. These will be the men, at air fields throughout the nation and overseas, who will correlate the facts garnered by the observers and determine their meaning in terms of flight conditions.

One young student learning the observer's craft was Pvt. William Ralph, 21 years old, Milwaukee, Wis., who used to work in Chicago as a lithographer. He always had been interested in weather and now he has his chance.

Finds Work Absorbing.

Pvt. Robert Greene, 22, New York City, a former Chicagoan, thought he had had enough of weather at work in a parking lot, but he's finding the business of weather prognostication with scientific instruments much more absorbing.

The youths' backgrounds are varied. In one wing of a hangar, where hundreds of men were busy learning the function of each gadget on a plane's instrument panel, a sample group of six men yielded two farmers, a night club dancer, a finance company employé, a laborer, and an instructor who had been a shipping clerk.

In the Link trainer department the visitor thinks for a moment that he has stumbled into a carnival with midget airplanes to delight youngsters. But the tiny "model" planes, gay in their blue, silver, yellow, and red and white trimmings, are mounted on delicate machines which put them thru the paces of a plane in flight.

These are used to train pilots to fly by instruments alone, a procedure they learn shut up inside their little plane, while they operate it in response to orders from the instructor.

From early morning until late at night lights are burning in the classrooms, in the hangars, and machine shops. They are the lights of a nation speeding its young men on the road to technical perfection, speeding them by the hundreds of thousands to fill the vast needs of the new army air corps and to "Keep 'Em Flying."

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: "In the Sweet Bye and Bye"

Decides to Report

[TRIBUNE Photo.]
Raymond F. Jarke and his wife, Rosetta.

Raymond Francis Jarke, 24 years old, who tortured himself in repeated attempts to escape army service, will don khaki within a month—at his own request.

A charge of failure to report for army induction was dismissed by United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker yesterday, after John M. Kiely, assistant United States attorney, told the court Jarke had decided to give in. He will report to local board 54 within a month.

Jarke, who lives at 2424 Huron street, was arrested June 25 after he underwent an unnecessary operation, burned and multilated his fingers, and took bromides to give himself a skin rash, to dodge war service.

ARMY URGENTLY NEEDS MOTION, STILL CAMERAS

Army spokesmen here yesterday made a second urgent plea for muchneeded still camera and motion picture equipment and requested owners to sell acceptable apparatus to the government immediately.

Cameras particularly needed include the Mitchell, Standard NC or BNC models, Bell and Howell standard rack-over type, and Bell and Howell Eyemo cameras, compact turret type, adapted for magazine motors.

Lenses needed include 25, 35, 40, 50, 75, 105, 153, 200, and 300 mm. types suitable for use on the Mitchell or Bell and Howell Eyemo professional 35 mm. cameras. Also desired are mattee boxes, magazines and accessories. All equipment will be tested by the army before it is purchased.

Owners are urged to send full descriptions stating age and condition and price expected to the signal corps photographic purchase board, 35—11 35th avenue, Long Island City, N. Y.

The navy repeated its request for citizens to lend binoculars for the duration of the war.

Two types of instruments are acceptable. They are Carl Zeiss or Bausch and Lomb, sizes 6 by 30 or 7 by 50. Binoculars should be tagged with the owner's name and address, carefully wrapped in a case and sent to the Naval Observatory, Washington, D. C. They will be returned after the war, navy officials said.

CHURCHILL GETS SHARE IN ESTATE OF SPORTSMAN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 10.—Prime Minister Winston Churchill will receive a bequest of $400 under the will of Sir Abe Bailey, wealthy South African sportsman whose estate in England, it was announced today, is valued at $2,038,528. The treasury will benefit to the extent of $714,460 in death duties.

In addition to his bequest to Churchill, Bailey left $400 each to the Duchess of Newcastle, Lord Londonderry, the Hon. George Lambton, fifth son of the heir of the second earl of Durham, and Reginald Day, a race horse trainer. His wifes income will be $40,000 yearly.

Bailey also left $2,000,000 in trust "for the advancement and strengthening and development of the South African people." Bailey died last August.

Speeder Gets 10 Days in Jail for Contempt

Paul Cappitelli, 20 years old, 2308 North Austin avenue, who first denied and then admitted he was arrested June 3 for speeding, was sentenced to 10 days in the county jail yesterday by Judge John Gutknecht in Traffic court on a charge of contempt. On Thursday Cappitelli admitted he was the driver of the car and was fined $200 for speeding.

WHY I DUCKED POLICE TRIALS, BY PRES. GEARY

Says He Lets Others Do the Work.

Joseph P. Geary, 4th ward Democratic committeeman, talking around a fat cigar, tried yesterday to explain why he had failed to preside over the gambling trials of four policemen recently before the city civil service commission, of which he is president. The police were acquitted and civic organizations are now demanding that Mayor Kelly reform the commission.

Geary was found by city hall reporters as he made for the street stairs from the second floor, cigar akimbo and obviously a man in a hurry—as soon as he saw the newspaper men. He tried to duck between them but the ranks closed. Mr. Geary then tried a flank movement and managed to make the first step of the staircase.

What Trials? He Asks.

"There are rumors," a reporter began, "that you let Commissioner Wendell Green preside because you didn't want to take the heat at the trials."

Geary switched the cigar from port to starboard and landed on step two.

"What trials?" he demanded.

"The gambling trials."

Back went the cigar to port and Geary descended to step four.

"O, I never preside at trials," he replied.

"Why not? You're a member of the commission."

The cigar completed a circle around the "O" of the commissioner's mouth this time, and finally, "But I'm the president; I'm the executive officer." Geary declared, and made the landing. Now he was halfway to the first floor.

Starts Down Again.

"What difference does that make?" his questioner insisted.

Geary swung round the post and started down again.

"Why as an executive, I never sit unless one of the commissioners is absent," the politician replied. With a spurt, Geary clattered down to the first floor and made for the La Salle street exist.

During the weeks that the trial of the policemen proceeded, the commission's president sat only twice, for brief intervals. Green conducted the hearings.

BOOK POLKA DOT GANG MEMBERS IN SALOON MURDER

The state's attorney's office moved yesterday to go before the grand jury later this month for indictments against two men and a woman accused of complicity in the Polka Dot Handkerchief gang's murder of Policeman Walter Storm.

Booked for appearance in Felony court Monday morning were Charlene O'Neil, 23 years old; Leo Piscopo, 21, an ex-convict, and Nicholas [Nick the Greek[Gianos, 20. Both men were accused of murder, with three charges of robbery also being made against Piscopo and two robbery charges against Gianos. The O'Neil woman, who was lookout for the gang when Storm was killed while fatally wounding Gang Leader Eugene Guzy in the tavern at 5143 North avenue Monday night, was charged with being an accessory before and after the murder and with two robberies.

Chief Justice Robert J. Dunne in Criminal court yesterday denied a habeas corpus writ sought for Miss O'Neil and Joseph and John Piscopo, Leo's brothers. The Piscopo boys were turned over to the United States marshal for violation of the national firearms act. Police still are hunting two other members of the gang, George De Pasquale, 18, and Anthony Muskal, 25.

ACUTE SHORTAGE OF MEN; SOLUTION CUTER BUTCHERS

Girl butchers may appear in Chicago meat markets this fall, altho no women are in training for these jobs yet, Patrick E. Gorman, president of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butchers' union, said yesterday.

Thus far the increasing drain upon man power has caused the union to permit more apprentices to work in the shops.

As the shortage becomes more acute butchers may become cuter, he said.

Ralph H. Burke Re-elected Head of Park Benefit Fund

Ralph H. Burke was reëlected president of the Park Employés Annuity and Benefit fund at the annual meeting of the trustees yesterday. He is chief engineer of the Chicago park district. Stephen D. Forst, assistant superintendent of employment, was reëlected secretary. The fund, which has assets of more than 12 million dollars, is for the benefit of the park districts 5,000 employés.

Army Takes Over Control of Civilian Travel to Alaska

San Francisco, Cal., July 10 (AP).—Control over civilian travel to and from Alaska passed into army hands today. An army permit will be required of every one leaving or entering the territory, under orders of Lieut. Gen. J. L. Dewitt, head of the western defense command.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Katherine Desborough Bacon.

Funeral services will be held Sunday for Mrs. Katherine Desborough Bacon in her summer home in Scituate, Mass. A resident of Chicago for 45 years, she was the widow of Edward R. Bacon, who died here in 1923 after many years in the grain business. Mrs. Bacon was widely known for her interest in musical affairs. Surviving her are a daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Pitkin of Scituate, and four sons, Raymond of Pasadena, Cal.; Edward of Chicago; John of Hermosa Beach, Cal., and Robert of Wellesley Hills, Mass.

Edward S. Lorenz.

Dayton, O., July 10 (AP).—Edward Simon Lorenz, 88 years old, a composer of church music, died today. Among hymns he composed are "Tell It to Jesus Alone," "Joy Cometh in the Morning," "The Name of Jesus Is so Sweet," and "Thou Thinkest, Lord, of Me."

Maj. Hippolyte L. Hardy.

Hartford, Conn., July 10 [Special].—Maj. Hippolyte L. Hardy, 86 years old, who had supervision of the burial of American soldiers who were killed in France during the World war and later of the removal of many of their bodies to America, died yesterday at the home of his son.

Mrs. Hannah A. Bowman.

Rockford, Ill., July 10 [Special].—Mrs. Hannah A. Bowman, 79 years old, mother of John S. Bowman, Winnebago county recorder, died at her home, 308 Paris avenue, this afternoon. She was the wife of John A. Bowman, former county recorder.

Caspar Warren Briggs.

Philadelphia, Pa., July 10 [Special].—Caspar Warren Briggs, 96 years old, one of the oldest living American photographers and a pioneer in the development of motion pictures, died today at his summer cottage in Atlantic City, N. J.

Richard C. Maguire.

Memphis, Tenn., July 10 (AP).—Richard C. Maguire, 38 years old, first pilot to fly a commercial air liner from New York to Chicago on radio beam alone, died in a hospital here today.

WEEKLY PROFITS AS BEGGAR BARED BY MOTHER OF 12

Systematic records of her begging profits were kept by the mother of 12 children who was arraigned yesterday before Judge Francis Borrelli in Domestic Relations court. For the week of June 1 she showed receipts of $22.41. One of the best weeks was that of last Sept. 1, with an entry of $30.79. She was arrested by police who saw her going from door to door on the far south side with one daughter, Helen, 7 years old.

"Come to my home and see if it isn't neat and clean," cried the mother, Mrs. Goldie Johnson, 39, of 58 West Grand avenue, "only don't take my children away."

Harry, 48, her husband, supported her plea, offering to go to jail himself. He said he recently gave up a factory job because it was too hard. He said he is a war veteran.

Judge Borrelli continued the hearing until July 22, pending investigation by social service workers. Six children ranging from 4 months to 19 years of age, live with the parents. One child is dead and five live elsewhere, including a son who is in the army.

$900,000 UNION FEE CASE UNPROVED, MASTER REPORTS

Master in Chancery Daniel A. Covelli filed a report in Circuit court yesterday holding that the plaintiffs in the accounting suit against Max Caldwell, former boss of local 1248 of the Retail Clerks International Protective association [AFL], and other union officials, had failed to prove their case.

The attorneys for the various parties were given until Wednesday to file objections to the report. Attorney Francis Heisler, who represents a group of clerks opposed to Caldwell's rule, said that he will file objections. "I think that we proved our case and will argue this before the court," he said.

The plaintiffs allege that Caldwell collected $910,000 in union dues from members and has failed to give an accounting. Only $62 was found in the union treasury when the suit was started. Caldwell, his brother Michael Pollack, and eight other officials were ousted from the union by AFL executives a year ago.

Chicago Boy Killed in Dive as Head Strikes Another's

Benton Harbor, Mich., July 10 [Special].—Lawrence Agnew, 14 years old, 2229 North Racine avenue, Chicago, was killed this afternoon in a swimming accident at a Paw Paw lake resort. When he dived from a springboard he struck his head against the head of Edward McInerey of Chicago, who was swimming below. McInerey was not injured seriously. Coroner Louis Kerlikowske said the Agnew boy's neck probably was broken. Young Agnew was a student in Lane Technical High school.

ASSAULTED BY 2 BANDITS.

James Stevens, 436 East 45th street, was assaulted by two Negroes in front of 2330 Prairie avenue yesterday. He told police that they fled without getting his money.

MOTHER, 2 GIRLS KILLED AS TRUCK SIDEWIPES AUTO

Husband, Son Injured in Crash.

A mother and two daughters were killed yesterday when the car in which they were riding was sidewiped by a truck and crashed into a ditch on United States highway 41, five miles north of Kentland, Ind.

Those killed were Mrs. Phyllis Caliendo of 1726 East 85th place, and her two daughters, Florence, 18 years old, and Julia, 16. The husband and father, Jack Caliendo, driver of the car, and a son, Jack Jr., 11, were injured.

On Way to Kentucky.

The family was en route to Moorhead, Ky., to visit Caliendo's brother, an army lieutenant.

Mrs. Mary Wadas, 81, of 947 Willard court, was found dead in Milwaukee avenue near Chestnut street. Police said she apparently had been struck by the car of a hit and run driver. A nephew told police the elderly woman, a widow, had started to Milwaukee and Devon avenues to seek employment as a farm worker.

Pvt. Victor Kuntz, 24, who was stationed at Fort Sheridan, died in St. Francis hospital in Evanston of injuries suffered on Wednesday when the stolen car he was driving sidewiped an abutment on Howard street near McCormick boulevard, ran thru a fence on sanitary district property, and crashed into another abutment. Police said the car had been taken from an auto lot at 2055 Howard street. Kuntz did not regain consciousness to explain how he obtained the car. His home was at 7327 Stewart avenue.

Soldier Killed in Stolen Car.

A man in soldier's uniform was killed when a stolen car which he was driving crashed into the rear of another car and rolled into a ditch. The accident occurred in Skokie road three blocks south of Winnetka avenue, Northfield. An army tag on the victim bore the name Charles Thompson and the number 6986067. He appeared to be about 40 years old.

Police said the car, owned by Martha J. Lucas, 5400 Chicago avenue, was reported stolen in Highwood at 11:20 p. m. The accident followed 25 minutes later. The car was driven into the rear of the automobile of D. Keuth, 1121 Dobson street, Evanston. It pushed Keuth's car several hundred feet, swerved out, continued 600 feet, and went into the ditch. With Keuth were his wife and a friend, R. Elden, 6517 North Richmond street. They were shaken up.

Soldier Dies in Collision.

John Kane, 28 years old, a soldier stationed at Fort Sill, Okla., was injured fatally when the car in which he was riding collided with another machine at South Chicago avenue and 75th street. Kane's home was at 7244 Cornell avenue. George McGill of 437 West 65th street, driver of the car in which Kane was riding, and Thomas Scott, 7120 Coles avenue, driver of the other machine, were injured.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 380 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 296 were killed in Chicago, where 10,747 were injured.

NORRIS, 81, FEELS HE'D BETTER HAVE STAYED A JUDGE

Washington, D. C., July 10 (AP).—Sen. George W. Norris [Ind., Neb.], paused today on the eve of his 81st birthday to reminisce about his 39 years in congress and speculated that perhaps he made a mistake in getting into politics.

"I believe I could have gotten more out of life if I had remained a judge out in Nebraska, and no doubt I could have stayed on the bench as I was getting along nicely," he told reporters.

The Nebraskan declared he originally was "pushed into" running for congress while serving as a District court judge in 1902.

His fifth six year senatorial term expires next January and he says he wants to quit public life. "I'm just too old," he explained.

Raft Collapses; Soldier and Brother-in-Law Drown

Alton, Ill., July 10 [Special].—Howard Naylor, 21 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Naylor of Alton, and Pvt. Edward Brunsworth, 21, of Jefferson Barracks, Mo., a brother-in-law of Naylor, drowned today in swollen creek waters near Kane. A makeshift raft they were riding collapsed.

New Weed Control Law to Take Effect July 23

City authorities said yesterday the weed control ordinance recently adopted by the city council will go into effect July 23. The ordinance provides that property owners must destroy weeds on their premises between July 1 and July 15 and again between Aug. 1 and Aug. 15.

BLACK LUNCHBOX CALLED PERILOUS BLASTING DEVICE

The black lunchbox found July 3 in the rear of 201 East Delaware place was described yesterday as one of the most dangerous infernal machines ever handled by the police department's crime laboratory.

Charles M. Wilson, laboratory head, who spent a week analyzing it, said that altho it contained no explosives, it was so wired that when attached to either dynamite or nitro-glycerin, it would set off an explosion if the box were merely tilted.

The box contained batteries and mercury fluid. It was discovered by John Alcayaga, Filipino delivery boy. Police said the FBI was investigating the possibility that the device was intended to be used in a sabotage plot.

Police Slaying of Suspect Held Justifiable Homicide

A coroner's jury held yesterday that the slaying of Arthur L. Dellinger, 54 years old, alias Edward Murray, by two policemen Thursday was justifiable homicide. Dellinger, who was wanted in Cincinnati, O., in connection with a shooting, was shot and killed by Sergt. Fred Crowley and Detective Charles McMullen when he resisted arrest in his flat at 6410 Minerva avenue. Dellinger had been working in Chicago for the last eight months as a private watchman.

2 FLYERS SAVED BY PARACHUTES IN ELGIN CRASH

Flight Instructor Leslie Smith, Sycamore, De Kalb county, and his pupil, Donald Schroeder, 250 Elm avenue, Barrington, parachuted to safety in a cornfield near Elgin yesterday when their training plane stalled and went into a dive from a height of 2,000 feet.

Donald Schroeder.

Smith and Schroeder leaped out of the Taylorcraft training ship from the Elgin-Kane airport after it had dived to 600 feet. The plane crashed in a herd of 30 Holstei ncows in a pasture on the Carl Schmittendorf farm 10 miles northwest of Elgin in Rutland township.

The aviators said that when they landed in the cornfield a farm hand working in the field looked up and waved, but kept on working. The crash was reported to the Civil Aeronautics authority.

FEATURE SONGS OF GERSHWIN ON W-G-N PROGRAM

Col. McCormick to Speak on Melody Hour.

A musical-dramatic presentation woven about a story behind the Russian folk song, "Dark Eyes," will be a highlight of the broadcast of America Loves a Melody over W-G-N and the Mutual network from 8 to 9 o'clock this evening. The dramatic sketch is based on a letter sent in by a listener who will receive $25 in cash as a reward.

George Gershwin Medley.

Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, will speak during the broadcast.

Marion Claire, soprano star, will be the featured singer. Thomas L. Thomas, baritone, will be guest soloist.

Miss Claire will sing "The Man I Love," during the presentation of a George Gershwin medley. She will sing "Meditation" from "Thais," with Michael Wilkomirski playing the violin. With Thomas she will sing the duet from Act II. of "La Traviata," and "The Lost Chord" by Sullivan. Thomas will sing Gershwin's "Song of the Flame," and "Can't You Hear Me Calling, Caroline?" Henry Weber will lead the orchestra and chorus.

Dramatic Reading.

Another feature of the program will be a dramatic reading by Selwin S. Schwartz, Chicago author, of his poem, "Sam Citizen."

Kenneth MacGregor will produce the show.

LEGION APPEALS FOR OLD RECORDS IN SOLDIER DRIVE

Cook county's 2,000 drug stores will be receiving stations for old and broken phonograph records which will be collected by the American Legion in a 17 day drive which starts July 17, Arthur E. Canty, commander of the Cook county council of the Legion, said yesterday.

Canty completed arrangements for the collection organization with John M. Myers, executive secretary of the Chicago Retail Druggists' association In addition, a house to house canvass for old records will be conducted by 62,000 members of Legion posts and auxiliaries in the county.

Proceeds from the drive, which has a national goal of 37½ million discs, will be applied to buy new records for phonographs in military posts and camps. A nonprofit agency, Records for Our Fighting Men, was organized early in June by Lynn U. Stambaugh, national commander, and such entertainers as Kay Kyser, Kate Smith, and Gene Autry.

NEW YORK SHOW FOR SERVICE MEN WILL GO ON CBS

Entertainment from New York's Stage Door Canteen, which provides free meals, relaxation, and fun for 25,000 soldiers, sailors, and marines every week, will be broadcast regularly over CBS at 8:30 p. m. Thursdays, starting July 30.

Listeners will have an opportunity to compare the entertainment on this show with that on Chicago at Night, which is presented at 10:15 weeknights over W-G-N from the Chicago Service Men's Center which accommodates at least as many fighting men as New York's Canteen.

The sponsor of the new radio series will donate $2,500 weekly to the support of the Theater Wing, which directs canteens for service men in New York, Philadelphia, and Dallas. Scheduled tentatively to run for two years, the shows are expected to make available a quarter of a million dollars to help establish canteens in other cities.

ANASTASIA, $1,500, AND FRIENDSHIP VANISH TOGETHER

It was a girl named Anastasia who ended the friendship of John O. Annios, 47 years old, 5829 Kenmore avenue, and John Gavalas, 27, of 4911 North Washtenaw avenue, both Greeks and former wrecked shipmates, Gavalas explained yesterday in Felony court.

Gavalas told Judge William V. Daly he had served on three merchant ships that had been torpedoed, and decided it was time to settle down and marry an American girl. He told his plans to his friend Annios, who had served with him on the second ship, he said, and sent $1,500 to Annios on his word he had found a girl named Anastasia to marry.

Gavalas said that when he arrived in Chicago last Easter for his wedding, Annios had neither his money nor the girl, so he filed a charge of embezzlement. Annios denied the charge, and Judge Daly continued the hearing until July 23 when Annios will give his version.

WOMAN FOUND GUILTY IN $15,000 CON GAME TRIAL

Judge Harold G. Ward in Criminal court yesterday found Mrs. Carole Dixon, 35 years old, 6930 South Shore drive, guilty of operating a confidence game that fleeced Mrs. Bertha Niebert, 65, of 5808 Lake street, out of $15,000.

Overruling a defense motion for a new trial, the court set July 22 for sentence. The maximum penalty is 1 to 10 years imprisonment.

Mrs. Niebert, widow of a former St. Louis meat packer, testified that she lent Mrs. Dixon money when the latter told her she had lost her last $10 on a horse race. After lending Mrs. Dixon other sums, Mrs. Niebert said that on Thanksgiving day, 1940, she arranged to invest funds in a coal mine and theater in Brazil, said to have been owned by Mrs. Dixon's brother. The defense contended the money was a loan and was to be repaid.

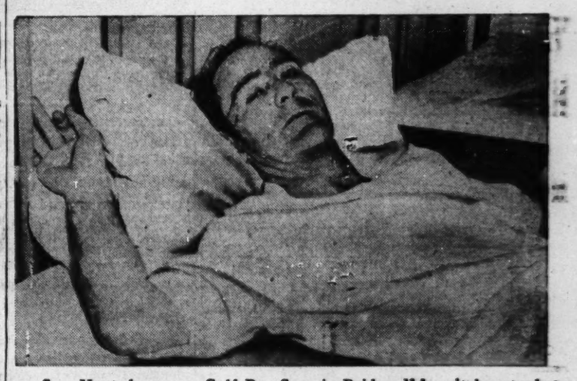
Gangster Gives Up in Shooting



Sam Hunt, known as Golf Bag Sam, in Bridewell hospital yesterday after he was seized in fatal shooting. He had a bullet wound in thigh and cuts on his face. [TRIBUNE Photos.]

Hyman Godfrey, who was with Hunt when one Negro was killed and another wounded.

GOLF BAG SAM, WOUNDED, GIVES UP AT HOSPITAL

Sought for Shooting of Two Negroes.

"Golf Bag Sam" Hunt, former Capone gangster, appeared at the Jackson Park hospital yesterday for treatment of a bullet wound in the thigh and was arrested immediately for the shooting last Sunday of two Negroes, one of whom died of his wounds.

Hunt said he was shot by one of the Negroes, and he showed several scars on his face, which he said had been made by one of the Negroes. The slain man was Mike Wade, 54 years old, a houseman of 570 Arbor Vitae road, Winnetka. When he was shot he was with his wife, Hilda, and James and Mary Baxter, also colored. Baxter was shot in the hip.

Quarrel Over Traffic Brush.

The shooting occurred at Cermak road and Indiana avenue, after a quarrel over a traffic brush. Hunt had been sought by the police since the shooting.

In the Bridewell hospital Hunt told his story to Capt. Thomas Duffy of the central station, Capt. Daniel Gilbert of the state's attorney's office, and David Leeds, an assistant state's attorney.

According to Hunt, he and his chauffeur, Hyman Godfrey, 34, of 1330 Hyde Park boulevard, stopped for a traffic light after their car had brushed the Negroes' machine. Hunt said he got out to see if any damage had been done and was assaulted.

Tells of Grappling for Gun.

One of the Negroes had a gun, he said, and as they grappled for it the weapon was discharged and he was wounded. Hunt said Godfrey then drove him to St. Luke's hospital, but he did not enter. He called a cab, drove to Crete, then walked to the Lincoln Fields race track, and stayed in a stable there until yesterday, when he decided to get medical attention, according to his story.

This account was supported by Godfrey, but disputed by the Negro witnesses, who said Hunt provoked and did the shooting. Hunt got his nick name of Golf Bag Sam when he was seized in 1930 with a shotgun in a golf bag.

G. O. P. DECIDES TO INDORSE FULL PRIMARY SLATE

Gov. Heil Bids for 3d Term Approval.

BY FRED GRAFF.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Wausau, Wis., July 10.—The Wisconsin Republican convention, moving with surprising speed, tonight adopted without roll call a resolution to endorse a full slate of candidates for the September primary election before adjourning tomorrow.

This action by the 1,450 delegates from Wisconsin's 71 counties came quickly after Thomas E. Coleman of Madison, former member of the Republican state finance committee and leader of the endorsement movement, blocked a motion to adjourn the afternoon session without hearing a report from the committee on rules, which had the indorsement resolution under consideration.

The committee's rule No. 7, as read by its chairman, Robert C. Bassett of Green Bay, declared that the convention shall endorse one candidate for each of the five state constitutional offices.

Koch Coup Shouted Down.

An attempt to defeat the rule on the floor was led by Herbert Koch of Milwaukee's 4th congressional district, but he was shouted down without a roll call. Koch proposed that the rule be stricken, that the convention make no endorsements, and that Republicans hold a completely open primary election.

The only other delegate to speak on the endorsement resolution was William J.

SATURDAY, JULY, 11, 1942.

WE'RE GOING BACK TO BATAAN!

THREE BAD GUESSES.

1. "Reducing the consumption of cheese to make more of this food available to the British is a real contribution the average citizen can make. Many families can substitute other foods for their ordinary cheese purchases and do this without lowering in any way the nutritive value of their diet."

That is a statement made by Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard in June, 1941. The farmers of Wisconsin didn't like it. Wisconsin produces not only more cheese than any other state, but more than all the other states combined. Wisconsin farmers had been engaged in a campaign to get people to eat more cheese for many years. They had expanded their production to meet the increase in demand. Having told people why they should eat more of their product, they didn't like it when the secretary of agriculture urged people to eat less. But as late as the middle of May, Wickard was urging farmers to produce more and more cheese.

Late in May, the secretary discovered his mistake. Instead of there being a shortage of cheese, he found a huge surplus. He is now appealing to people to eat more cheese. If you have been in the habit of eating one piece of cheese with your apple pie, he says, it is now your patriotic duty to eat two. If you changed your diet as a result of his plan last year, well, change it right back, and help him and the Wisconsin cheese industry to solve the problem created.

In an address last Monday in Mexico City Mr. Wickard declared that "by the end of this year it will be difficult for citizens of the United States to purchase anything beyond the essentials of living." Maybe so—or is this another cheese forecast?

2. Early this year Leon Henderson declared that 50 pounds of paper came into the average house each month and every family in America would have to turn back 50 pounds of waste paper each month to meet the needs of war. The people responded, but within a few months they had turned in so much paper that there was no place to store it. Henderson's figures didn't stand up 90 days. Henderson had to call off the Boy Scouts.

3. Some bright boys in Washington figured that there wasn't going to be enough sugar to go around; and so Mr. Henderson put the country on rations. Now we have a sugar problem, but it is where to find warehouse facilities for the excess quantities made available by the cut in consumption. Some southern sugar refiners have had to suspend operations because there isn't enough space in the warehouses usually used. A Colorado sugar company, headed by Marriner S. Eccles, a government official, has found it necessary to reduce payments to sugar growers because with the rationing last year's production couldn't be sold.

For more than a year, government officials have been crying out that there would soon be shortages of many kinds of goods. These forecasts, widely published, led to a boom in the retail business. The forecasts continue, but consumers do not respond as before. Why? Because they acted on the previous shortage scares by providing for their requirements for a long time to come. The dollar volume of retail business is sharply off from a year ago. Meanwhile, merchants and manufacturers have larger inventories than ever before. With vast supplies on every hand, the talk about severe shortages by the end of this year is hard to believe. The forecast record of such men as Wickard and Henderson doesn't make it any easier.

LAGGARD NEW YORK.

July 9 was a date of some historical interest, particularly in New York, but it was not celebrated there or anywhere else. It is the date on which New York finally got around to approve the Declaration of Independence—a week after all the other colonies had done so in Philadelphia on July 2. The other 12 colonies had cast their votes unanimously in favor of the Declaration, but the New Yorkers in the continental congress said they lacked instructions. Again on July 4, when the document was signed, the New Yorkers still lacked instructions. Indeed, the instructions never came.

Adm. Howe and the British fleet had reached Sandy Hook from Halifax on June 19. The provincial congress thereupon skedaddled to White Plains to meet on July 2. A week later, after the Declaration had been received joyously everywhere, the New Yorkers had so far recovered their composure as to listen to a reading of the document and order it published "with beat of drum." New York has always been good at that.

New Yorkers fancy themselves as supreme patriots, but they have a record of lagging behind the procession. They were slow to approve the Declaration, they were reluctant to ratify the Constitution, they rioted against the draft in the Civil war, and latterly they have been falling behind their quotas in this war. They talk about the indifference of the middle west to the war as if New York were leading the nation in enlistments, bond and stamp sales, rubber collection, and kindred activities. In these particulars, as in many others, the interior of the country has generally exceeded its quotas and New York is, as usual, lagging behind.

THE ORACLES EXPLAIN THE MARKET.

At his press conference on Tuesday the President was asked whether he thought that standards should be set up to guide the War Labor board. The President said the answer was yes and no. When a reporter wanted to know whether a wage increase in the steel industry would upset the inflation program, Mr. Roosevelt said it would be a factor. Pressed for a more definite answer, he said that the questioner had gotten down to kindergarten stuff.

The ordinary man would conclude from this that the President didn't care to declare himself on the question of stabilizing wages, a step which has to be taken according to Price Administrator Henderson if prices are to be kept down. But what was a fog to the ordinary man was all clear to some stock market commentators. They said that Mr. Roosevelt meant it to be known that government agencies like WLB would not be awarding any more pay boosts. These commentators explained the stock market rise of the last two days to the elimination of the fear that rising wages would produce inflation.

As usual the oracles cannot agree. Another group of writers attribute the market rise to the action by the senate on Tuesday in passing a bill to increase to parity the amount the government would lend on six leading farm products—corn, wheat, cotton, peanuts, rice, and tobacco. Passage of this measure would bring about a further rise in the commodity price level. It therefore increased the prospect of inflation and stocks were bought as hedges against rising prices.

So the cause of the rise of stocks during the last two days to the highest level in nearly six months is perfectly clear. It was due to developments which led some people to believe that inflation is coming, and others to believe that it wasn't.

RELIEF FOR LITTLE BUSINESS.

The War Production board, with power of life and death over all business, has for the first time, thru one of its officials, directed its constructive attention to the plight of small business. The WPB in the past has occasionally taken note of the small business man, but not often favorably. The board's job is to produce material of war, and altho some concessions have been made in spreading subcontracts and permitting the small manufacturer a wider margin of costs, the general attitude has been that use of small business on war contracts is uneconomic.

Now Mr. Philip D. Reed, chief of the WPB industries branch, appears before the house small business committee to assert that something must be done at once if 24,000 small industrial enterprises are not to be forced to shut down before Oct. 1. THE TRIBUNE foresaw the problem many months ago and urged that appropriate action be taken. It is rather late in the day to be organizing a rescue expedition, but if there is a prompt and sincere effort the business structure of the nation may yet be preserved.

Congressional action to aid small business hitherto has been confined to the attempt to bring more small enterprises into war production and to give specific relief to certain businesses, such as the automobile dealers whose stocks have been frozen. Mr. Reed's suggestion of subsidies to tide over businesses that are now suffering attrition is less promising than his proposal that a concerted effort be made to divert enterprises to new lines of civilian production or to obtain material so that those in nonmilitary lines may escape extinction.

It is probable that nearly all small manufacturers who can convert to war work have done so by now. The number that could has never been placed above 45,000 out of a total of 184,000 manufacturers in the nation. This total is but a small percentage of the entire group of 2,750,000 enterprises which classify as small business. More than 2½ million of these are retail or service establishments, now struggling under price regulations. For those hardest pinched, Mr. Reed admits, no relief is in prospect.

The problem of helping the approximately 139,000 small manufacturing units which are excluded from war production has always been to permit them to obtain sufficient materials to produce consumers' goods. Materials shortages continue to affect many fields of war production, and the WPB has shown little disposition to allot even marginal amounts of materials to the smaller enterprises, even if the alternative were that they would be forced to close down. The debate on small business aid has largely avoided this issue, but it would seem that the issue now has to be faced.

If a large segment of small business faces materials starvation, the national economy is going to come out of the war different from anything we have known. Mr. Reed has drawn the picture of "thousands of small communities" deprived of all future. The outlook was presented in even more drastic terms by the Temporary National Economic committee when it studied the effects of industrial centralization. "It is quite conceivable," the TNEC report said, "that the democracies might attain military victory over the aggressors only to find themselves under the domination of economic authority far more concentrated and influential than that which existed prior to the war."

Rep. Hale Boggs of Louisiana put the prospect in these terms: "The small independent concern has been the foundation of our democratic form of government. The men who run these concerns are the leaders in our civic organizations, in our local governments, in our churches, in our schools, and in every worthwhile community movement. To destroy these organizations and the independence of spirit they represent is to establish in America a system of regimentation which has many of the characteristics of the totalitarianism which we are giving our lives and treasure to defeat."

Guns, tanks, and shells are necessary to defeat fascism, but small business is necessary to preserve democracy.

Editorial of the Day

LINCOLN'S ANSWER.

[Cleveland Plain Dealer.]

The Civil Liberties union has joined the Congregational church in deploring the mass evacuation of Japanese-Americans from the Pacific coast. At the outset of the American rebellion Abraham Lincoln took cognizance of this same ideological conflict in a democracy. In his special message to congress on July 4, 1861, he said:

"This issue embraces more than the fate of the United States. It presents to the whole family of man the question whether a constitutional republic or democracy—a government of the people by the same people—can or cannot maintain its territorial integrity against its own domestic foes. . . . It forces us to ask: 'Is there, in all republics, this inherent and fatal weakness? Must a government of necessity be too strong for the liberties of its own people, or too weak to maintain its own existence?'"

How Abraham Lincoln answered that question is on the record. In time of war a democracy to survive must shift its attention from protection of the individual to protection of the whole. For the individual has no protection if the whole is destroyed.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. Reg. U.S. Pat. Office

MR. PEPYS VIEWS WITH ALARM.

11th July—Went to the auction of pictures at the Auditorium hotel, hoping to pick up an old master for a song, and found things going at fancy prices but no masterpieces in sight. Anything big, with a frame costing $1.50 per foot, according to the auctioneer, would be bid in for $100 or more, and I wondered what people do with such white elephants. Small prints and drawings, actual value from 50 cents to $2, would be grabbed for $10 and $20.

Looked at the tableware, hoping to find a quaint and choice wine glass I could buy as a keepsake, for maybe 25 cents, but nothing pleased my eye and everything was selling in lots, such as item, 269 glasses, and item, 341 cups and saucers. Thought the auctioneers should have had a department of small objects for souvenir hunters on a basis of "Take your pick and carry it away now for $1."

Soon the mighty building, once a citadel of the best in Chicago life, will be as empty as the plundered tomb of a forgotten Pharaoh, and altho the good citizens who have been trying to save the opera house have not abandoned hope, I fear this war has defeated them. If it is torn down, Michigan avenue will look as if it had lost a front tooth.

Went to dine at the Cliff Dwellers club, from which members had been banished for two weeks because of redecorating, and found there a miracle. The new decorations were approved by everybody, for the first time in the history of club life. Usually new decorations cause old members to talk of revolution.

Learned there the true story of the death of Claude Debussy, the Siamese cat, alleged to have committed suicide by jumping off the balcony. This he did not do. He made a mad dash across the lounge and dining room, merely for fun, and accidentally hit a wall with fatal results. Learned also that his Siamese successors, Longtail and Mew, had been exiled for clawing the drapes into ribbons. I think the spirit of change is working overtime like a clumsy apprentice around this town, and every day in every way life isn't what it used to be.

THE LAST LEAF.

The old man is dead, then, did you say?
Well, no doubt it's the better way—
Old and living alone there in the woods
With no kith and kin or worldly goods,
And no woman's hand to do a lick
Or wait on him when he took sick . . .
The County found him sitting there
Waiting the end in his Windsor chair,
Wasted and gaunt and hollow-eyed,
Nothing left but his steadfast pride.
He gave us good-day and got to his feet
With a courteous gesture to his seat.
His clothes were shabby and worn, O, yes,
But patched and clean as a woman's dress.
The things I'll remember the longest while
Are the sweetness of his patient smile,
The whispered, gentle, "I thank ye,"
And the humble desire not to be
"A mite of trouble to you folks"—
He had the dignity of his oaks.
No one to bid him Godspeed at the end
But Somewhere Lincoln is greeting a friend,
And the pioneers, a goodly band,
Are crowding close to grasp his hand.

A Scandal in the Heavens.

I glean from the daily press that the University of Chicago astronomers have just found a comet that has been lost for 13 years.

That is most astonishing. I recall that some years ago a fellow lost the Purdue bass drum and all the world marveled; but that any one could lose a comet seems preposterous.

Apparently, the University of Chicago savants were quite chagrined about it, too. Else, why did they remain silent about it for 13 years? Why didn't they admit it was lost at once? Had their comet watching staff been on a binge? Don't you think there should be an inquiry? You know our supply of comets is pretty low just now, and when one gets away we should be told about it.

The savants came out with a pretty lame excuse about the whole thing. They blamed it on Jupiter. Said he had deflected it. Well, why don't they tell us why and how he deflected it? Jupiter wouldn't deflect anything unless it was monkeying around on Venus' front porch. Was that the case? If so, that would be a real yarn. Did Jupiter grab it by the tail, swing it around his head a couple of times and let fly?

There's a whole lot the University of Chicago boys aren't telling. Jake Irmiter.

LAD IN UNIFORM.

Ah, ten times lovelier now this land I leave
Reveals itself to every sense I own!
Till now, I never guessed the heart could grieve
So much to part at last from its hearthstone
Of old, familiar ways and means and ends:
Books on the shelf and faces at the door,
Firelight and laughter, friendship and all the trends
Of custom that shall come, perchance, no more!
Land of my wild and sudden love, O grant me
To prove that love, where'er my future lead,
As one of hero-stuff! Charge and enchant me
To grace thy dearness in my every deed—
And if to die my lot be, let fame's splendor
Rest golden on my grave as thy defender!

Ancient History Becomes Modern.

See Herodotus, book IV., 181, for a description of the oasis of Ammon, now Siwa, in Egypt, with its wonderful spring whose water is, or was, warm in the early morning, cold at midday, warm at sunset, and boiling at midnight. This ancient Greek historian is a mine of entertaining information concerning the present African theater of war. Hermann S. Ficke.

Add "Quaint Old Town" [July 6]: Look southeast from the restaurant in the Medical Arts building and you will see the "round, squat turret, dark as a fool's heart" of Browning's poem about Childe Roland. But there is light inside, for it is the Planetarium. C. M. S.

WHAT TO LOOK FOR IN INDIGESTION.

DISTRESS in the region of the stomach has a meaning. If it occurs at a given hour after eating, we may think of ulcer. But the type which comes and goes, and which bears no particular relation to mealtime, concerns us at the moment. After all, this is the most common symptom of indigestion—about which something should be done.

For weeks or months perhaps the patient has been complaining of a slight squeamishness—even nausea. It may be accompanied by loss in weight or failure on the part of appetite. Many a victim will remark, "If I can experience a good belch, I will feel quite all right." This explains why so many resort to soda tablets.

As a rule, the physician will be able to dismiss a possible peptic ulcer and the diagnosis will point directly to a fairly general irritation of the lining of the stomach. If the condition has persisted for a few months the chances are that large quantities of glairy, sticky mucus have been poured out by the gastric glands. In addition, considerable atrophy of the velvetlike lining membrane will have taken place. In consequence, the secretion of hydrochloric acid may drop below the standard level.

What ensues? Food will not digest properly because it cannot mix with the dissolving fluids. The output of the glands may be small in quantity or lack some essential property. A loathing for the most attractive edibles and general malaise follow.

What are the causative factors and how can they be remedied? First of all we must look to the mouth. Foul conditions in this area may be pouring toxic material into the stomach from bad teeth, tonsils, or draining sinuses. Inflammation within the "bread basket" is a natural sequence. Suggestion No. 1 then is good oral hygiene with the routing out of all nests of bacteria.

Because the patient is half starved [he is afraid to eat because of discomfort] we can reinforce a bland regimen with vitamins A, B complex, and C. Drinking two to three glasses of warm to hot water before breakfast assists in washing away much of the thick mucus which has collected during the night. If this is not effective it may be necessary to irrigate the pouch two or three times weekly.

In the matter of diet we have only to recall that almost any article of food may be responsible for pain. But, starting with tiny portions, the crippled organ can regain its ability to handle sizable amounts. Feedings of two or three ounces every two hours will give the structure enough to do without adding to its troubles. Five such rations per day, increasing the quota gradually until the sufferer is taking between 2,000 and 3,000 calories, is a helpful procedure.

A useful drink is carbonated water. The cleansing effect of such solutions is well known. Physicians occasionally recommend the addition of a teaspoonful or two of hydrogen peroxide in a third of a glass of warm water.

Of course, gastritis should not be allowed to develop. With a little more attention to balanced meals, with the avoidance of the excessive use of condiments, and the cultivation of mental poise, we can forestall these episodes. Certainly they are observed more frequently with those who are constantly on edge, or who are burning life's candle at both ends.

STARTING RIGHT.

C. T. P. writes: Is it healthful to exercise before breakfast?

REPLY.

If every one would spend 10 to 15 minutes in setting up exercises before breakfast, we would have fewer physical breakdowns. If a quick shower can follow, so much the better. Appetite will be enhanced and, regardless of the war news and the weather, the day will seem brighter.

Mrs. K. B. writes: Altho my teeth seem to be in good shape my gums are receding. Does this mean anything?

REPLY.

It may point to or precede pyorrhea. Consult your dentist.

E. D. writes: Is leg makeup injurious, if used every day?

REPLY.

Not unless the materials employed cause irritation. Apply the lotion evenly lest mottling submerge your glamor.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscripts can be returned. Space for letters is obviously limited. Incoming mail far exceeds it. If a letter is not printed, attribute it to lack of room. Address letters to Voice of the People, THE TRIBUNE.

WAITING FOR A LETTER.

Chicago, July 8.—Mr. McCutcheon should be complimented for his cartoon today, "One of the Hardships of War." THE TRIBUNE has been successful in many movements for the welfare of the armed forces, so I suggest that to build morale every office set aside a 15 minute period one day each week for writing letters to the boys who were employed and have left for service. W. S. MURPHY.

Oak Park, Ill., July 8.—I wish to compliment you on the splendid cartoon today. THE TRIBUNE did a real service to the boys, as the poor fellows thousands of miles away from home are heartbroken when there is no mail for them. Only those who have gone thru it can fully understand the value of such a splendid cartoon. I can see myself sitting there in France when most of the boys got mail, and I was without any because my mother was very sick at that time and all the rest seemed to be too busy to write to me. I can never forget how bad I felt those days.

C. J. EUTENEUER.

Chicago, July 8.—Many thanks to Mr. McCutcheon for the wonderful colored cartoon today showing a soldier who received no mail from home. I know it will inspire many relatives and friends of our boys in the service to write more often. My son is in foreign service and is very happy about his Tribune subscription. Each issue is just like a letter from home. WALTER A. CARLSON.

Chicago, July 8.—Your colored picture, "One of the Hardships of War," is very true. Yet how about the ones who are left at home when these boys leave them? They, too, wait for a letter. Why not also print a picture of a mother who waits daily for word from her boy?

I wish you could see my mother. Every day it is the same—a trip to the window, watching the mailman at 8, again at 11:30, and again at 1:30 in the afternoon. This has been going on for two weeks and will continue until she hears from her son. READER.

SAYS HE SPONSORED A PHONY.

Chicago, July 7.—In a letter to the editor Ben Benson [King of the Hobos] complains of Bughouse square. I have introduced two other hobo kings, Jeff Davis and Leon Lazarawitz, who is now in the Canadian army. The Bughouse square crowds are decidedly heavy for the second front and highly intellectual. They "booed" Benson because they felt he was "phony" and had no genuine interest in the welfare of America. Bughouse square is one of the great educational centers in Chicago. I have been speaking there for 40 years and never was booed or bothered. Even the police have always permitted me to have my say.

BEN L. REITMAN.

AN OLD FAVORITE BACK

Chicago, July 7.—During THE TRIBUNE'S anniversary celebration I wrote requesting to see Ching Chow reappear in THE TRIB, and yesterday the philosophical Chinaman once more was present after about 16 years of absence. I take this as an occasion to thank THE TRIBUNE for printing Ching Chow. E. J. H.

PREMISE AND CONCLUSION.

Wichita, Kas., July 7.—When considering social problems, perfectly sound premises are frequently followed by conclusions which are anything but sound. Here are a few familiar illustrations: The greatest good for the greatest number is desirable; therefore the government should take from those that have and give to those in need. Higher wages are desirable; therefore enact a minimum wage law and encourage all strikes for higher pay. Prosperity brings shorter hours of labor; therefore make it a crime to employ a man more than 40 hours a week. Farmers provide food for sustaining life; therefore billions of dollars in subsidies should be paid to agriculture. Low rents are desirable; therefore let rentals be frozen at rates which prevailed in depression periods. Education is desirable; therefore the government should appropriate hundreds of millions of dollars for the college education of impecunious youths.

It will immediately be interjected that the above suggestions are not only fantastic but are unconstitutional and therefore not to be considered. They were unconstitutional in the horse and buggy days of Grover Cleveland, but a revolution has taken place since then.

HENRY WARE ALLEN.

WANTS PRISON LABOR USED.

Evanston, Ill., July 3.—The ruling by Attorney General George F. Barrett that prison industries are barred by state statute from producing goods for the war effort is, to my layman's opinion, a questionable ruling which contradicts our national government's declaration that nothing, either by state statute or local ordinance, shall be done to impede the war effort. Hair splitting interpretations of law contributed to the demise of the Spanish republic, the French republic, is now shaking the English nation, and now are working to our own disadvantage as evidenced by Attorney General Barrett's ruling that current idle labor in our detention institutions may not be used to help us fend off attacks against our republic. ALBERT KLINGER.

SAVED PHOTO OF OLD GLORY.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., July 4.—It may interest you to know that we are displaying a copy of the Flag day color photo from THE TRIBUNE of June 14 on the S. S. W. D. Rees—one of the Great Lakes merchant marine fleet. When the writer picked up a copy of THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE about two weeks ago at the Soo locks and noticed Old Glory, the thought immediately came to his mind, this must not go in the waste basket. Hence, with the help of one of the officers, a frame was rigged up in the cabin hall, next to the mail box. Nothing like the Stars and Stripes can stir our patriotism in these turbulent days. N. H. HEIBERG.

BRINGING THE RED CROSS INTO LINE.

Moline, Ill., July 7.—I think that a good many will heartily agree with your editorial yesterday on the unwillingness of the American Red Cross to join in Community chest or consolidated fund solicitations.

On account of their expressed unwillingness, the simplest way to make them see the light would be to have numerous large donors the country over notify local and national Red Cross officials that they were increasing their Community fund contributions this year by the amount they would otherwise give to the Red Cross and would make no separate Red Cross donation. If this were done on a considerable scale I think that they would change their present attitude.

H. W. GETZ.

IRON FENCE LA GUARDIA.

Chicago, July 8.—Today's front page article on Mayor La Guardia's new iron fence so incensed me, I felt I had to get this off my chest. Here we are saying toothpaste tubes, newspapers, excess fats, tin cans, besides contributing every bit of rubber we can possibly do without, while this patriot decides he needs a new iron fence around his official home. We are all sick of hearing that the middle west stays unaware of the war that is going on. This statement is being made by the east, and yet the east has fallen short of almost every quota set for them, from war bonds to scrap rubber.

Are we all out to win this war, or will there always be some exceptions to every rule? J. A. STRACK.

PURCHASE DEPOSIT.

Chicago, July 2.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. On May 10 I paid $10 deposit to a private party for a used refrigerator which I later in the day canceled because of the price.

2. The owner and I agreed on a refund of $5, but when I came to collect he refused, saying that he could have sold it that day to some one else.

3. Am I entitled to refund of the $10 or any portion of it? I hold his receipt for the deposit. P. B.

1. As we understand it the purpose of the deposit was to protect the seller against your changing your mind. We see no reason why this purpose should not be given full legal effect.

2. Assuming that he could prove damages of $10, we see no legal consideration for his agreement to retain only $5.

3. As a practical matter the amount is hardly large enough to make court proceedings on your part worth while.

Test Your Horse Sense By Dr. George W. Crane

Select the answers which you consider best. The last problem counts five points. Then look for the correct answers on page 23.

1. The type of fire that is often started by a pile of oily rags is called Extemporaneous Spontaneous Instantaneous Contemporaneous.
2. You would be most likely to see a red bat at a Zoo Carnival Halloween party Kiln.
3. Which of these metals can be pounded into the thinnest sheets? Lead Silver Gold Aluminum.
4. Many buildings have water tanks upon their roofs. These are primarily for Drinking water Fire prevention Increased pressure Cooling systems.
5. Which one of these would be most appropriately used on shingles? Stain Paint Varnish Lacquer.
6. Here is another problem that fits under the heading of domestic science, but the housewives are entitled to it, since I have loaded the tests this week with possibly an undue number of questions pertaining to the physical sciences. You deserve one point for each correct matching of the adjectives in the left hand column below with the foodstuffs with which they are generally associated.

[a] Rancid	[v] Milk
[b] Spoiled	[w] Bread
[c] Sour	[x] Meat
[d] Bitter	[y] Butter
[e] Stale	[z] Coffee

Score yourself as follows: 0-2, poor; 3-6, average; 7-8, superior; 9-10, very superior. [Note—The last question counts five points.]

2d Horse Show in Chicagoland Set for August

BY JUDITH CASS.

GOOD news for horse lovers is the announcement of a second horse show planned for Chicagoland this summer. It will be the Oak Brook Horse show, to be held Aug. 15 and 16 on field 1 of the Oak Brook Polo club in Hinsdale. The United Service Organizations will receive the proceeds.

Eugene T. Scott is general chairman of the horse show committee, and his wife is secretary-treasurer. The president is Peter Caufield, and the honorary president is Lieut. Theodore A. Mohlman, who may be back from his army post by horse show time. He and Mrs. Mohlman recently became the parents of a daughter, Marcia, and Mrs. Mohlman and the baby and her little brother will return to Chicago from Kansas as soon as they can travel.

Mrs. Stephen Emmett Scace, the former Mary Knowlson; Mrs. Paul Butler, Miss Jane Markman, Mr. and Mrs. Carl G. Steidel, and Allen Robb are others on the committee. Mrs. Louis F. Swift recently held a horse show at her Wheaton farm.

Farewell Party Planned for George W. Ryersons.

The George W. Ryersons' north shore friends regretfully will bid them farewell this afternoon at one of those informal parties for which the former Phoebe Massey's family is famous—a baseball game and picnic in Boal park, across from their Winnetka residence. Mr. Ryerson is leaving for Boston tomorrow to train for the deck volunteer specialists, a part of the navy, and his wife will join him at the end of next week. Little Phoebe and young John will be with Mr. Ryerson's mother, Mrs. John A. Ryerson, in Evanston, for the time being.

Young Mrs. Ryerson's father, George W. Massey, is returning to Winnetka today from several months on an architectural-engineering project in the northwest, and will depart on further work next week. His elder son, Loren J. Massey, and Mrs. Massey are moving out to the Winnetka house to keep it open for him whenever he is in town. Guests at this afternoon's party are bringing their own picnic suppers, and will go on to Ravinia for the concert. Mrs. Ryerson will do her nurse's aid hours in Boston, as she will not see much of her husband while he is in training.

Percy Eckharts to Have Family Party at Ravinia.

Mr. and Mrs. Darwin P. Kingsley of New York, who are spending the week-end with her parents, the Percy B. Eckharts of Kenilworth, will be in a family party tonight at Ravinia park. Mr. and Mrs. Kingsley brought young Charles and little Judith with them, and will leave the children with the Eckharts while they go further west on a holiday. Mr. and Mrs. James R. D. Stevenson and Mrs. Thomas R. Coyne Jr., Mrs. Kingsley's sisters and brother-in-law, also will be in the Eckhart box tonight, as will Mrs. Coyne Sr. Lieut. Coyne of the army air corps is away.

Another visitor at the park tonight will be Mrs. Charles W. Higley of Tryen, N. C., who is staying with her sister, Mrs. Frederic W. Upham, in town. Mrs. Upham and Mrs. Higley will be among Mrs. William Sherman Hay's guests. At tomorrow afternoon's children's concert Sarah Stevenson, Charie Coyne, and Charles Kingsley will have the Eckhart box. The Harold O. McLains will entertain their son and daughter, Dorothy and Harold Jr., and the Richard A. Kebbons and young Richard and Marcia.

Lydia Pope Will Make Her Bow at Garden Tea Today.

Miss Lydia Marquis Pope, second daughter of the David M. Popes of Lake Forest, will make her debut at a garden tea in the home of her parents from 5 until 7 o'clock this afternoon. Twelve of the bud's close friends will assist her. Miss Pope, whose sister, Mary Lew, was a debutante last year, will enter Lake Forest college in the fall. Mrs. James L. Twaddell has come from Devon, Pa., for her granddaughter's debut.

Every one who accepted the Frank Berings' invitation to their tin wedding anniversary party tomorrow is bringing his own tin plate to use for dinner. The plates will remain on the Bering farm and will be turned over to the government. The celebration will begin at 6 o'clock and includes an old fashioned barn dance.

The J-Birds, a group of younger members of the Lake Shore club, will hold a picnic at Clover Hill farm in Lake Zurich tomorrow, weather permitting. The party will be a farewell to the Peter Prindivilles, who are moving to New York next week. An outdoor barbecue, a treasure hunt, and a handicap steeplechase thru the surrounding woods, ponds, and streams are some of the features of the picnic.

Rosann Fleming Is Bride of Lieut. George Kellner.

From Bement, Ill., Mrs. William B. Fleming sends word of the marriage there on June 29 of her daughter, Rosann, to Lieut. George W. Kellner, U. S. A., son of Mrs. George Kellner of Highland Park. Lieut. Kellner and his bride have gone to California, where he is stationed with an armored division.

Young Mr. Kellner attended the Northwestern Military academy and Northwestern university, and his bride is a graduate of the University of Illinois. He and his two brothers, Robert and William, all are second lieutenants in the army—Robert is in a parachute troop—so their mother and sister, Miss Carol Kellner, are planning to lease furnished, "for the duration," their Highland Park house, which seems so empty with all the boys away.

Miss Dorothy Shawhan's engagement to Ensign Richard E. Cragg, son of Mrs. George L. Cragg, has been announced by her mother, Mrs. R. Lorenzo Shawhan. Miss Shawhan received her master's degree from the University of Chicago. Her fiancé was graduated from Purdue university.

Watching the Races at Arlington Park

Women in War Work

A recent recruit in a fulltime volunteer war service job is Miss Helen Bull who, since Monday, has been spending her mornings at a desk at YWCA headquarters, 203 North Wabash avenue, as the Chicago Y's war service coördinator.

Miss Helen Bull.

Miss Bull is serving for two excellent reasons. First, as a veteran member of the YWCA board, she is well known among Y workers; second, the money for a paid worker's salary ran out!

Miss Bull had recent experience for her new job when she helped to organize the very active women's coördinating committee of Oak Park and River Forest for the Office of Civilian Defense. She also is a member of the war service committee of Oak Park's 19th Century club.

Her first experience in war service, however, goes back to the first World war. Newly out of the University of Wisconsin then, with a degree in history, Miss Bull volunteered as a Red Cross home service worker. She recalls that job as a rich background for her varied activities since.

—o—

The YWCA war service committee has an eight point program. Now, of course, there is a midsummer lull, but the first point, taking care of evacuées from the west coast, comes up for consideration from time to time. Guaranteeing a job and a place to stay for a girl coming here from the west is the special task of the evacuée work.

The second point is a consumer's education program, which was highly successful as exemplified by the operation of an information corner at the loop center YWCA, 59 East Monroe street, this spring. That desk is closed now—the center is undergoing extensive redecorating and remodeling in preparation for a bigger program in the fall.

The nutrition committee is not particularly active at present, but Miss Bull and Mrs. Howard Goodman, chairman of the entire war service committee for the YWCA, are seeking a nutrition chairman. The former one has left town to take a new job. The YWCA is one of the six agencies cooperating to make up the United Service Organizations, and Miss Bull's busiest mornings now are spent in trying to reach enough volunteer workers by telephone to fill the USO's order.

Setting up programs for women in defense industry, arranging to have workers in defense stamp booths, maintaining a physical fitness program, and keeping a list of volunteers—these activities complete the war service program. There is no need right now for more volunteer workers, Miss Bull says, but there may be a call in the autumn when activities begin anew.

—o—

The YWCA is almost entirely devoted to war work, if the McCormick residence at 1001 North Dearborn street is typical. More than two thirds of the girls residing there are now employed in war offices or in industries working on war production contracts.

Miss Agnes B. Ewart, resident director of this Y, was grateful for her girls' jobs a few months ago when the house needed a new elevator cable. She found that those jobs made the residence practically a war industry, and, as such, she received a priority and a cable.

The McCormick YWCA is by way of being an unofficial hostess house for the navy. The men from Abbott hall drop in often to see the girls, of course, and to eat doughnuts in the coffee shop. Results of this indicate that the residence is somewhat of a matrimonial bureau, Miss Ewart says. Sometimes the girls and boys meet and become engaged here in Chicago; sometimes the girls come from out of town to marry here. Miss Ewart had to find a preacher for a wedding late one Saturday night recently. The bride had just arrived from San Francisco, Cal., and the bridegroom had a few hours off.

And the first birth announcement from a McCormick residence-Abbott hall union arrived recently.

—o—

Miss Ewart knits industriously these days whenever she sits down to chat. The McCormick Y Red Cross group has assumed the job of making 60 of the 26,000 scarfs [they're 72 inch ones] for which the Red Cross is asking.

The Y residence often accommodates more than 500 guests over a week-end. Guests—sweethearts, wives, and mothers of service men—are booked for rooms there weeks in advance. "Every week-end," Miss Ewart says, "you'd think a boat was leaving!"

—o—

The Kenilworth Girls' Service organization will turn over a check for the USO to Rolin D. Feltman, president of the Kenilworth Community chest, at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the Kenilworth club.

—o—

The Illinois Institute of Technology is opening drafting courses for women on July 20. Thirty women already signed up for training, and the school wants 50.

[The Women in War Work department reports on women's activities in war and defense work and answers questions of women wishing to take part in these activities.]

Many Reservations for Luncheon Today at Post and Paddock

There are lots of reservations for luncheon at the Post and Paddock club before the races at Arlington Park this afternoon. The Silas Strawns, the Neil C. Hurleys, Mrs. John D. Hurley, the William H. Mitchells, and the Warren Wrights are some of those entertaining at luncheon. Others are Frank Mandel, the Arthur I. Appletons, Mrs. Benjamin Brown, Maj. and Mrs. Ednyfed Williams, Robert S. Carr, William M. Collins, Rolly M. Cain, and the Donald R. McLennans.

Herma Clark Will Appear Before Delavan Lake Club

The Delavan Lake club at Delavan Wis., will hold an "Elegant Eighties Evening" tonight when Miss Herma Clark of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE presents her program of monologues, "Bustles and Bangs," in a costume of the period. Miss Clark will be the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Melford E. Zinser, who will give a breakfast for her tomorrow. The menu will be taken from a cook book of the '80s.

It's Good News Day Tomorrow, Sally Promises

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.]

Good news for all you boys and girls in tomorrow's TRIBUNE!

First of all, there'll be a big long list—the names of 100 boys and girls who've been selected to be my guests at our next party. Those lucky youngsters will see a special preview of "Bambi," Walt Disney's latest full-length color picture. It's coming to the Palace theater soon, but our group will have a special showing arranged by R. K. O. just for our party on July 16.

—o—

Selecting the winners was quite a task, because it seems nearly every boy and girl in the whole city wanted to see "Bambi," and we have room for just 100. Your letters were very good, but many of you forget to include some of the most necessary information. One little boy would most certainly have been a winner, but he completely forgot to tell me his name or address, so his letter had to be discarded.

—o—

The second bit of good news will be the announcement of our next party, which you'll also find in my column in tomorrow's Sunday TRIBUNE. I think it's wonderful news, and I'm pretty sure you will too. And I know you'll jump at the chance to attend the party we've planned. Let me know if I'm right when you write for your invitation!

Junior Hadassah Outing.

The Lina Straus unit of Chicago Junior Hadassah will visit the Brookfield zoo tomorrow, meeting at 10 o'clock at the 22d street entrance.

Stephanie Day and Ensign to Be Wed Today

Miss Stephanie Day and Ensign Samuel Walter White Jr. will be married at 4:30 o'clock today in the Howes Memorial chapel in Evanston, with a reception following at the Georgian hotel. The Rev. Emory W. Luccock, pastor of the First Presbyterian church in Evanston, will perform the ceremony.

The bride, who is a daughter of Stephen A. Day, Illinois congressman, will have her sister, Mrs. Fred S. Lockwood of Arlington, Va., as matron of honor. Robert N. White will be his brother's best man. The two young men are sons of Mr. and Mrs. White Sr. of Evanston. Ushering will be Ensign Stanley L. Whittemore, Ensign Robert E. White, and Stephen A. Day Jr. Because Ensign White's leave is a short one, he will take his bride directly to Washington, D. C., where he has been assigned to duty in the office of the chief of naval operations. Their home will be in Arlington.

—o—

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert L. Watson II. are in Philadelphia for the marriage today of their brother, George Smith Watson, and Miss Helen Elise Wilmer, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Harry Bond Wilmer of Germantown. The wedding will take place in St. Luke's church, Germantown, and another brother of the bridegroom, Cornelius B. Watson Jr., will be best man. They are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Watson of Winnetka.

Mrs. Gilbert Watson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marcus W. Richards, have gone to Arizona for a holiday on a ranch.

—o—

Miss Betty Louise Crow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Crow of West 104th street and Lieut. Robert James Paulsen of the army air corps were married last Thursday. After a short wedding trip Lieut. Paulsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Paulsen of Blue Island, and his bride will be at home in the south. He attended Morgan Park Junior college and his bride attended DePauw university.

Mrs. Michael Nickels of Superior, Wis., announces the marriage on July 2 of her daughter, Edna Jane, to Garry Farmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Farmer of South Menard avenue. The ceremony took place in St. Ambrose church, with the Rev. Vincent Farmer, brother of the bridegroom, officiating. A breakfast followed at the Edgewater Beach hotel.

Participation Is Urged in Holy Hour Worship of Holy Name Society

Archbishop Samuel Stritch yesterday called on 1,500,000 Catholics in the Chicago archdiocese to participate in the Holy Name society holy hour of public worship to be held at Soldiers' field Sept. 13.

"During this century," he said, "men have failed to achieve a world peace in righteousness and beneficence and have tolerated leaders in some quarters who are a throwback to tribalism and barbarity. As a result the nations of the world are at war. . . . There is need today for placing prayer on its rightful throne in our lives."

The occasion will be the second celebration of its kind, for a Holy Name society holy hour was held at Soldiers' field last September.

The One He Started With.

An army officer friend has told us of an incident that occurred recently in a southern camp. A detachment lined up for inspection included a rawboned young private from the hills, who'd made himself presentable to the extent of polishing the toes of his shoes and brushing his hair as far back as the crown. Otherwise he looked pretty seedy, and besides had apparently become separated from his own unit, as he stood at one end of the line looking uncomfortable. The men's packs were spread on the ground for inspection, and as the officer of the day passed the lost private he barked, "What outfit did you come here with?" "That there one they give me," replied the soldier, touching his pack with the toe of his shoe.

Doing His Bit.

F. W. H. writes us of the tow headed youngster who rode his velocipede up to a scrap heap collected at 70th street and Jeffery avenue, dismounted, placed the velocipede on top of the heap, took one last long look, and walked slowly away.

"We who travel far from home to our jobs see odd sights at times—fleeting but interesting glimpses into other people's lives. On one busy street, in an old, rundown neighborhood, houses built almost flush with the sidewalk, there of all places two beautiful blooming white flames of Our Lord's Candle flowers, placed on each side of an old garden urn. . . . Household goods, perhaps two rooms full, stacked on the pocket handkerchief sized lawn of a 'Rooms for rent' kind of a house, directly under the bare windows, in which a sign announcing a vacancy had already been placed.—6 o'clock bus taker."

Hats for a New Season Arrive in Fancy Array

BY REA SEEGER.

First harbingers of a new season are the hats, the first startling affairs in velvet, gleaming satin and in soot black felt. The velvets are soft and flattering, small and definitely urban, very smooth and sophisticated. Tams, this summer flat as a fritter, dip dashingly down over one eye, tip up at the back rather dizzily, and look snappy as a new paint job.

The felt models are dull textured and made of very soft fine felt. They don't sit, or perch, as precariously on the headline as in former years, for most of the 1942 tams and berets are made with a fitted skull band to hold them snugly in position.

—o—

Dull black felt hats with wide face framing brims are softened with bands of fine net or other sheer materials. Some have rakishly tied bows of the same sheer around the high crowns and others, minus the transparent flattery of filmy net or chiffon, depend upon the perky cut or swoop or curve of the brim and the tilt of the crown, and only a grosgrain ribbon or a band of velvet to accent the diameter of the crown.

—o—

Small velvet hats feature delectable colors like crushed raspberry, French blue, and other pastels, as well as the sable witchery of black. Most of these small affairs are merely involved twists of velvet ribbon, intricately massed bows, or shirred double ruchings and other handmade effects that only especially trained and artistic fingers can manage.

All of them slant effectively across the headlines, not a dull uninteresting pluggy looking creation in any of the new collections. Any of these dashing velvets and felts will give you a new lift and add spice to your now overworked summer wardrobe.

Calumet Region Holds Annual Music Festival

BY PHILIP MAXWELL.

More than 1,500 persons attended the second annual Calumet district music festival last night in the Hammond civic center. The highlight of the evening was the appearance of 60 men, members of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation chorus of Gary, dressed in their working clothes, singing "The Ramparts We Watch."

The chorus was led by Harry S. Walsh, director of the Northerners, heard each week on W-G-N and the Mutual network. Mr. Walsh also conducted community singing of songs of the first World war.

The festival was a preliminary concert of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE'S 13th annual music festival which will be held in Soldiers' field Saturday night, Aug. 15. George Calder, supervisor of music in the Whiting, Ind., schools, had charge of the program. A. B. Scott, Hammond's city recreation director, assisted him in the arrangements.

—o—

Lewis Hartfield of Griffith, Ind., dramatic tenor, on Thursday night had won the honor of being named the best man singer in a vocal contest. But last night he found it better to work in a defense plant at Whiting, so the second place winner, Barnard Qubeck, baritone, of Whiting, appeared. Qubeck also is in defense work but his shift permitted him to appear.

So close was the vocal contest for women that the judges handed in a tie vote. The two young women singing on last night's program were Dorothy Kell of Gary, lyric soprano, who was just graduated as an honor student from Northwestern university this spring, and Margery Anderson, dramatic soprano, daughter of the pastor of the First Christian church in Hammond.

—o—

Other contest winners announced at the concert were: Soprano [coloratura], Wilma Reynolds Abel, Hobart, Ind.; mezzo, Norma A. Lindborg, Hobart; contralto, Jeanette S. Van Kley, Oak Glen, Ill.; tenor [lyric], David Colosimo, Gary; piano, Mary Feketo, Hammond; trombone, Robert Arthur Hayes, Harvey, Ill.; piano accordion, Don Lazzell, East Chicago, Ind.

Winners in the baton twirling contests were:

John Walter Scheck, first; James Hands, second; Bobby White, third; junior boys, Nick Mehalareas, first; Lawrence Bakala, second; Thomas Hampton, third; younger girls, Gloria Gianopolis, first; Jeanne Demos, second; Elaine Tennetski, third; junior girls: Lillian Beaumont, first; no second; Dorothy Kepshire, third; senior girls: Eva Vorkavitch, first; Sylvia Valeria Kuzman, second; Bette Ellingsen, third.

The flag swinging winners were: junior girls: Bette Ellington, first; Martha Tuth Hands, second; Shuckle Lee Hand, third; senior girls: Mary Negovan, first; Irene Fesko, second; Florence Mandel, third; Martha Negovan, fourth.

Froebel High school won the girls' flag swinging team cup.

"Too Many Loves"

INSTALMENT XVIII.

FUNERAL.

Accidentally, the blow Juliet aimed at Sir James caught the amazed investigator on the backswing. Eyes narrowed with indignation, he insisted that she had done it purposely.

Philip protested, half laughing, that it was purely accidental. Sir James stood by glowering and silent.

At any rate, the blow served to put an end to Juliet's fury. Weak and frightened, she kept insisting: "I am telling the truth. You know I am, Sir James!"

He ignored her. Turning to the ruffled investigator: "I may go now?"

"Yes. Sorry to have bothered you. We will keep in touch with you."

During the next 20 minutes Philip did a masterful job in arguing the Mexican out of holding Juliet on any charge. He pointed to his own lengthy residence in Cuernavaca.

He mentioned magic names among his friends. He finally got Morelos' reluctant word that he might take the black-eyed spitfire away. She would, as a material witness in the murder, be under Señor Rankin's custody, Morelos told her. The señor would be responsible for her future behavior and would see that she was present any time the police wanted her.

Juliet, heart pounding, apologized to Morelos, reiterated that the blow was an accident, thanked him for his kindness, and then, leaning on Philip's ready arm, left the room.

"Phewww!" Philip whistled. He always did that when words failed him. "And you said the police couldn't get anything on you? You don't know what you've got yourself into!"

"I know what I'm going to get myself out of. I'm going straight to Emiliano Zapato avenue, get my bags, and take the first plane to New York! My family would die if they knew about this. Wish my brother were here—he'd give that old stuffed shirt a piece of his mind, baronet or no baronet!"

"It will be all right for you to go to Lynn's and get your bags and move somewhere else—or even to invite your brother down here to punch Sir James," Philip said calmly, "but you can't go back to New York now. Didn't you just hear me promise Morelos that I would present you whenever the police wanted you? As long as you're in my custody you'll have to do as I say. Anyway, why didn't you tell the truth?"

"Philip Rankin! I did tell the truth," she blazed. "And I hope when Morelos finds out it is the truth that Sir James is found guilty of murder 20 times over!"

"I don't," he retorted. "I don't believe Sir James is guilty of that murder. Good heavens, Juliet, don't you know that anybody might have killed Lord Festone? I haven't met a person yet who didn't have some reason to kill him—myself included!"

Juliet's eyes widened in amazement. His mouth closed like a trap—so suddenly Juliet wondered whether he had said more than he intended.

O dear! Her nerves were certainly on edge! Here she was suspecting Philip—the man she loved. Suspecting everybody except herself. Sometimes she couldn't be sure of herself. Maybe she had been sleepwalking that fatal night with a gun in her hand, she told herself grimly.

Rankin, regaining his composure, burst out laughing.

"Juliet, I thought you were a nice, quiet, gentle girl. You're more excitable than a Latin," he couldn't help chiding, "altho why in the world you took those letters and got mixed up in this thing is more than I can see."

"O, stop naggi-g!"

Angry words might have been spewed again had not Philip, recognizing his error, wisely refused further comment. He took her arm and propelled her out of the building to his car.

"Now what would you like to do—go to the Lynns and get your bags?"

"I want to go to Harold's funeral."

"You don't!"

"I do."

Philip said not another word. He helped her into the car, slammed the door, ran around to the driver's seat, climbed in, looked at his wrist watch and started off. They didn't speak until they reached the cemetery. The service at the grave, where a group of people clustered, was about over.

"Wonder if any of his family was notified—funny he wasn't shipped back to England to be buried," Juliet said.

"England has enough dead already to bury. Anyhow, I doubt if his people ever wanted to see him again. He was a black sheep," Philip answered. Juliet could tell that he was still provoked.

As they climbed the hill she puffed: "But they gave him money, didn't they?"

"O, yes—a remittance to keep him away from them. When the war broke out even that was held up."

"Then how did he live? He didn't make enough from his painting, certainly?"

"That, my dear," Philip answered solemnly, "is something I'd like to find out. Morelos thinks it will go quite a way toward solving this murder."

The morning grew hotter by the minute—the horizon was melting away into a shimmer of heat mirage.

Now they were at the grave. Juliet looked curiously at the mourners—Sir James and Sharon, and many men she had seen frequently at the club or Bellavista. She wondered if one of them were the murderer.

She was close enough to Sir James to hear him mutter to Sharon: "Won't you drop it in?"

Sharon shook her head.

"What'll I do with it?"

Sharon pointed to the grave into which the coffin was slowly descending.

The tiny farewell note fluttered down out of the heavy hand. A heap of dirt followed it into the grave, then another and another. The men replaced their hats. As far as Juliet could see, there were no tears.

In spite of her recent fury she couldn't help feeling sorry for Sir James, reluctantly doing his wife's bidding to rewin her love. He looked so old, so gray beneath his tan, so miserable. Even his eyebrows and his mustache seemed to droop.

He and Sharon moved away hurriedly to one car—Juliet and Philip to another. There was no need to speak.

"Now let's go right straight to the Lynns' and get my clothes," Juliet suggested. "O gosh, the police have my shoes!"

"We'll stop by and I'll pick them up on the way," Philip offered. He did.

Upon their return to Emiliano Zapata avenue they found Elaine, looking like the sun in a yellow-gold dress, poking about the garden. She had been crying, any one could see. Lord Festone did not lack for tears even if there were none at his grave.

"Elaine! You here?" Juliet asked.

"Yes. I promised James that if he put a farewell note in Harold's grave for me I'd come back home."

Her husky voice was steady, her hands quiet. She did not ask them where they had been.

"I'm leaving, Elaine," Juliet said softly.

"Leaving! O, you mustn't—you can't leave me here alone!"

"Why, you won't be alone. You have your husband—and I imagine Sharon Lathrop would come over any time you asked her."

There was an unpleasant glint in Elaine's eyes.

"I don't want to have anything more to do with that woman. I found out last night that she hated Harold—well, anyway, that she thought he'd stolen some things from her."

Morelos appeared—altho no one of them had suspected he was around.

"Señora, I have some very important questions to ask you."

His eyes were ready to catch the slightest expression in Elaine's blank face.

According to Culbertson

[Copyright: 1942: By Ely Culbertson.]

Any one who blindly follows the so-called rules of play, such as "second hand low," "never finesse against your partner," and so forth, is not likely to distinguish himself at the bridge table. The only reason that I cannot truly call these "rules" obsolete is that they were never valid. In today's hand, for example, a defenders' refusal to "finesse against his partner" created an insoluble problem.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 heart	2 diamonds	Pass	Pass
3 hearts	Pass	4 hearts	Pass
Pass	Pass

West opened his fourth highest spade. East virtuously put up the king and declarer won. The heart ace was cashed, the jack was overtaken with the queen, and the club queen was returned, declarer playing low. West won, and now found himself in a terrible dilemma. Needless to say, he could not know that East had the spade jack, hence West was faced with the following choice: He could lay down the spade queen, then follow with the ace and queen of diamonds in the hope that East had the diamond king. This defense would envisage a south hand such as ♠ A J 10 ♥ A K J 10 x x ♦ x x ♣ A x. Obviously, if this were declarer's holding it would well justify his bidding. The other line of defense was to play East for the spade jack and declarer for the diamond king. This would involve an underlead of the spade queen by West, so that East could win and return a diamond thru the king.

Forced to a sheer guess between these alternative defenses, West unfortunately chose the former, that is, he laid down the spade queen and, after that, there was no way to defeat the contract.

If East had used imagination and foresight at the very first trick, his partner would not have been faced with this difficult guess. On the bidding it was perfectly obvious that dummy was comparatively weak and declarer extremely strong. That being so, it was inconceivable that West would have underled the spade ace if he had held it. Such a lead would be outrageous. Therefore, East should not have put up the spade king; he should have played the ten spot. Obviously, this would have forced the ace and later, when West was given his club king, he would have led another spade as the only reasonable play to build four tricks for the defense.

We wish all those letters you write to the contest editor could be answered personally, but that would take too much time away from checking your recipes.

Many of you have written to ask how we liked that special recipe you submitted. Did we check it carefully? you ask. Yes, we check all your recipes carefully. This is our procedure.

First all entries are carefully read to make sure that they meet all the rules of the contest. Sorry, we just can't consider recipes that aren't specific in their directions for mixing and baking, that don't give baking temperatures and time. All recipes that give measurements in teacups, "size of a walnut," and other unstandard proportions must be set aside also.

After this first weeding out, we check for duplications. Several women may turn in the same recipe in one day's batch of mail! And we do try our level best to avoid giving a prize to a recipe that other women also have submitted. Sometimes we slip up, when recipes are quite similar, altho not identical. We hope you'll be patient with us on this score.

And then we're ready to begin testing. Unfortunately, there aren't enough prizes to go around for all the recipes we test. The proof of the pudding is in the eating and we pick out the best liked ones. We try to keep the winners varied, too, not all meats or all cakes.

This week's honorable mention awards include two excellent vegetable recipes. Summer squash is available and it's very low priced, altho not all stores carry it. Here's a good main dish recipe using those long green Italian squash.

Stuffed Summer Squash.

2 green zucchini squashes
1 pound chopped beef
½ cup stale bread crumbs
1 egg
2 tablespoons Parmesan cheese
½ clove garlic minced
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
½ cup salad oil
1 large can tomatoes

Wash squash and cut into inch-thick, crosswise slices. Mix meat, crumbs, slightly beaten egg, cheese, garlic, and seasonings. Remove seeds from squash slices and stuff with meat mixture. Heat oil in heavy skillet and sauté squash in it, browning well on both sides. Remove to saucepan and cover with tomatoes. Simmer 30 minutes, or until tender. If desired, potatoes may be cooked with the squash in the tomato mixture.

Eggplant also is available in several stores. It's not cheap, but if you're an eggplant fan, you'll want to try it in this recipe.

Baked Eggplant.

1 medium sized eggplant
¾ cup fine bread or cracker crumbs
Salt and pepper
6 eggs scrambled

Peel eggplant and slice ½ inch thick. Dip in cold water, then in fine bread crumbs, sprinkle with salt and pepper, and place in shallow buttered pan. Bake in hot [400 degrees] oven for 20 minutes. Cover with scrambled eggs. Lower temperature to 350 and continue baking about 20 minutes, or until eggplant is tender.

Frocks for a Busy Summer

WOMAN'S AND MISS' DRESSES.

Just what you want for a busy summer are these two tailored dresses. They're simple, beautifully styled, easy to make and wear, and they make excellent use of the many attractive summer materials.

Style No. 3572 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20. Size 16 requires 3¼ yards of 35 inch material with ¾ yard contrasting.

Style No. 3569 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 36, 18 and 20 and 36, 38, 40 and 42 inch bust measurements. Size 36 requires 3 yards of 35 inch material for jumper and 1⅝ yards for blouse with short sleeves.

Each pattern costs 10 cents, plus 2 cents to cover mailing cost.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central Annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin, plus 2 cents for mailing costs (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT: Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired and write your name and address plainly. The summer pattern book costs 15 cents—10 cents if ordered with a pattern.

Don't Hurry a Child Into New Skills

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

[Copyright: 1942: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

It would help young mothers a great deal if they could realize that, when nature has made a child ready for a new skill, he will tackle the learning of it, given reasonable interest and encouragement.

In thinking about what little children can do at certain ages, we're likely to have in mind chiefly acts connected with the everyday business of their living, the routine habits, the motions that have to be gone thru in connection with eating, sleeping, bathing, and dressing.

We should expect them to learn to do all these things. We should gradually, as they are able, make it possible for them to do things themselves, to grow in independence, in responsibility.

But we don't need to force it or rush it. We shouldn't, in fact, because this puts a strain on a child which makes itself felt in a subtle way.

It has been found, in some cases, that when too great emphasis [sometimes associated with punishment] is placed on the gaining of self-control in one direction, a greater lack of control in another direction is noticed, or a new undesirable habit is formed. This has been noticed in various connections. A mother, we'll say, insists that a small child feed himself every morsel of his food. She makes an issue of a rather difficult new skill such as lacing small shoes. She makes a terrific discipline of toileting habits [control and regularity]. She may accomplish each result, yet there will be consequent nervous strain on the young organism and, perhaps, a lack of interest in connection with other phases of learning. So we must let our small child take these things in his stride, providing, however, opportunity for him to acquire habits when he is ready for them.

One important way in which we provide opportunity for a child to learn is by making it reasonably easy for him to form these good habits.

Do you expect your small son to wash his hands in the bathroom and dry them himself? Then see to it that he can reach the basin easily.

Do you expect your small daughter to undress and get into her nightie or pajams all by herself? Then her buttons or snaps or zipper must be conveniently placed, and her sleeping garments designed with that in mind.

Do you expect her to be orderly with her toys and coat and leggings and rubbers? Then provide low hooks and convenient space for them.

TODAY'S PRIZE RECIPE

Frozen Lemon Pie.
[Serves 10.]

2 eggs, separated
½ cup sugar
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
3 tablespoons lemon juice
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
1 cup crushed graham cracker crumbs

Beat egg yolks with rotary beater until fluffy. Add sugar and continue beating until light and lemon colored. Place over boiling water and cook, beating constantly until very thick, about 3 minutes. Remove from heat and add lemon juice and rind. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Then fold in whipped cream. Line refrigerator tray with waxed paper. Spread about ⅔ of the graham cracker crumbs evenly over the bottom of the tray. Cover with lemon mixture and sprinkle with remaining crumbs. Freeze until firm without stirring, about 3 hours.

4. Send one recipe at a time.
5. Address it to Recipe Contest, CHICAGO TRIBUNE.

There's a $5 prize daily!

The Housewife

If you're doing some open air cooking this summer in your own back yard or on barbecue picnics, you'll find a big canvas and asbestos mitt very useful. Slip your hand in it when you have to reach close to the fire and avoid scorching. It has its own little motto, "Get 'Em Hot," printed on it in black letters. And if you wish you can get a chef's barbecue apron to go with the mitt.

Newsgirl Has Problem with Old 'Masher'

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1942: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Here is a letter we hope some of the accused will see. We hope they'll have more consideration for the poor working girl! Will readers please let us know how they handle such a situation?

"I am what is called a good girl, and was brought up right, but with few advantages. Being pretty, I got a job at a tobacco and news counter in one of the biggest and best hotels. The girls there are supposed to be decent, and, if they become friendly with the customers, they are fired. But a lot of the men who buy magazines and cigars seem to think that the pennies they spend for a newspaper give them the right to talk to the girl who takes their money, and talk on and on, and take up her time even when other people are waiting around to be waited on. Sometimes they wait until she has waited on somebody else, and then start talking again.

"They are not really fresh, because, if they were, we would know what to do about that. We are supposed to give service with a smile, like the gas station ads, but some of the men [the oldish ones] take this as a personal matter and come up every time with grins all over their faces, and act as if we girls were just waiting for a little daily flirtation with them. They won't buy whatever they want from whichever one of us isn't busy then, but hang around until their special girl can wait on them.

"So there's no use trying to get one of the others of us to sell them their papers. This grinning around and jollying attracts attention, and the manager bawls us out for acting fresh, but tells us that part of our job is to be pleasant and always to smile, and that the customer is always right. There seems to be no way to discourage these hangers-around and grinners and still be pleasant enough to please the manager.

"I can't lose my job. It means too much to me. But what can I do about these silly old mashers?

"VERY TROUBLED."

Chicago Yacht Club Is Giving Dance for Midshipmen Tonight

The Chicago Yacht club is giving an informal dance tonight for the midshipmen and officers in the present class at the naval reserve midshipmen's school at Northwestern university. The fun is due to start at 8 o'clock, and during the evening the 60 guests and 40 young women who have been invited as their partners will design costumes for each other out of newspapers and pins. Mrs. William S. Faurot, who is in charge of the parties, has asked Mr. and Mrs. Robert Benedict, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore M. Dunlap, and Mr. and Mrs. Victor C. Milliken to assist her during the evening.

Thru the Looking Glass

From this day forth, when you walk into any beauty shop, you are going to be urged to "be the woman . . . behind the man . . . behind the gun." Your operator will wear a tag bearing that slogan, the walls will show posters proclaiming it, and when you're handed your change after being beautified you'll find a little quarter-card in red, white and blue. What the beauty industry—and your country—wants you to do with that quarter is to buy a war savings stamp, and buy it right there at the beauty shop desk. That stamp that you buy will buy twelve bullets to fit the gun handled by the man who is fighting the war for us.

The Beauty Industry council, in cooperation with the United States treasury department, plans on the sale of $500,000 worth of stamps every month. All expenses of the campaign, one of the most interesting of all those worked out, are borne by people within the industry; beauticians will, of course, buy as well as sell stamps. The colorful little cards which hold a quarter will be their silent salesmen; the shops will keep generous stocks of the stamps on hand and in many cases the clients' stamp books will be kept on file for their convenience.

We all know that no essential materials will be used in beauty services. The industry relinquishes them willingly. And in war time, for obvious reasons, the need for beauty services that foster better grooming and better health for busy women is even greater than in peacetime. But we should—and now we can—see that our expenditures in the beauty shop provide for war stamps as well as glamor.

Three Needlework Designs

BY ELLEN BRUCE.

Crocheted pineapple doily, No. 1086, is a prime favorite among those having a preference for circular luncheon doilies. Roses are popular motifs for all types of needlework embroidery. No. 735 contains all kinds of roses. Daughter's new dress should be a crochet number because it is cool, easy to create, and inexpensive. Instructions are available in sizes from 2 to 6 years.

EACH pattern costs 10 cents, plus 2 cents to cover mailing cost. For each pattern, send stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

Looking at Hollywood

By Hedda Hopper

Hollywood, Cal., July 10.—No, Mickey Rooney's bride didn't hang around the set of "Andy Hardy" when Mickey was making violent love to Esther Williams in, on, and under the water in a Metro tank.

Mrs. Joe Davies' former son-in-law, Tim Durant, paid a nice compliment to two ladies—Mrs. Davies and Irene Dunne. Says Irene is the spittin' image of Mrs. Davies when she was Mrs. Hutton—and wouldn't she be perfect for "Mission to Moscow."

Clark Gable doesn't know when he's leaving town—maybe next week, month or month after. As soon as he gets his orders, he's on his way.

Mrs. Sam Harris is here visiting brother George Brent before he goes off to war. She was with George M. Cohan when he saw "Yankee Doodle Dandy" and said, "I really believe, sick as George is, the picture has prolonged his life. He was that pleased over it."

Welcome Home.

Joe Rock, who's made many pictures in England, is here in Hollywood, arranging to do an all-women picture—how they won their rights and their war activities—and tie it up with actual scene of what English women are doing over there. His wife, Louise, who weighs 100 pounds, works in a munitions factory at 30 cents an hour. [Any similarity between this wage and ours is purely coincidental.] Joe's a fire fighter, and said if they dumped all of Germany on London, it still wouldn't upset their morale. He came over on a troop ship at a dollar a day, officers' mess. His two children have been here for months. He's a nice guy, and has done us proud.

Rumblings and Ramblings.

'Tis said—and 'tis sad, if true—that it's no longer a hot romance between Betty Grable and George Raft. . . . The fire which threatened Bill Hart's ranch stopped at his front door. The trees and foliage were burned, but the buildings stood. . . . When Mapy Cortes was asked at the Jules Steins' swimming party how she got those black and blue marks on her arm, she said "From Vic Mature. When I tried to get my face in the camera, he kept pushing me away." . . . Handsome, blond Jack Briggs gets his best part in "Seven Miles to Alcatraz," then joins the marines. He came from "The Man Who Came to Dinner" on Broadway. . . . Bob Montgomery is somewhere off the Jersey coast, commanding a boat. . . . Buzz Meredith is a second lieutenant.

Tit for Tat.

Eric Von Stroheim's son, Eric Jr., is now being broken in by Director Henry Hathaway in "China Girl." Boy was an office boy for four years at the studio, is shy, and has never tooted his own horn. What he doesn't know is that Henry started in pictures as a prop boy, once worked under Von Stroheim Sr. . . . Bonita Granville is mourning the loss of Jackie Cooper's schnauzer. Seems he ate a gopher that had been poisoned by ant paste. . . . Willie Rhinelander Stewart is well on the mend after that severe heart attack. . . . Susan Peters got a taste of fame when Greer Garson, Ronald Colman, and Mervyn Leroy gave her a birthday party the day she was 20. . . . Ginger Rogers says her mother, Lela, is having all the fun. Lela phoned to tell her that they'd just finished haying, and said, "I caught an 18 pound salmon. What shall I do with it—send it down to you?"

Typically Hollywood.

Robert Cummings tried for two hours to do a tricky scene in "Between Us Girls" with no luck whatever. Finally said, "This is the place where they ask you to do the impossible—and if you can't, you're incompetent!" . . . And on the set of that same picture was this sign: "Positively No Smoking." And just beneath was a fire bucket, with another sign: "Put Your Cigaret Butts Here." . . . Which reminds me of what happened on the "Ox Bow Incident" set when a cowboy dropped quickly a whole box of burning matches onto the sawdust floor—and that caught fire. Director Bill Wellman kept right on grinding, and when it was over, said, "It's a lulu! We'll leave it in the picture." But now the sawdust has been fireproofed against just such another happening.

You Know It's True.

I asked Producer David Hempstead who's young and good looking enough to be a movie star, why some studio isn't bright enough to make a good picture for Shirley Temple. He replied, "I've been asking the same question, Hedda, but I'm told she's no longer box office." "Well, why should she be—with such rotten pictures? But give her a good one, and she'll be on top again." He agreed, and said, "When I was at Twentieth Century I begged to put her in 'High Wind in Jamaica'—but no dice." This is what we mean when we say "Hollywood Waste." . . . Pat O'Brien says, "Now after selling the Japs all that scrap iron which has gone into their bullets, they're trying to give it back to us for nothing!"

Good Morning!

HERE'S summer fare with a lilt, and the laughter
That's just what the most of us film fans are . . . aughter . . .
It takes you from east to the west in a hurry
The while seeing to it that everything's . . . murry . . .
College kids with a band they are daft to put over
Have found their intentions, alas, NOT in clover . . .
Mixed up with the band's affairs without Pop's knowledge
Is the son of the stern pres-i-dent of the college . . . [tch tch!]
Well—Pop has a ranch on the wild prairie, O
And out to said ranch Son thinks band should go
And eddicate all them thar folks in the west
Into thinking that boogy woog' music is best
The ranch is a RE-sort where quiet's the ticket.
The ticket it IS—and the kids they can't lick it . . . BUT [Listen to this . . .!
On a neighb'ring estate lives a maiden so fair
O, blue are her eyes and O, gold is her hair
And O, poor is the maid, and O, poor is her brother
For, to go to Pop's ranch it seems, travelers would ruther . . .
Ha Ha HA! WELL . . .
You've heard the old thing about "always fair weather . . ."
When people who like the same things get together . . .?
It works out like that . . . And, tho Pop's in a rage
The news it leaks out that—HE'D BEEN ON THE STAGE . . .!
Before dough made of him a col-lege pres-I-dent
AND—that vaudeville'd been his lamentable bent! [the old scalawag]
He HAS to give in—else, he knows that his son
Would let out the story of what he had done . . .
SO—everything's ducky. . . . The west adopts jazz
And son for his own self a sweet romance has
With the Pretty next door, who—well, my little elves
Suppose you just finish this thing for yourselves . . .?

See you tomorrow.

White Collar GIRL

BY RUTH MACKAY.

Writing to Women.

A woman who manages a delightful home received a letter from a dry cleaning establishment calling attention to the condition of her drapes and curtains which she had just sent to be cleaned. Granting that the letter served a purpose—to protect the cleaner from responsibility for damage—nevertheless the letter brought first a gasp, then a smile to the owner. Had she truly been entertaining, all this time, her friends in such a hovel where all her worldly goods were "stained . . . torn . . . frayed . . . spotted . . . worn and ragged?"

The incident serves to illustrate a point emphasized in Buckley's "How to Write Better Business Letters," that you cannot write to women in the same vein as to men. A man receiving such a letter would have taken it at its face value. A woman, more imaginative and visual-minded, immediately reacts unfavorably.

Business firms with women customers should be on the lookout for tactful women to supervize the correspondence and avoid just such reactions. Ten to one a man wrote the letter. A tactful woman would have accomplished the same purpose and kept the customer.

Where, Indeed.

Overheard in the elevator and reported by M. B.: "But, you see, I'm not used to taking orders!"

"Just where," comments M. B., "would she fit into modern business?"

Washington White Collar Girls.

Our banker-reader, recently moved to Washington, D. C., writes: "Either you didn't hear—or print, if you did hear—the half of it! The Washington White Collar Girls are quite something! No hats, no hose, no terrors. Their brilliant red toenails show thru their sandals and they smoke at their desks. . . . But, I'm glad I'm crushed in the street cars by WWCG's—and will be for the duration."

Girls Who Wear Glasses.

A national woman's magazine printed recently an article on the increasing difficulty for a girl who wears glasses to get a job.

Questioning such a statement I stopped in to see what Sheila Roberts, the "eyeglass" stylist, has to say about it. Nothing to it, says Miss Roberts who should know. No reason in the world for the girl who wears glasses to be any less job worthy.

Miss Roberts, with a background of two years at the University of Chicago, followed by dramatic training and a position with the Models' bureau where she taught make-up and fashions, is bent on making women attractive in glasses. She demonstrated on her own heart-shaped face, the frames which follow the brow line and the contour of the face. Young women, she contends, should play up their glasses—after all many a Hollywood star wears dark glasses to be dramatic. A piquant face loses nothing, by wearing, for example, "Wingers." And blue-eyed, gray-eyed girls, for sports or out-of-the-office-wear, lose no appeal in blue shell rims. For older women she advises inconspicuous glasses, properly proportioned to the face. For young and old—a correct filling of the doctor's prescription, and an acceptance of glasses as an accessory . . . not as a handicap.

On the House

A good many houses are receiving additions of an extra room or two, in order to accommodate more persons, and the question of how to make rooms more sound resistant is often of definite interest. . . . There are insulating and acoustical wall materials and manufacturers of these wallboards publish detailed instructions on their use in the reduction of sound transmission. . . . Lumber dealers and building material firms handling this type of material are in a position to advise on its use, quote costs and recommend different materials for service in the particular house problem. UNION REPLACES ACCUSED RED AS U.S. DELAYS TRIAL

Suspected Alien Active in N. Y. Transit Local.

New York, July 10 [Special].—John Santo, who resigned as secretary-treasurer of the Transport Workers' union [CIO] just before his arrest on charges of being an alien in the country illegally and fraudulently claiming United States citizenship, today was disclosed to have resumed an active rôle in the local transit field.

John Santo.

His appointment as director of organization for the TWU is said to have been approved by Philip Murray, CIO president.

Santo, said to be a Communist, who has used the aliases of Desideriu Hammer, Jack Weiss, and John Szanto, was arrested last Oct. 9 as a result of investigations by the FBI and the immigration and naturalization services. The charges against him have not been pressed.

"Has Volunteered."

Meantime, according to Transport Bulletin, TWU organ, Santo "has volunteered his service in the United States army and has been reclassified in 1-A. He is awaiting acceptance for military service."

Selective service headquarters today disclosed that Santo, after informing his local draft board of his alien status, had told officials the charges against him had been "cleared up." The board then transmitted his case to the army to pass on.

According to the public information division of selective service, however, Santo cannot be inducted as long as the criminal charge is pending against him. T. Vincent Quinn, assistant in charge of the criminal division of the United States attorney general's office in Brooklyn, asserted today that the criminal charge still stands, and that there was no disposition to drop it. Santo's $3,000 bail is continued, he said. Santo also is free in $1,000 additional bail on the deportation charge.

Too Busy to Try Him.

When asked the reason for the nine months' delay, Quinn replied: "This office has been swamped with so many other cases—many of them relating to the war—that we haven't been able to get around to it yet."

Meanwhile, Byron H. Uhl, immigration director at Ellis Island, disclosed that the deportation hearings against Santo have been "indefinitely postponed" because of the criminal proceedings."

According to published reports, the Communist party sent Santo to New York from Cleveland to help organize the transport system. Last summer, while the TWU was threatening to call a subway strike, Santo was described as the power behind Michael J. Quill, TWU president and an alleged Communist.

The Inquiring Camera Girl

BY FREIDA ZYLSTRA.

[THE TRIBUNE will pay $5 for each interesting question submitted by a reader and used by THE TRIBUNE. Today's question was submitted by Kathryn G. Miller, 1125 Hibbard road, Wilmette.]

THE QUESTION.

Have you ever worried about something that failed to happen?

WHERE ASKED.

The Butler building, Canal and Randolph streets.

THE ANSWERS.

Mamie Anderson, clerk, 5215 North Sawyer avenue—My trip to the Thousand Islands was to be an event of my life, until some one spoiled it for me by saying we'd soon "shoot the rapids." I had such visions of diving over the falls that the very thought nauseated me. Later I never realized that we were "shooting them."

M. D. Reybold, promotion and research man, 1435 Astor street—Years ago I once had a hunch a thing would happen and it did. Ever after I thought I was gifted with a real sense of premonition until one day when I turned our hot water heater on and forgot it until I was 25 miles out of town. I drove back like mad, but all was well.

Mrs. Ellis O'Daniel, drug clerk, New Lenox—The errands that I had to do downtown were more important than the stewed prunes on the stove at home. Nevertheless, burned prunes, scorched pan, no dessert, and a flaming house were all I thought of while I was away. They were still simmering when I returned.

Ken C. Meyer, advertising copy writer, 4546 North Damen avenue—A man shot a banker because he didn't agree with him. Then he shot a man who had witnessed the first shooting. I was sitting in the car and I was sure he had seen me. For a long time I thought I was going to be his next victim. Nothing happened.

Mildred Brooks, stenographer, 2724 Giddings street—For three months I skipped one class in school. Every time I did it I worried about meeting the professor. Before the school year was over I wondered if I'd have enough credits after that. I still had a few to go on, so the worrying was useless.

Terry De John, typist, 1519 North Hamlin avenue—Before I had my first permanent wave I had heard many stories about bad burns and women fainting in the machine. I put off getting mine for a long time because I was afraid. When I finally did get the permanent, my worries were over.

Army Inducts N.Y. Socialist Candidate for Governor

PASSEAU BEATS BRAVES, 3-2, FOR 13TH VICTORY

14 NAMED FOR LASSIE STAKES AT ARLINGTON TODAY

FAST FIELD OF FILLIES SEEKS $35,600 PURSE

Easy Lass Will Get Real Competition.

Field for Lassie

FOURTEEN juvenile fillies were named yesterday in the overnight entries for the Lassie stakes at six furlongs today at Arlington Park. If all start, the stake will have a value of $35,600. The field in order of post position follows:

	Wt.	Jockey.	Prob. odds.
Even Stitch	117	W.D.Wright	5-1
Blois	117	No boy	15-1
Valdina Marl	117	C.Bierman	12-1
Blenheim Girl	117	L.Balaski	15-1
Clickety Clack	117	R.Neves	10-1
Parachutist	117	M.Berg	5-1
Zellmenow	117	No boy	6-1
Miss Barbara	117	No boy	2-1
Who Me	117	No boy	6-1
Ask Me Now	117	No boy	6-1
Now Mandy	117	No boy	6-1
Wiseasyou	117	S.Brooks	12-1
Easy Lass	117	L.Haas	5-2
Fad	117	A.Craig	15-1

BY HOWARD BARRY.

A band of the fastest and most expensively bred juvenile fillies on the American turf will go to the post today in the Lassie stakes at six furlongs at Arlington Park. The owners and breeders represented in the 14 overnight entries include many of the most distinguished names in racing. Among them are Calumet farm, Joseph E. Widener, Louis B. Mayer, Woolford farm, Hal Price Headley and Emerson F. Woodward.

Calumet farm, Warren Wright's picturesque establishment near Lexington, will send Easy Lass, a daughter of one of Kentucky's greatest stallions, Blenheim II., and one of the farm's best mares, Slow and Easy, into the race. Mr. Wright owns an interest in Blenheim II., and he was one of the moving spirits in the syndicate of six men who purchased and imported this English Derby winner at a cost of $250,000.

Produces Five Stake Winners.

Slow and Easy is one of the many fine brood mares on Calumet farm. She already has produced five stake winners, including Easy Mon and Crossbow II. As for Blenheim II., he has justified his importation by siring Whirlaway, which is expected to become the greatest money winner in the history of racing before the summer is over.

Today Easy Lass will have to run mighty sharp to live up to the prestige of her breeding. She has won all three of her races to date, but will face her hardest trial of all this afternoon.

Mayer, the movie excutive who has gone in for horse racing on a large scale in recent years, will send Miss Barbara into the race. This filly has won impressively in two previous starts at the Arlington meeting. On both occasions she overwhelmed all opposition, winning by many lengths. If Miss Barbara should win today's rich race, which will carry a gross value of $35,600 if all 14 entries start, she automatically will become one of the outstanding bargains of the year. Mayer bought her for only $700 at the Saratoga sales last summer.

Parachutist a Strong Challenger.

Mrs. E. du Pont Weir's Parachutist has come out of the east to fling a challenge at the fillies which have been racing at Arlington. She finished close up to Fair Weather, star of the Widener stable in the Polly Drummond stakes at Delaware. She had won brilliantly on a previous occasion in an overnight allowance event at Delaware. As for Fair Weather, this filly was shipped out to run in the Lassie, then pulled up lame after a workout. So the Widener stable will be represented only by Blois, a daughter of Man o' War, today.

W. E. Boeing, west coast airplane manufacturer, whose Porter's Mite won the Belmont Futurity of 1938, will be represented by Clickety Clack today.

Headley Has Four Entries.

Headley, well known Lexington breeder who was one of the founders of the Keeneland race track, has filed the names of four fillies in the overnight entries. All are daughters of his stallion, Menow. They are Tellmenow, Who Me, Askmenow, and Now Mandy. He believes that they all are pretty much on a par and in an effort to determine their full capabilities he may start all four of them, tho this is hardly likely.

Woolford farm's Even Stitch, Emerson F. Woodward's Valdina Marl, and Norman Church's Blenheim Girl are expected to be prominent factors in the race.

There already is $28,600 in the Lassie purse and this will be increased by $500 for each starter.

The $5,000 Green Velvet handicap will be run on the turf course as a secondary feature to the Lassie stakes. This drew the overnight entries of 10 horses.

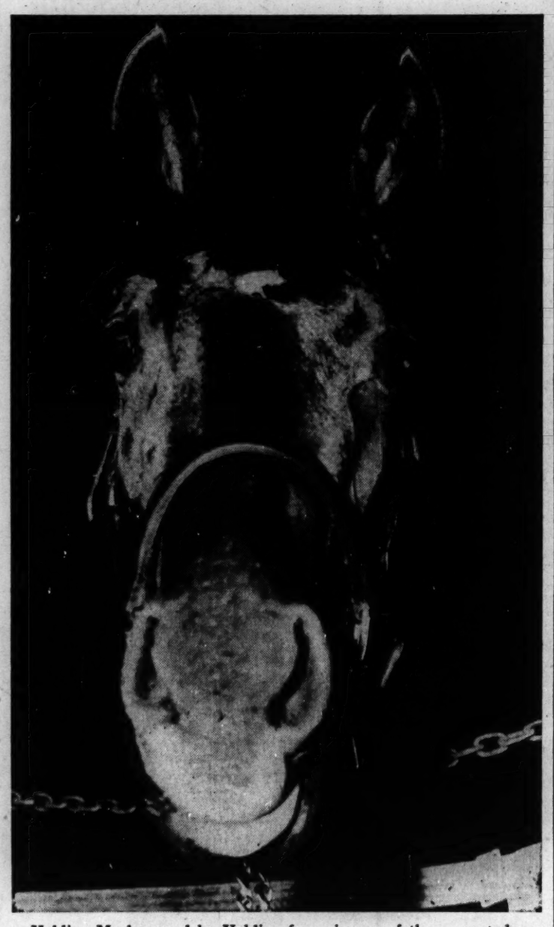
Lassie from Valdina Farm



Valdina Marl, owned by Valdina farm, is one of the respected candidates in the Lassie Stakes, a six furlong event for fillies, which heads the program at Arlington Park today.

Lake Front Anglers: Have License Today

BY BOB BECKER.

Perch fishermen on the lake front are going to see a lot of uniformed game wardens during the next few days, for the department of conservation has launched a drive to check the licenses of all rod and reel fishermen who angle in Lake Michigan waters. Livingston Osborne, director of the conservation department, has ordered this checkup which will put between 8 and 10 wardens on the lake front today.

You Must Have That License.

The wardens have been instructed to ask every fisherman to display his resident license. Those who are fishing without the required 75 cent license will be given a ticket as a reminder that they must, according to the law, purchase a license before fishing along the lake front or in other Illinois waters.

According to a ruling made several years ago, the Illinois department of conservation has jurisdiction over fishing on the Chicago lake front and the department has demanded that all anglers must hold a resident license before they unlimber their perch tackle. According to reports from the local inspector's office, some fishermen have bought their licenses and others haven't. This current drive to check every angler is reported to be the first warning that the lake front fishing squads will have to invest 75 cents if they wish to continue their sport.

Land Three Big Ones.

Reports from northern lakes indicate that Chicago fishermen are having pretty good luck in catching muskies this season. One of the quickest quantity catches of the season has been recorded by Alfred T. Bolender, 561 Surf street; Joseph M. Johnson, 550 Surf street, and William Landers Jr., their guide, of Minocqua, Wis. This fishing party boated three muskies in one day. The fish weighed 32, 26, and 13 pounds.

The largest Wisconsin muskies we have heard of this season were taken by Henry Schness of Davenport, Ia. He and his son Warren fished the Chippewa flowage near Hayward. Using a crazy crawler surface lure they first boated 37 and 45 pounders without the help of a guide. Then the next day the father and son combination landed a 40 pounder from the flowage.

WELCH DEFEATS WARD; WEHRLE ROUTED, 5 AND 4

Public Links Champ Beats Title Holder, 2 Up.

Spokane, Wash., July 10 (AP).—The national public links golf champion beat the national amateur champion today in a quarter-final match of the Western Amateur tournament. It was Bill Welch of Houston, Tex., back on the scene of his triumph a year ago, who knocked Defending Champion Corp. Marvin [Bud] Ward out of competition, 2 up.

Ward, stationed with the army air force here, snapped out of the slump that overtook him yesterday, but he didn't snap far enough. Welch, Texas toolshop worker, chopped par to bits. He toured the par 72 course in 69 and won the match on the 18th green with a birdie 3.

Bud Leads at Turn.

Ward, seeking his third straight Western crown, had to scramble but he racked up a 35—36—71 and at the ninth hole was 1 up on Welch. The latter put together nines of 36—33.

Ward was 2 up at the 10th but his rival took the next two to square things and they battled even until the 16th. Ward hooked his drive into the woods on this 197 yard hole and lost it to a par 3, Welch being on the green. The Texan laid his second up to within three feet on the last hole where Ward's drive hit a tree and he was on the green but far past the pin on his third.

It was the first time national champions from the two big men's amateur tournaments had met in a major tournament.

McCormick, Abbott Win.

Two former national public links kingpins also came thru with flying colors to dominate the quarter-finals.

Fireman Bruce McCormick of Los Angeles whipped an old rival and fellow Californian, Skee Riegel of Glendale, 3 and 2, while Corp. Pat Abbott of Denver blasted the hopes of Marsh Hammond, local entry, 4 and 3.

In the other match former Walker Cup star, Harry Givan of Seattle, trounced Wilford Wehrle of Racine, Wis., 5 and 4.

Welch meets McCormick and Abbott takes on Givan in tomorrow's semi-finals.

The Open Hydrant.

There's a fire hydrant of scarlet
Near the corner way down the street,
And the kids have opened it daily
To escape the withering heat.
As I watch them now I've a feeling
That my youth has waned with a moon;
Just yesterday I was splashing about,
But my bubbles have burst too soon.
I have bartered for age and for wisdom
My world full of freedom and fun,
And the laughing kids in the current
Are the half of my life that is done.

Hornet's Nest.

O, the United States is must'ring an army
Of 600 billion bees
To put the buzz on the buckaroos
Beyond the Coral seas.

And when they're all assembled,
Wouldn't it be fine
If they'd loose them in battalions
In a straight and steady line?

The first to land on Hitler's beak
And their stingers start to lash
One for every single hair
Of that silly old mustache.

The second to start their winging
To the land of Clo Clo San,
To tattoo a "V for Victory"
Right on Hirohito's pan.

A third on Mussolini's chin
Would start their job of boring,
The screams of this unholy three
Skyward would go soaring.

And so at last this grisly three
Would find themselves ensnared
In the hornet's nest which they themselves
For the doom of others prepared!

Time's Changes.

Time shrinks the very noblest ideal,
Just as the laundry shrinks our finest shirts;
The girl who has today supreme appeal
May in another fortnight drive you nerts;
Nothing is very certain except taxes,
Even the rheumatism and the gout
May meet a setback like the cocky axis
And in a week or two be put to rout.
The vitamins that bopped you up last autumn
May only serve to make you glum today,
You may be very sorry that you bought 'em,
If you're constrained to throw them all away;

WEATHER SAVES SOX AS SENATORS LEAD IN 4TH, 1-0

Game Put Off Until Tonight in Washington.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 10.—The well laid plans of the White Sox, Ted Lyons among them, to extend their winning streak to two games failed to materialize tonight. The weather man persisted in doing his bit and, after he had broken into the proceedings at three different stages, the umpires decided to let him have his way. He won the argument soon enough to forestall a legal game, which possibly was a break for the Sox, who were trailing by 1 to 0 when the affair was abandoned in the home half of the fourth inning.

The chief complainant about the intervention of the weather man was Bob Kennedy, who can ill afford to lose base hits, especially extra basers. Bob produced two of the three hits made off Buck Newsom—one a triple and the other a two bagger. The former went for naught, because his mates forgot he was waiting on third and the value of the double was lost because the Chicagoans felt the necessity of demonstrating some of their die-for-old-Rutgers base running.

Two Errors Produce Run.

The Senators got their one run jump on Lyons without the aid of a hit, two errors being sufficient. They did nail the veteran for two singles in the second and he escaped further damage only because Wally Moses happened to be loitering in short right, which made it possible for him to take George Case's low liner for the third out. The only other hit off Ted was a triple with which Roberto Estalella opened the fourth but the show ended then and there, whereupon the home club announced that the series finale scheduled for tomorrow afternoon would be put on tomorrow night instead.

Bill Dietrich, the recent invalid, will pitch for the White Sox. He will be opposed by Early Wynn, one of the Senators' few good hurlers.

Lyons Hurts Own Cause.

Lyons, usually the classiest of fielders, neglected to pick up Case's roller at the start of the Senators' first inning and, to make matters worse, Joe Kuhel also blundered. He grabbed Stanley Spence's bounder and, in an effort to force Case at second, tossed the ball into left field. Mickey Vernon grounded to Luke Appling, but the boys weren't quick enough for a double play, so only Spence was retired. Roy Cullenbine rolled to Don Kolloway and another twin killing seemed possible, but again the lads were too slow, Case scoring. Estalella forced Cullenbine for the third out.

Ted Lyons will hop a plane in the morning for his Vinton, La., home. Ted's dad is to undergo a serious operation Monday.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Claude Passeau, No. 13 on the Cubs' roster, yesterday won his 13th victory on the first try when he beat Boston for the first time this season, 3 to 2, to end a four-game Chicago losing streak. Jim Tobin, thrice conqueror of the Cubs and twice vanquisher of Passeau, was the losing pitcher, tho he held the Chicagoans to six hits.

Passeau, who has been defeated five times, now leads both major leagues in total victories. Ray Starr of the Reds has won 12 while losing 3 for second honors in the National league. Elden Auker of the Browns, with 10 and 8, tops the American league in triumphs.

Jimmy Foxx was the big man on the Cub offensive, even as he was the last time the Cubs beat Boston. Jim knocked three singles, half the Cub total, and two of them figured in the two productive flurries.

Claude Is Too Good.

Passeau pitched hitless ball after yielding three hits for the Braves' two runs in the second inning and two singles in the third. In his six hitless innings after the third, one man got on on a fumble by Lenny Merullo and another on a pass. Max West, who got the pass with one out in the sixth inning, promptly was mopped up in a double play, launched by Merullo.

Passeau drove in the first run in the fifth and Tobin walked home the tying one in the same session. The winning run in the eighth was earned, so there was nothing about the game to lessen Claude's confidence in 13 as a lucky number.

The tying process in the sixth inning got under way with Foxx's single to deep short. Bill Nicholson then whanged a double to right center, Foxx stopping at third. Lou Stringer whiffed and Merullo popped a short fly to West. The Braves gave Clyde McCullough an intentional pass to load the bases, whereupon Passeau caromed a single off Nanny Fernandez's glove, Foxx scoring. Stan Hack then walked after a three and two count, forcing Nicholson across the plate with the tying run. Phil Cavarretta flied out.

Phil Fails to Bunt.

Hack opened the eighth with a single to right, whereupon Cavarretta foozled two attempts to sacrifice then bounced to Tobin to force Hack. Lou Novikoff rolled a double play ball to Tobin, who made a bad throw past Miller at second, Cavarretta reaching second and Novikoff first. Foxx then delivered his third hit, a single to left, scoring Cavarretta with the winning run. Nicholson forced Foxx and Stringer tapped gently to Tobin.

Now, going back to the manner in which the Braves got their two runs in the second inning: Ernie Lombardi opened with the first of his two singles and West got his first pass.

SHUT OUT FACES TOUGHEST JOB AT EMPIRE TODAY

Carries 129 Pounds in $25,000 Handicap.

New York, July 10 (AP).—They're giving Shut Out the toughest job he's ever had to do tomorrow.

Head man in a field of nine for the rich Empire City handicap, the Derby and Belmont winner will be loaded down with 129 pounds, more weight than he's ever been asked to carry before, will be spotting even his most dangerous rivals up to 24 pounds, and will have at least three other thoroughbreds as hot as firecrackers trying to whip him.

On top of that, he'll have to meet these rivals at a mile and three-sixteenths over Empire's sharp cornered, short straightaway strip that's tough for the best of them. In his only previous start over this layout, the son of Equipoise finished five lengths back.

Faces a Hard Job.

There's plenty of jinx going along with the son of Equipoise, too. No 3 year old ever has won this stake packing more than 125 pounds and no Derby winner ever has triumphed.

From a lot of angles, it's not only Shut Out's toughest assignment, but just about as stiff a job as any 3 year old has been asked to tackle in years.

He'll be meeting such stars as Warren Wright's Col. Teddy, which has just about reached his peak under Trainer Ben Jones; William Woodward's Apache, which is coming back to his early season form under the wizardry of Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, and Vagrancy, the other half of Woodward's entry and glamour girl of the 3 year old fillies, which is getting her first shot at the colts in her division.

Col. Teddy will carry only 115 pounds and Apache and Vagrancy 114 each.

Shut Out the Solid Horse.

Then there are Tom Howell's Amaho, winner of his last three starts; Joseph Roebling's Lochinvar, which has been chasing Shut Out and Alsab all season, Walter Chrysler Jr.'s Ramillies, a threat if he can carry his speed that far; Texas Ben Whitaker's Eternal Peace, and Jake Freedman's Billy O.

With more than $20,000 of the $25,000 added purse waiting at the finish line Shut Out is still the solid horse, off his track record triumph over Valdina Orphan in the Yankee handicap at Suffolk last Saturday. Victory this time would boost the chocolate son of the Chocolate Soldier into the important money class, over the $185,000 mark and among the top 30 American money winners of all time.

MILWAUKEE A. C. PUTS 2 SWIMMERS IN 100 YARD EVENT

Only Three Days Remain to File Entries.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

The Milwaukee, Wis., Athletic club again will be represented in the annual Chicagoland 100 yard swimming races. Robin Middlemas of Milwaukee, who qualified last year in class D, again is entered in this age division and Robert Schwarz, who lives in Shorewood, a suburb of Milwaukee, will compete in class E for swimmers 19 years of age and over.

Both of these MAC swimmers will enter the preliminary races a week from tomorrow afternoon in Whealan pool, Milwaukee and Devon avenues. If successful in qualifying—each will receive a gold medal for this achievement—they will advance to the 13th annual Chicagoland championships which will be held July 26 in the California park pool, 3901 North California avenue.

Three days remain in which entries will be accepted for the trials July 18 and 19. All letters must be postmarked before midnight Monday to be included in the lists of contestants who will be admitted to the sectional meets. Trials are scheduled next Saturday in Cermak pool and in the California park pool. On the following afternoon preliminaries will be held in Whealan pool and in the California park pool.

Each contestant may choose the section in which he wishes to compete. The centers are arranged geographically so that entrants from all sections of the city will have as short a distance to travel as possible.

Postcard Is Admission.

If an entry blank is not checked for one of the four sections because of an oversight, the contestant will be assigned to the nearest section. This is not arbitrary, however, for in these few instances, the clerks at any section will add the contestant's name to the list. The postcard is admission to the races as it is evidence entry was filed on time.

Most important, the postcard admits to the pool. The usual charges for dressing room facilities and lockers are waived for competitors in The Tribune races when the card is presented. This card also indicates the swimmer's racing number and gives the time to report. In general, all swimmers will report at 1 o'clock on the afternoon of his meet. The first race will start at 2 o'clock at each center.

Have Correct Addresses.

This system of admission by card at the preliminaries depends, of course, on the clerks having the correct home address of each swimmer. Care should be taken in writing name and address and the coaches, in submitting team entries, must include addresses as well as the ages of their representatives. The same plan is continued for the championships. Each finalist will receive a letter a few days before July 26 which will admit to California park where the 1942 finals will be held.

The souvenir buttons for the 100 yard preliminary tests, the gold qualifying medals, the 30 awards for the finals and the team trophies have been delivered by the manufacturing jewelers. All that remains to be done is compile the lists of eligible swimmers. Mail your entry before midnight Monday. The blank appears in this issue of THE TRIBUNE.

RACING'S GIFTS TO WAR RELIEF TOTAL $988,796

New York, July 10 (AP).—The Turf Committee of America announced today that racing has contributed $988,796.62 to war relief, with another $100,000 pledged from Maryland tracks.

Also expected are gifts from Suffolk Downs and Rockingham Park, the committee announced in its first detailed statement on racing's goal of $2,000,000.

Most of the total already at hand, including $126,000 from Arlington Park and more than $400,000 from Jamaica, Belmont, Aqueduct, and Empire City, has been donated by tracks. However, the committee disclosed, contributions from individuals and companies associated with racing have reached $88,173.

Lionel Conacher Directs Recreation for Air Force

OTTAWA, Ont., July 10 (AP).—Lionel Conacher, one time National league hockey star and now chairman of the Ontario Athletic commission, was named director of recreation and entertainment for the Royal Canadian air force today by Air Minister C. G. Powers. He is 42.

Atwater Wins North Shore Boys' Net Title

Howe Atwater, New Trier High school senior, became the North Shore tennis tournament's first champion yesterday when he defeated Marvin Beskin of Chicago, 6-3, 6-3, in the final of the boys' junior division at the Evanston Tennis club. Atwater had reached the final bracket by defeating Jerry Evert, No. 1 seeded player, in the semi-finals.

In the day's other final Nancy Corbett of River Forest took the junior girls' singles title by beating Elaine Passow, also of River Forest, 6-0, 6-1.

Seymour Greenberg of Northwestern university, assured himself a place in the finals of the men's singles division by defeating Bob Smidl of River Forest, 6-0, 6-1, 6-4, in the semi-finals.

Evert vs. Larned.

Greenberg's opponent in the final bracket will be decided today in the other semi-final match which pits Jimmy Evert, Notre Dame freshman, against Gardner Larned of Chicago.

The Wildcat star had too much ammunition for his younger opponent as he raced thru the first two sets. In the third and final set Smidl made a strong fight of it and won two games in a row to trail by only 5-4. The final game was deuced four times before Greenberg finally won the decisive point with a placement shot.

Catherine Wolf Wins.

One half of the women's singles division was completed yesterday when Catherine Wolf eliminated Nancy Corbett, 6-3, 6-3. She will meet the winner of the Pauline Betz-Helen Shockley match which is scheduled for 2 o'clock today. The finals will be played tomorrow afternoon. Summaries:

The Angel Likes to Fight; He's Classified 1-A

Boston, Mass., July 10 (AP).—"If this country can use me I'll be very glad to go; I like to fight," said the husky gent, once described as a throwback to the Neanderthal man, to his draft board.

It was the Angel—Maurice Tillet—wrestler, who likes to mix a little fisticuffs with that sport, talking as he presented himself for physical examination to the Brighton district board.

The screening, as the examination has come to be known in these parts, tossed the Angel right into class 1-A. He was clad in red sport shirt and blue beret.

Tillet, who is a veteran of six years in the French navy, once submitted to an examination by Prof. Earnest A. Hooton, head of the department of anthropology at Harvard university. Hooton said he resembled in physical stature the Neanderthal man.

Central AAU Swim Meet to Open Today

Fourteen events will make up the program for the first annual Arlington Heights Central AAU swimming and diving meet today and tomorrow under sponsorship of the Park board and Trade and Civic association of Arlington Heights in the Arlington Heights park pool. Preliminaries will be held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon and at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning. Finals will start at 8 o'clock tonight and at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Today's events for men are the 100 meter free style; 200 meter breaststroke and 300 yard individual medley; for women the 200 and 400 meters free style; 100 meters backstroke and synchronized swimming. Tomorrow the men will compete in diving, 200 meter free style and 100 meter backstroke. The women's events tomorrow are 100 meter free style, 200 meter breaststroke, 300 yards individual medley and diving.

Dorothy Dodson to Compete.

Among the organizations to be represented with teams are Medinah club, Lake Shore club, Skyline A. C., Shawnee Country club, Midwest A. C., and Evanston YMCA.

The women's entries include Dorothy Dodson, breaststroke swimmer, who won second place for individual honors at the National AAU women's track and field meet on July 4; Dorothy Ziegler of Medinah club, central AAU indoor diving champion; Barbara Ramser, runner-up in the 1941 National AAU diving meet; Frankie Rose, holder of five Central AAU swimming titles in outdoor competition; Alice Miller, Central AAU backstroke champion; Marilynn Billquist, 100 meter free style champion, and Lois Wenzel, who specializes in the 200 meter free style.

Kiefer and Jaretz to Compete.

Outstanding entries in the men's events are Adolph Kiefer, Olympic champion and holder of all world records in the backstroke; Miller Anderson, National AAU diving champion; Otto Jaretz, winner of six national championships; and Walter Reese, state high school champion.

PIRATES' MARTIN, ANDERSON ARE SENT TO MILLERS

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 10 (AP).—The Pittsburgh Pirates assigned two players to Minneapolis of the American association today to supplement the cash they paid in buying Shortstop Eugene [Huck] Geary from the Millers.

The deal was completed by the outright release to Minneapolis of Infielder Stuart Martin and the loaning of Infielder Alf Anderson under option. The transfer is effective immediately, Anderson and Martin leaving tonight to meet the Millers in Kansas City tomorrow.

Frankie Frisch, manager of the Pirates, said he would send Geary into the Pirates' lineup at once, as he now has only Pete Coscarart as an extra infielder.

Passeau Wins 13th as Cubs Triumph, 3 to 2

Miller forced West, but Buddy Gremp, who won Thursday's game with a 13th inning homer, doubled to right, scoring Lombardi and Miller. Sibby Sisti beat out a slow roller to Passeau, Gremp reaching third. Then Tobin fouled to McCullough and Tommy Holmes grounded out to Merullo.

Both ends of the third presented action, but all of it was futile. Chet Ross opened the Boston half with a single over second, but Fernandez hit into a double play started by Passeau. Lombardi got his second and his team's last hit, but West ended the threat with a liner to Novikoff. With one down in the Cub third, McCullough reached first on Miller's error. Passeau grounded out, Fernandez to Gremp, putting McCullough on second. On arriving at second Mac observed that Fernandez had not returned to third, so the sprightly Cub catcher tried for third Fernandez got to the bag ahead of McCullough and would have had him if he hadn't dropped a throw from Gremp.

A Steal Goes Awry.

McCullough was safe and tried to steal home on Tobin's slow windup. It appeared that McCullough had made it with room to spare, but Umpire Lee Ballanfant didn't think so and a lot of hollering by a detail of Cubs, led by Manager Jim Wilson, didn't make him change his mind.

LEE PITCHES TODAY

The Braves will wind up their third and next to last 1942 Chicago visit with a single game against the Cubs in Wrigley field this afternoon. Bill Lee, who has been having some difficulty ringing up his 10th victory of the season, will try again today. Boston will send forth Manny Salvo, winner of two and loser of two.

Shortstop Eddie Miller's fumble on Clyde McCullough's grounder in the third inning of yesterday's game was his first error in 41 games. His last previous misplay was against Brooklyn on May 29. Between boots he accomplished 83 putouts, 125 assists, and participated in 23 double plays.

Cub officials announced that instead of playing a double header with the Dodgers Wednesday, as had been arranged, the clubs will play two games on Thursday. There will be a single game on Wednesday and also on Friday. Friday will be Ladies' day.

BOB SNYDER OF BEARS IS NAMED NOTRE DAME AID

Notre Dame, Ind., July 10 [Special].—Robert A. Snyder, former Ohio university and Chicago Bears back field star, was named Notre Dame freshman coach today, succeeding Lieut. William J. Cerney, USNR. Announcement of his appointment was made by the Rev. J. Hugh O'Donnell, C. S. C., president.

Snyder will instruct the freshmen in the use of the T formation. He also will help with the scouting, and if time permits, he will assist Back Field Coach Ed McKeever with the varsity backs. He will forego further professional play.

Snyder was a regular at Ohio university and the mainstay of the undefeated 1935 team which listed Illinois among its victims. He played with the Cleveland Rams before joining the Bears in 1939. He was graduated with a degree of bachelor of science in 1936 and was married shortly afterward to Miss Elinor Kuney of Toledo, a classmate.

Bob Falkenburg Enters Finals of Tennis Meet

Philadelphia, Pa., July 10 (AP)—Bob Falkenburg, 16 year old Hollywood, Cal., star, reached the final round of the national interscholastic tennis tournament today with an 8-6, 6-1 victory over Holmes Cathrall, Scranton, Pa., playing for Blair academy, Blairstown, N. J. Falkenburg will try for the title tomorrow in the final match with Frank Willett, top seeded favorite from Anniston, Ala.

Police Nines Meet in 3d of Series Today

Mike Delaney, former Boston Braves and Washington Senators pitcher of the North Side, and Tony Simms of the South Side will be the hurlers today as the two teams meet in the final game of the police department baseball series in Comiskey park. The contest will start at 2 p. m.

The three game series is held annually to raise funds for the widows and orphans of police officers fatally injured in the line of duty. Two games have been played thus far, the North Siders winning 17 to 3 a week ago and 9 to 5 last Sunday.

In today's contest Delaney will be after his second victory, while Simms is still trying to gain his first. The latter has started two games, lasting three innings in the first and going the route in the second.

Individual battles for batting honors are promised, with Catcher Dick Stahlman and John McTigue, left fielder, for the North Side and Left Fielder Frank Barry of the South Side starting the day even, with six hits in 10 times at bat in the two games played. Prizes are offered for the leading batter.

New York, July 10 [Special].—Leslie MacMitchell, New York university mile star, was sworn in July 2 as an ensign in the navy and will report July 27 to the naval training school at Northwestern university for a two-months indoctrination course, it was disclosed today. MacMitchell, who was graduated from New York university on July 10 with a high scholastic record, was the 1941 winner of the James E. Sullivan memorial award.

YANKEES' 5 RUNS IN FIRST INNING BEAT BROWNS, 5-2

Pound Johnny Niggeling for Quick Victory.

New York, July 10 (AP).—Manager Luke Sewell of St. Louis guessed wrong today when he started Johnny Niggeling on the mound with the result the New York Yankees whipped the Browns, 5 to 2, and maintained their four game lead over the Boston Red Sox.

The Yanks connected with only five hits off the combined offerings of Niggeling and Stan Ferens, but they bunched three with three walks and a hit batsman in the first inning to score all their runs and send Niggeling to the showers. Ferens entered the game with two out and Yanks perched on first and second. He made Frankie Crosetti hit into a force play and then hurled two hit ball the remainder of the distance.

UNDERWOOD NET INCOME CUT 60% BY HIGHER TAXES

Quarter Profit Reduced to 33c a Share.

Net earnings of Underwood Elliott Fisher company, manufacturer of business machines, dropped this year in both the second quarter and the first six months from the corresponding periods last year, the company reported yesterday. The 60 per cent decline in six months' earnings was the result of increased tax provisions, the report indicated.

Underwood's profit in the second quarter was $243,263, equal to 33 cents a share, compared with $552,143, or $1.35 a share a year earlier. Net income for the first half of the year was $636,845, equal to 87 cents a share, compared with $1,617,214, or $2.20 a share for the 1941 period.

Western Union Earns Less.

Western Union Telegraph company reported that net income declined in the five months ended May 31 to $2,775,217 from $3,044,721 for the corresponding period last year.

Firestone Tire & Rubber company reported net profit for the six months ended April 30 of $5,193,024, equal to $1.97 per share, compared with $4,789,165, or $1.75 a share, for the corresponding period a year ago.

RETAIL BUSINESS GAINS, BUT STAYS BELOW YEAR AGO

New York, July 10 (AP).—Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., reported today retail trade improved during the last week under the influence of more favorable weather conditions and clearance promotions.

Dollar sales volume held to levels below those of a year ago, the agency said, some merchants attributing the decline to a slump in credit sales, travel curtailment, and loss of potential buyers of men's clothing in the draft.

Compared with a year ago, sales volume was down 4 to 7 per cent. Declines by major regions included New England, 5 to 7 per cent, east 7 to 11 per cent, middle west 3 to 9 per cent, south 2 to 4 per cent, southwest 4 to 8 per cent, northwest 8 to 12 per cent, and Pacific coast 3 to 5 per cent.

NEW SCARCITIES ARISE TO WORRY PLANT BUILDERS

Cement and Lumber on Critical List.

BY AL CHASE.

Close on the heels of announcement that thousands of tons of steel are being saved in the construction of big war plants by substitution of concrete or wood, information came from Washington yesterday that both cement and lumber are being added to the list of building materials expected to become scarce.

The nation's builders are going to be scraping for materials, even on military jobs, according to a report by S. Morris Livingston, commerce department specialist on construction. Alongside such metal items as plumbing, guttering and piping are being placed asphalt, cement, and lumber, he said.

Substitution No Solution.

"It is evident that the problem of materials has gone beyond the mere elimination or substitution for certain critical items," Livingston said. "Reinforced concrete often can replace structural steel in buildings and bridges. Timber structures can at times be substituted for either steel or concrete. But when both cement and lumber are scarce, there is no satisfactory substitute.

"The general shortage of materials and man power calls for greater emphasis on the elimination of all construction which is not absolutely essential, and the elimination of all nonessential features of those projects which are approved."

Livingston said the shortage of lumber and cement was caused by new wartime needs. Altho lumber production has been increasing in recent months, military calls for the use of wood in other than the building industry have lifted the demand considerably. The actual need for lumber in building is no greater than last year, he said, but requirements for box and crate material are expected to be almost double.

Truck Bodies Take Wood.

Demand for soft woods for crating has been particularly heavy and growing requirements for hardwood are expected. The army recently decided to build wood bodies for all cargo trucks, a decision which alone is expected to require nearly one million feet of lumber daily.

The army also decided to order a large number of wooden double deck beds, and other military programs call for quantities of lumber for new cantonments, barges, and aircraft, the commerce department said.

Regarding concrete, it was said that altho the cement mills still were well below capacity production in April and May, increasing military demands are expected to tax the industry for the rest of this year.

It was learned that a saving of about 18,000 tons of steel will be effected in construction of the giant Chrysler aircraft engine plant on the southwest side of Chicago, thru substitution of reënforced concrete.

Steel Already Fabricated.

In the big plant of the Aluminum Company of America now being erected in McCook by 1,000 workmen there was no need to substitute building materials. The necessary steel was fabricated six months ago, it was said.

Altho construction of the Douglas Aircraft company plant, near Bensenville, has been started, it is understood that it has not been determined what materials will be used.

The fourth big war production plant —that of Amertorp corporation in Forest Park—was too far along to change when the War Production board's order to substitute other materials for steel was issued. Both concrete and steel are being used.

ORTON SEEKING CANADA RAILWAY FOR U. S. GROUP

Seattle, Wash., July 10 (AP).—A report that H. C. Orton, Chicago capitalist, was the spokesman for interests which made overtures toward the possible aquisition of British Columbia's Pacific Great Eastern railway was confirmed today by Joshua Green, Seattle financier and a director of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific railroad.

Green emphasized in an interview that Orton, also a director of the railroad, was not interested in the Canadian line "from the standpoint of the Milwaukee railway; he was arranging to purchase it for a syndicate, I think, an independent group."

The Pacific Great Eastern, owned by the Providence, would provide a direct link from the Pacific coast to the projected Alaskan railway connection at Prince George, B. C., by extending the P. G. E. at both ends.

At Victoria, B. C., Premier John Hart said that "two gentlemen from the United States sought to obtain an option on terms which were not acceptable to this government."

FURNITURE MEN EXPECT NO NEW CURB ON CREDIT

No early tightening of the federal reserve board's regulation W, as it affects furniture, is expected, retail dealers attending Chicago's summer home furnishings market were told yesterday at the American Furniture Mart. Regulation W restricts consumer credit.

The National Wholesale Furniture association elected H. B. Fouts, Des Moines, Ia., president; Mayfield Tayler, Houston, Tex., vice president, and W. S. Hassell, Chicago, secretary-treasurer.

Nelson's Aim: 75 Billion War Output in 1943

Detroit, Mich. July 10 (AP). — The factories of the United States will turn out war goods of one kind or another to a value of 45 billion dollars in the current year, War Production Board Chairman Donald M. Nelson told members of the Automotive Council for War Production here tonight.

Speaking at the annual banquet of the council, organized by the automotive industry to expedite war production, Nelson said that next year he expected the figure will rise to "70 or 75 billions at current prices."

Consider That the Peak.

"I do not believe," Nelson said, "that it ever can rise much above that figure because I think that is just about the limit that our, economy can stand. The materials which would be needed to get production substantially higher than that simply are not available, and as far as we can see now they cannot be made available. But in any case, getting up to the 45 billion dollar level this year will be a splendid achievement and raising the level to 75 billions next year will be nothing less than magnificent.

"In this great program a major rôle has been assigned to the automotive industry. Contracts for more than eight billion dollars worth of war goods had been placed with this industry by the end of April of this year; more than five billions of that total were placed after Pearl Harbor. Yet that is little more than a beginning.

Warns Job Is Tremendous.

"When peak rates of production are reached under present plans, this industry will be producing war goods at a rate of approximately 12 billion dollars a year. This is three times as large as the industry's estimated 1941 sales of four billions; it will represent approximately one-sixth of the entire war production effort of the whole United States."

Nelson warned that the job ahead is a tremendous one. "We have got to find every possible way," he said, "of making one hour's work do the work of two—of making one pound of vital material do what formerly took two pounds. I am going to ask this industry to take the lead in bringing this about."

FORBID CHICAGO BREWER TO USE CANADIAN MARK

Washington, D. C., July 10 (AP).—If beer isn't brewed in Wisconsin or Canada, it can't be sold under any brand or trade name containing the words "Wisconsin" or "Canadian," the Federal Trade commission ruled today.

The ruling was contained in an FTC order directing the Manhattan Brewing company, Chicago, beer and ale distributors, to "cease and desist from misrepresentations in the sale and distribution of its products."

The order was directed specifically at the company's "Canadian Ace Beer," which the FTC said was sold with a label describing it as "Old Wisconsin Brand Lager Beer."

The commission said also that advertising for this beer showed "a crest or coat of arms closely resembling the British royal coat of arms" and directed discontinuance of the use of this symbol.

SEC SETS AUG. 4 HEARING ON PLAN OF UNITED LIGHT

Philadelphia, Pa., July 10 (AP).—The Securities and Exchange commission today fixed Aug. 4 for a hearing on the plan submitted by the United Light and Power company, a holding company, to dissolve as ordered by the SEC March 20.

United and its subsidiary, United Light and Railways, proposed to increase the latter's common stock from a million shares of $35 par value to 4 million of $6 par value.

The outstanding 708,520 of Railways stock now owned by the parent company would be exchanged for 3,947,667 shares of the new common stock for distribution among its stockholders to complete the liquidation.

Texas Potatoes Bring $4.25 as Wholesale Prices Rise

Wholesale potato prices recorded new gains yesterday as Chicago dealers paid $4.25 per hundred pounds for Texas Bliss Triumphs. Supplies were only moderate as track holdings dropped to 225 cars. Prices on all varieties ranged upwards from $2.

Factory Employment and Pay Rolls

Full Use of All Workers' Skill Held Essential

Man power requirements make it essential for industries to promote workers to higher skilled jobs as rapidly as possible and it is criminal to keep an employé on a job that does not utilize his skill, Carl S. Coler, Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company official, said in Chicago yesterday. Coler, who helped draft the government's training in industry program, spoke at the nation's first man power conference and job clinic, held in the Palmer House under the auspices of the Chicago Association of Commerce.

Training of workers on the job is the key to solution of the war production problem, Coler said.

Would Boost Morale.

"There are potential plant managers and toolmakers all around us," he said. "If managements will get busy and train the men, the men will be grateful and morale will be high."

He urged each management to assign one or more men to "see to it that men are trained quickly on the job, that workers are assigned to tasks to which they are best suited."

About 125,000 foremen and supervisors have, thru a 10 hour course under the training in industry program, learned how to teach new men the skills required in war production, Coler said. Two additional 10 hour courses—one on how to handle job relations and one on job training by simplifying procedures—will be introduced soon, he reported.

Tells Apprenticeship Gains.

William F. Patterson, director of apprenticeship training for the war man power commission, said the number of apprentices in the United States is now 185,000, an increase of 125,000 in the last year. He said 27,000 plants that had not had apprentice systems have adopted such training under the man power program. Illinois ranks above the national average in the apprentice training effort, he said.

Officials of federal agencies participated in an afternoon panel discussion at which procedures for getting jobs in industry were outlined.

WLB APPOINTS ARBITRATOR IN DAIRY PAY ROW

The Associated Milk Dealers, bargaining agent for 85 Chicagoland dairies involved in a $45,000 wage dispute with the Dairy Workers union, was informed by telephone from Washington yesterday that Prof. Edwin Witte of the University of Wisconsin had been appointed by the WLB as an arbitrator in the controversy.

Witte, professor of social economics, will have his findings reviewed by the WLB before they become official. A spokesman for the dealers said Witte would be in Chicago today to begin an informal discussion with the union and the dairies.

The dispute began in April when the union, representing 1,600 inside plant workers, requested 13 per cent wage increases which the companies said would aggregate $45,000 annually. When the dairies rejected the demands the controversy was certified to the WLB.

SERVICE MEN TAKE 696,601 FREE RIDES ON TROLLEYS IN JUNE

Soldiers, sailors, and marines took 696,601 free rides on street cars during June, an increase of 9.2 per cent over the 637,911 rides in May, the Chicago Surface Lines reported yesterday. From Feb. 22, when free rides for service men began, thru last month the total was 2,260,029. The totals have increased each month.

The street car company also announced that over the Independence day week-end—Saturday and Sunday—a new high of 98,831 free rides was established. This compared with 84,800 over the Memorial day week-end. Service men may ride without charge from 9:30 a. m. to 4 p. m. and from 7 p. m. to 1 a. m. every day except Sundays and legal holidays, when free rides are given all day.

Crops in June Hold to Peak War Schedule

Plans to make 1942 agricultural production the largest in history to meet wartime food requirements progressed along desired lines in June, the department of agriculture reported yesterday. But it disclosed that the nation's reserves of feedstuffs had been reduced sharply in the first half of this year to produce the pork, beef, butter, eggs, and cheese needed to feed America and its allies.

The department forecast the wheat crop this year would be the third largest on record with production exceeding 900 million bushels. It placed the indicated yield per acre at 17.9 bushels, a new all-time high.

Weather Bad for Corn.

Corn production, it said, probably will be smaller than last year because of adverse weather conditions. It placed the probable output at 2 billion 627 million bushels, compared with 2 billion 672 million harvested in 1941.

The department's forecast of 1942 production of major farm crops with comparisons follow:

	Indicated, 1942.	Harvested, 1941.	Average, 1930-'39.
Wheat, bu.	904	945	747
Corn, bu.	2,627	2,672	2,307
Oats, bu.	1,303	1,176	1,007
Barley, bu.	403	358	224
Rye, bu.	58	45	38
Flaxseed, bu.	41	31	11
Hay, tons.	100	94	78
Potatoes, bu.	369	357	370
Sugar cane, tons.	7	5	4
Sugar beets, tons.	12	10	9

Farm Stocks Decrease.

The department revealed that expanded feed and industrial requirements had reduced farm stocks of corn more than 527 million bushels in the last three months. Since Oct. 1, 1941, total stocks of corn were reduced by 2½ billion bushels, compared with 2 billion 189 million a year earlier.

The department's report disclosed the extent to which rains in the last month have reduced the Illinois corn crop. While farmers increased their corn plantings to 8,027,000 acres from 7,645,000 last year, production is not expected to be much above 365¼ million bushels. Production last year was 401¼ million bushels. The yield per acre is expected to drop from 52½ bushels to 45½, the department said.

It placed the state's oats crop at 154 million bushels which compares with a like amount harvested last year. Winter wheat output likely will be reduced to 17,697,000 bushels from 35,300,000 harvested last year.

Louis Johnson Made Head of Seized Nazi Dye Firm

Washington, D. C., July 10 (AP).—Allen Property Custodian Leo T. Crowley announced today the selection of Col. Louis Johnson, 1937-'40 assistant secretary of war, to be president of General Dyestuff corporation of New York. The company is the sales agency of General Aniline and Film corporation, huge dye manufacturing firm formerly controled by the German chemical trust but placed under government control last March. Col. Johnson of Clarksburg, W. Va., has just returned from a trip to India as personal representative of President Roosevelt.

Illinois and 2 Other States Protest Oil Drilling Curb

Evansville, Ind., July 10 (AP).—Oil men of Illinois, Indiana, and Kentucky tonight adopted a resolution attacking the regulation of the Office of Petroleum Coördination which restricts drilling to one well in 40 acres. They urged adoption of a pending senate amendment which would permit one well in 10 acres over sand and one well in 20 acres over limestone.

Name Illinois Man 'Smaller' War Plant Aid

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 10.—Donald M. Nelson, chairman of the war Production board, appointed five directors today to help him run the Smaller War Plant corporation.

Albert M. Carter.

Created by congress, which gave it a 150 million dollar revolving fund, the corporation will help small manufacturers, now hard hit by priorities and allocations, to convert their plants for the production of armaments or essential civilian goods.

Lou E. Holland, Kansas City, Mo., manufacturer and president of his city's chamber of commerce, will be deputy chairman of the new government corporation. Nelson is chairman. Other members of the directorate are:

James T. Howington of Louisville, Ky., district manager of the WPB field office in Louisville since Sept. 1941.

Illinois Man On Board.

Albert M. Carter, Murphysboro, Ill., director and president of the First National Bank of Murphysboro and president of a small company which mines kaolin, near Anna, Ill. Carter was assistant auditor of Illinois from 1935-1940. He is past president of the Murphysboro chamber of commerce and of the Rotary club and is a former Illinois state commander of the American Legion.

William S. Shipley, York, Pa., chairman of the board of the York Ice Machinery corporation and past president of the American Society of Refrigerating Engineers and York Manufacturers association.

Samuel Abbot Smith, of Boston, president of the Thomas Strahan company of Chelsea, Mass. This concern, with which he has spent his entire business career, manufactures wallpaper. It has 85 employés. He is vice-president of the Smaller Businessmen's Association of New England.

Useful Conversion Planned.

"We are going to do all that we can to bring into the arms and essential civilian goods fields as many more small plants as possible," a statement from Nelson said.

"By effective and persistent work we hope to confine the manufacture of relatively simple war items to the smaller factories, using the facilities of large plants exclusively to make those complicated and difficult items which cannot be made in the small plants.

"We also plan a very great extension of subcontracting, both thru the use of pools and thru much greater emphasis on the farming-out of manufacture of bits and pieces by large corporations which hold prime contracts."

FLOW OF MONEY IN JUNE SHOWS 300 MILLION RISE

Washington, D. C., July 10 (AP).—Despite the government's efforts to prevent inflation, money in circulation rose another 300 million dollars—equivalent to $2.18 per person—in June.

The treasury said today that coin and currency in circulation outside of the treasury and federal reserve banks totaled $12,377,119,781, equal to $92.04 for every man, woman, and child in the nation.

Resulting primarily from the huge war spending program of the government, this figure has climbed steadily from $9,612,375,332, which was $72.16 per person, a year ago.

Previous records of money in circulation were smashed many months ago, and currently, a new high has been set every month.

Illinois Oil Flow in June Falls Below Total for May

Springfield, Ill., July 10 (AP).—Illinois oil production in June was estimated today by the state geological survey at 8,429,000 barrels, or 693,000 barrels less than in May. Production in the first six months of 1942 was 57,994,000 barrels, against 60,954,000 in the same period a year ago.

Drop $6,990,082 Tax Claim Against Chesapeake Corp.

Washington, D. C., July 10 (AP).—The Chesapeake corporation won a $6,990,082 tax argument today when the United States treasury agreed to abandon claims for that amount of 1936-38 income and excess profits taxes and undistributed profits tax.

DEAL WILL GIVE PANHANDLE PIPE RULE TO MO-KAN

Fight Over Control Finally Ended.

New York, July 10 [Special].—One of the most hotly contested battles in corporate history drew to a close today when the Columbia Oil and Gasoline corporation, a subsidiary of the Columbia Gas and Electric corporation, announced it would relinquish control over the rich Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line company.

The Phillips Petroleum company, one of the country's largest oil and gas producers, signed an agreement with Columbia Oil to purchase its entire common stock interest in Panhandle Eastern, amounting to 404,326 shares, or 50.1 per cent of the total outstanding. Phillips will pay $25.81 a share for the stock, or a total of $10,435,654.

Will Resell to Mo-Kan.

Immediately upon consummation of the transaction, which is subject to the approval of the Securities and Exchange commission, Phillips will sell half of the stock to the Missouri-Kansas Pipe Line company at the same price.

Missouri-Kansas [Mo-Kan] has been at sword's point with the Columbia interest for nearly six years over ownership and operation of the pipeline. Mo-Kan, which organized the line in 1928, owns 339,475 common shares of Panhandle Eastern, or slightly under 43 per cent, while about 65,000 shares, or 7 per cent, are in the hands of the public.

The net effect of the deal will be to give Mo-Kan a clear majority stock interest in Panhandle Eastern, which supplies natural gas from the Texas panhandle to points as far distant as southern Michigan.

Columbia Oil to Dissolve.

Phillips Petroleum and Mo-Kan have been working jointly on the deal for several weeks, and today Columbia officials affixed their signatures to the agreement. Columbia Oil will file an application with the SEC for approval of the deal and also a plan under the holding company act looking toward liquidation and dissolution in compliance with the simplification provisions of the act.

As part of the deal, it was an-

Member FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM

Stores' Credit Deadline Past; Many Default

The first deadline for paying retail store charge accounts affected by the credit cutoff provision of federal reserve board regulation W expired last midnight. Preliminary reports indicated that some Chicago stores found as little as 10 per cent of the accounts in default, but the figures for others ranged as high as 80 per cent.

The credit cutoff provision requires that a charge account covering numerous classes of "listed" articles be paid by the 10th day of the second month following purchase. The reserve board imposed the regulation to curb inflation, consumer spending, and nonessential use of scarce materials.

Many Articles on List.

"Listed" articles are those named in the regulation. They include furniture, auto accessories, bicycles, electrical appliances, washing machines, refrigerators, yards goods, and many other similar items.

No person who permitted his charge account to go into default will be able, under the regulation, to get any additional credit at the store holding the account until the debt is paid in full or rearranged on an instalment basis.

The larger Chicago stores have agreed among themselves that if one store's customer lets an affected account become delinquent, none of the other stores will permit the delinquent to establish a new account until the defaulted one is paid. The official regulation did not cover this point.

Doesn't Apply to Groceries.

The credit cutoff rule does not apply to grocery stores, laundries, other similar service organizations, or to bills owed to a doctor.

Credit officials said compilation of figures would not begin until today, but that indications were that some of the large stores with the most conservative credit policies probably would show 10 to 40 per cent of their affected accounts in default. One source estimated the Chicago average at 25 to 40 per cent.

Certain types of high pressure selling stores with liberal credit policies probably will have defaults running as high as 80 per cent, it was said.

VOTE INCREASE IN INDIVIDUAL SURTAX OF 1%

Armed Forces Get Higher Exemption.

Washington, D. C., July 10 (AP).—The house ways and means committee decided tonight to increase surtax rates on individual income tax returns by one per cent above the previous agreement providing levies ranging from 12 to 81 per cent.

At the same time, the committee decided that the present individual exemptions of $1,500 for married persons and $750 for single persons should apply to military and naval personnel. The committee previously had decided to reduce the exemptions for all to $1,200 and $500.

Net Gain to Be 225 Million.

Rep. Jere Cooper [D., Tenn.] said that the larger exemptions for military and naval personnel would reduce the total revenue yield of the new tax bill by about 85 million dollars, but that the increase in surtaxes would add about 310 million.

The two actions were taken at a night session of the committee, arranged in an effort to complete final action on the big bill without a Saturday session. Chairman Robert L. Doughton [D., N. C.] said after the meeting, however, that a session tomorrow would be required.

During the day, the committee decided to leave in the pending 5 billion 800 million dollar bill a 5 per cent levy on freight and express charges, despite opposition from Leon Henderson and the treasury.

Flat Levy on Coal Freight.

Henderson, with treasury support, had objected that such a tax would increase pressure for a boost in price ceilings. It is estimated to produce 292 millions.

The committee members agreed, however, that coal should be exempted from the percentage tax and a flat levy of 5 cents a ton should be imposed.

Tubeless Truck Tire Called Rubber Saver by Goodrich

Akron, O., July 10 [Special].—A revolutionary, tubeless tire for heavy duty vehicles—goal of tire engineers for a half century—has been developed by the B. F. Goodrich company, John L. Collyer, president, announced today. The importance of the invention is enhanced by the rubber shortage, he said, because inner tubes and flaps are unnecessary.

John L. Collyer.

"Use of a specially designed locking member which retains the air in the casing is the secret of the new development," Collyer said.

Uses 7 Per Cent Less Rubber.

He added the saving in rubber, while depending on size of the tire, would average a minimum of 7 per cent of the rubber content of the conventional casing, tube, and flap assembly.

Usefulness of the new tire has been demonstrated by comprehensive tests over difficult road conditions, he said. Collyer asserted the tire can be mounted with ease in a procedure simple to learn and requiring no special tools. Less time is required in changing tires in the event of a puncture, he said.

New Plane Engine Mount.

Cleveland, O., July 10 [Special].—Development of a new type of rubber suspension mounts for airplane engines somewhat similar to those used in automobiles was announced today by the Goodyear Aircraft corporation, subsidiary of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company. The mounts will be available in various sizes and will utilize standard suspension rings with which engines and engine nacelles are equipped.

Principal advantages claimed for the device are reductions in vibration which prolong the life of the engine and the entire airplane.

STOCK RALLY CUT SHORT AS MANY CASH IN PROFITS

Some Stage Recoveries in Late Trading.

New York, July 10 (AP).—Stock market bulls retired in good order today in the face of mild profit taking pressure inspired by the lengthy upswing.

Hesitancy prevailed at the start and, at the low time, declines ran to a point or so. There were scattered recoveries in the final hour, with steels stiffening, but the minus ranks were well populated at the close.

The backdown was accomplished on just about half the volume of Thursday's rallying sprint and was attributed mainly to the belief a technical correction was due in view of the recent broad comeback. There was the usual lightening of commitments as a week-end precaution.

Average Is Lower.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off .1 of a point at 37.2 compared with upturns of .4 yesterday and .8 the day before. Transfers totaled 435,415 shares against Thursday's biggest turnover of the year to date of 844,290 shares.

Prominent on the losing end were Chrysler, American Telephone, Santa Fe, Sears Roebuck, Deere, Douglas Aircraft, Anaconda, Consolidated Edison, du Pont, Dow Chemical, Westinghouse Electric, American Can, and Philip Morris.

Checker Cab was up 2¼ at a new 1942 top and Associated Dry Goods second preferred jumped 5, both on a few sales. The latter apparently was spurred by action of directors in voting a payment of $2.75 a share on dividend arrears.

On the Curb, Aluminum of America climbed 3½ points on meager dealings.

CHICAGO LIST UNEVEN.

Prices directions were almost evenly divided on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday in transactions totaling 16,000 shares. Of 88 issues traded, 32 advanced, 34 declined, and 22 closed unchanged. Among the more active stocks, Central & South West was unchanged, Chicago Electric Manufacturing advanced ⅝, and Commonwealth Edison, Swift & Co., and United States Steel declined fractionally. In the half hour after the close in New York, Chrysler advanced ⅛ and Commonwealth Edison declined ⅛.

DAIRYMEN RENEW PLEDGES OF AID IN WAR PROGRAM

AMA Official Tells of Shift to Dry Milk Emphasis.

The united dairy committee, representing the nation's dairy industry, pledged continued coöperation with the government's production and buying program yesterday at its annual meeting in the Morrison hotel. One hundred representatives from 20 states and nine national organizations within the committee met to hear reports of progress, discuss the wartime problems confronting the industry, and plan for the coming year.

Tom G. Stitts, chief of the dairy section of the Agricultural Marketing administration, recounted the government's dairy program and complimented the industry in surpassing production goals. He said the emphasis now is upon production of dried milk, then cheese, and evaporated milk. Formerly the government place the most importance upon evaporated milk for lend-lease shipments.

Dried Milk Saves Space.

Stitts explained that the shift was the result of shipping shortages since dried milk requires less space. He also said that because of changes in methods of handling in Great Britain, dried milk now is preferred for shipment abroad.

Prior to the meeting, it was reported that committee members intended to criticize the government's shift from evaporated to dried milk. Milk producers were said to be opposed to the sudden switch because they had followed the government's request for evaporated milk and found themselves with vast quantities on hand when the emphasis was turned to the dried product. Stitts's explanation of shipping difficulties apparently was satisfactory since there was no criticism from the industry representatives.

Asks Sugar for Ice Cream.

R. C. Hibben of Washington, D. C., secretary of the International Association of Ice Cream Manufacturers, said that more sugar is needed for the ice cream industry to maintain prices for sweet cream. He said that unless ice cream production is raised, cream will have to be sold at lower prices for butter and cheese.

Ralph Ammon, Wisconsin director of agriculture and chairman of the committee, was in charge of the conference. Ammon was reëlected as were M. G. Van Buskirk of Chicago, secretary, and Chester Scoby of Bode, Ia., treasurer.

Among the industry problems discussed were those of obtaining machinery and equipment under priorities and maintaining production in the face of a labor shortage.

U. S. STEEL SHIPMENTS DIP BELOW MAY, BUT SET RECORD FOR JUNE

New York, July 10 (AP).—Shipments of finished steel products by subsidiaries of United States Steel corporation aggregated 1,774,068 net tons in June, compared with 1,834,127 tons in May, but were at an all time high level for June. Last year shipments in June were 1,668,637 net tons.

For the year to date shipments amounted to 10,503,507 net tons, compared with 10,052,877 in the like 1941 period.

The company said that total shipments for the second quarter and the first half of the year set new records.

THREE WAY DEAL TO GIVE MO-KAN PANHANDLE RULE

Long Battle with Columbia Oil Concluded.

nounced by Columbia Oil, Mo-Kan has agreed to forgo all law suits for alleged damages it has pending against both Columbia companies. These suits are one under the anti-trust laws, one for excessive dividends claimed to have been derived by Columbia Oil from Panhandle Eastern, and one for an accounting. In the aggregate, these claims against the Columbia interests have been estimated by Mo-Kan's counsel to exceed $7,500,000.

One important aspect of the deal is that Panhandle Eastern will receive considerable gas acreage reserves now owned by Phillips.

Provides Gas Outlet.

On the other hand, Phillips will have directly available an important outlet for its tremendous reserves of natural gas. The Panhandle system serves, directly and indirectly, approximately 750,000 customers in about 200 communities having an estimated population of 3,250,000. Panhandle's largest customer is the Michigan Consolidated Gas company, which serves Detroit and vicinity.

Don M. Wilson, president of Columbia Oil, announced the deal and said that shareholders of the corporation will be asked to approve at a special meeting the dissolution and winding up of the affairs of the concern to the extent required by Delaware law. It is proposed to pay off all Columbia Oil's debentures and to distribute $1 a share to common stockholders.

W. G. Maguire, president of Mo-Kan, is slated to become chairman of the board and chief executive officer of Panhandle. Maguire said today that appropriate arrangements with banks had been made to finance Mo-Kan's part of the transaction.

HOGS MOVE NEAR 22 YEAR TOP ON CHICAGO MARKET

Further slight gains in the market for hogs yesterday placed top loads 5 cents higher at $14.90 a hundred pounds, within 10 cents of the 22 year July high set early this week. The average was unchanged at $14.30.

Shipments by hog raisers were increased again over last week. The 11 principal markets received a total of 49,000 hogs, an increase of 12,000 over Friday of last week.

Buyers continued to break the market for fat lambs, driving the majority of good grades to the lowest level since June 1. Top loads sold at $14.65, off 25 cents for the day and $1.45 under last week's best. Yearlings sold off 25 cents, at $12.50.

The small supply of cattle sold mostly steady. No strictly choice steers were offered.

AMERICAN BARGE LINE REDUCES DIVIDEND TO 15C

Directors of the American Barge Line company yesterday declared a quarterly dividend of 15 cents on the common stock, a reduction of 10 cents from the rate paid in the previous two quarters. Patrick Calhoun Jr., president of the company, said the reduced dividend reflected increased demands on cash in connection with naval shipbuilding activities.

Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company of Chicago announced a dividend of $2 a share on the common stock. A previous payment of this amount was made on Feb. 2.

Directors of the Follansbee Steel corporation took no action on the quarterly dividend of $1.25 normally payable July 1 on the 5 per cent convertible preferred stock.

The following dividends were declared yesterday:

Kiwanis Clubs Restrict Travel to Conventions

As an aid in freeing transportation facilities for the war effort Kiwanis International yesterday notified officers of the 27 districts in the United States to limit attendance at fall conventions to delegate representation only. The meetings are limited to two days and will be held in central locations to reduce travel to a minimum. Canadian districts will be similarly restricted.

'Day by Day on the Farm' by Gail Compton

Haying Completed.

July 10, 1942.

ALL of the first crop of hay is stored, now that the last few bales of timothy have been put into the barn. The grand total of hay on hand now amounts to 800 bales of clover [each bale will weigh around 80 pounds], 774 bales of timothy, and 230 tons of alfalfa silage.

Some of the timothy bales were caught on the ground in a recent shower. No damage was done and as soon as they dried out they were stored away.

Timothy hay is fed only to the horses. Steers, sheep and dairy cows get alfalfa or clover hay. Timothy is about the only regularly used forage crop that does not make some contribution to the soil on which it grows, and for this reason is not favored as much as alfalfa or clover.

Most of the hay on the farm is leguminous. The legumes are able to take nitrogen from the air and use it in their growth. Thru root nodules, they add nitrogen to the soil.

Why Timothy Is Fed.

Timothy does not have this nitrogen fixing ability and consequently returns nothing to the soil. Altho the plant takes everything and gives nothing, it is not so rich in protein, calcium, or vitamins as the legumes.

The reason that timothy is grown is because it makes an excellent horse feed. Alfalfa is such a rich feed it may cause kidney disease in horses if fed unwisely. If protein and calcium are provided in other feeds, timothy is suitable roughage for horses.

Timothy is not particular in its soil requirements and will thrive on land that may be too acid for a legume. The seed is fairly cheap and generally of good quality. A field of timothy is quickly established and holds well.

Now that the first hay crop is in, the men have been figuring out the size of the labor crews needed to get each type of forage put up. To make silage out of the alfalfa takes a crew of nine men. It takes eight men to put hay into the haykeeper; seven men to bale the hay in the field; and a crew of seven men to stow loose hay in the barn. With labor at 45 cents an hour, the silage is the most expensive from the wage standpoint.

Gasoline Costs Compared.

From the standpoint of gasoline consumption the costs are fairly equal. However, the silage hay is raked only once and put up either wet or dry. A rain may boost the gasoline cost of loose and baled hay because more raking will be needed to cure the fodder completely.

The cost of hauling baled hay to the barn is about half that of hauling the other kinds. This is because twice the volume of hay can be put on the big truck if the hay is in tight bales as it can if the hay is loose. The farm manager said that he can carry as much wet hay as dried on the truck. The dried hay takes up much more room and will not pack down as will the wet hay.

Considering complete haying costs, the most expensive method is ensiling. Next in order comes baling, then putting the hay into the haykeeper, and least expensive is storing loose cured hay. Altho the labor requirements may differ in each case, the machinery costs ultimately determine which method is the most expensive.

HOW to SPOT a JAP

TERRY AND THE PIRATES

by MILTON CANIFF

RYAN, YOU AND TERRY HAVE BEEN OUT IN CHINA FOR A LONG TIME... HOW ABOUT SHOWING THE MEN A FEW POINTS OF DIFFERENCE BETWEEN THE JAPS AND OUR ORIENTAL ALLIES!

YES, SIR!

HERE ARE TWO MEN JUST PICKED UP BY A PATROL... THE FIRST THING TO CONSIDER IS APPEARANCE .... THE CHINESE IS "C"...THE JAP IS "J" NOTICE THAT C IS TERRY'S SIZE—WHICH IS AVERAGE AMERICAN: J IS SHORTER —AND LOOKS AS IF HIS LEGS ARE JOINED DIRECTLY TO HIS CHEST!..

C J

C IS DULL BRONZE IN COLOR—WHILE J IS LIGHTER—MORE ON THE LEMON—YELLOW SIDE. C'S EYES ARE SET LIKE ANY EUROPEAN'S OR AMERICAN'S—BUT HAVE A MARKED SQUINT.... J HAS EYES SLANTED TOWARD HIS NOSE...

C J

THE CHINESE HAS A SMOOTH FACE...THE JAP RUNS TO HAIR.... LOOK AT THEIR PROFILES AND TEETH... C USUALLY HAS EVENLY SET CHOPPERS—J HAS BUCK TEETH... THE CHINESE SMILES EASILY—THE JAP USUALLY EXPECTS TO BE SHOT... AND IS VERY UNHAPPY ABOUT THE WHOLE THING...ESPECIALLY IF HE IS AN OFFICER!

C J

YOU MAY FIND JAPS AMONG ANY ORIENTAL CIVILIAN GROUP... THAT IS A FAVORITE INFILTRATION TRICK...MAKE YOUR MAN WALK...THE CHINESE STRIDES...THE JAP SHUFFLES (BUT HE MAY BE CLEVER ENOUGH TO FAKE THE STRIDE)...MAKE HIM REMOVE HIS SOCKS AND SHOES, IF ANY...

C J

THE CHINESE AND OTHER ASIATICS HAVE FAIRLY NORMAL FEET... THE JAP WORE A WOODEN SANDAL ("GETA") BEFORE HE WAS ISSUED ARMY SHOES... HE WILL USUALLY HAVE A WIDE SPACE BETWEEN THE FIRST AND SECOND TOES... OFTEN CALLOUSED FROM THE LEATHER STRAP THAT HELD THE "GETA" TO HIS FOOT...

C J

SOMETIMES THE JAP OFFICERS HAVE NONE OF THESE CHARACTERISTICS—MANY OF THEM SPEAK ENGLISH, SOME KNOW OUR AMERICAN SLANG... BUT MOST JAPANESE HISS WHEN THEY PRONOUNCE THE LETTER "S" ...HAVE THE TWO MEN REPEAT A SENTENCE LIKE "SMITH LEFT THE FORTRESS" (OR A SIMILAR LINE)

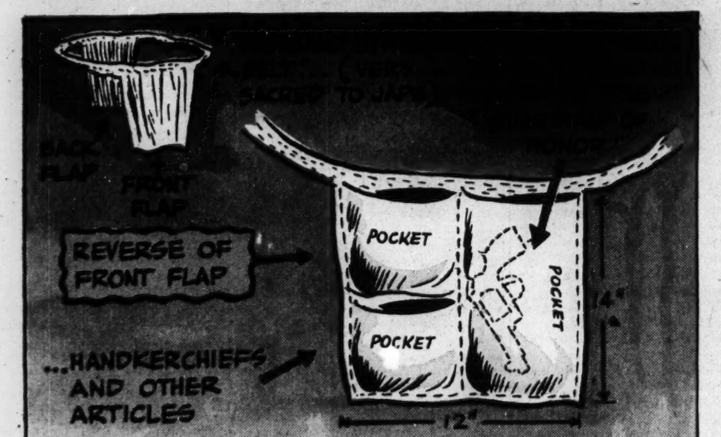
SS-S-SMIT REFT THE FORTRESS-S-S

-OR TRY LALAPALOOZA ON THEM! -THAT'S A PANIC!

THE JAP SUCKS IN ON ANY "S" SOUND—AND HE CAN'T PRONOUNCE THE LETTER "L"

DON'T TRUST ANY JAPANESE PRISONER-THEY'RE TOUGH BABIES... AND THINK IT GLORIOUS TO DIE IF THEY CAN TAKE AN ENEMY WITH THEM!... EVEN WHEN A JAP IS STRIPPED DOWN FOR JUNGLE FIGHTING HE WEARS A "G-STRING" WHICH IS REALLY A "GROUCH BAG"... ALWAYS REMOVE IT AND SEARCH BOTH FLAPS CAREFULLY BEFORE RETURNING IT!

HE DOESN'T RESIST BECAUSE HE'S MODEST —HERE'S WHY...



IF YOU JUST SLAP A JAP'S CLOTHING TO LOCATE CONCEALED WEAPONS YOU MAY LOSE A PRISONER—AND YOUR OWN LIFE... DON'T UNSCREW FOUNTAIN PENS OR TINKER WITH ANY OBJECT THAT COULD CONTAIN ACID OR AN EXPLOSIVE. WATCH OUT FOR SLEEVE GUNS AND OTHER COMIC STRIP GADGETS... THE JAPS ARE EXPERTS AT SUCH STUFF...

TO SUM IT UP, SPOTTING A JAP DEPENDS UPON THREE THINGS: ● APPEARANCE ● FEET ● PRONUNCIATION

ALMOST NO WAIST-LINE

STOCKY BUILD

SHORT, SQUAT, FAIRLY HEAVY BEARD... LEMON-YELLOW SKIN SLANTED EYES

G-STRING

WIDE SPACE BETWEEN FIRST AND SECOND TOES...CALLOUS ON THE WEB

REMEMBER THAT JAP SPIES HAVE FOOLED EVEN THE CHINESE...THEY'LL USE ANY TRICK—EVEN AFTER PRETENDING TO SURRENDER... AND THEY'LL TRY TO POSE AS NATIVES OF WHATEVER COUNTRY THEY'RE IN!

THE JAPANESE LANGUAGE IS A USEFUL CODE IN ITSELF... WHAT THEY WRITE OR SAY TO ONE ANOTHER MAY MEAN YOUR NAME ON A CASUALTY LIST!
